BAN INQUIRIES ON RED TIES OF FEDERAL AIDS

Civil Service Gag Probe Demanded.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Congressional investigation of a federal civil service order barring civil service investigators from asking questions about communistic activities of applicants for federal jobs was demanded by Rep. Fred E. Busbey [R., Ill.] today.

Rep. Fred E. Busbey.

The civil service order directs investigators reporting on the "loyalty" of prospective government employes not to ask questions about the political philosophy of those being investigated and bans questions about their membership in Communist unions or activities in Communist front organizations.

Existence of the order was admitted by spokesmen for the civil service commission who said "very few" new rules were involved. They explained the order as a resumé, mostly of old orders, for the guidance of new investigators.

The order was issued Nov. 3, it was learned, and sent to about 800 investigators thruout the country.

Asks Source of Order.

"Congress should take action now to find out who issued this order, where the pressure for it came from, and where the order itself came from," Busbey said in a speech in the house. "There are hundreds of known Communists on the government pay roll who should be dismissed, but they won't be if this order is permitted to stand.

"This is just another obstacle which the administration is throwing in the way of finding out who is disloyal.

"The issue is this: Are we going to permit long haired New Deal burocrats to set up a complete Marxist dictatorship, or are we going to fight for constitutional government by duly elected representatives?"

Stops Investigations.

Communists are barred from the federal pay roll by the Hatch act. But government investigators, acting on the theory that Communists seldom admit their membership in the party, have followed the practice of investigating to determine whether job applicants have been active in Communist front organizations.

The civil service order of Nov. 3, it was learned, prevents investigators from asking about the applicant's favorite reading matter, "especially the Daily Worker and all radical and liberal publications." It also says, "Do not ask any questions about membership in the Washington Bookshop [an organization selling radical literature] or any bookshop in any city similar to the Washington Bookshop."

Bans Union Questions.

The gag order also prevents questions about union affiliation in the following directive:

"Under no circumstances should any question be asked of an applicant or a witness involving union membership, union associations, or union activities. Not only should the applicant not be asked about membership in a union, but any question should be avoided which might elicit from the applicant or from a witness union membership or activities."

The order directs investigators to refrain from asking applicants about activities in such organizations as the Harry Bridges defense committee, the Lawyers' guild, the League of Women Shoppers, the Socialist party, and the American Civil Liberties union.

Regarding political philosophy, the order says: "Do not ask general questions regarding the political philosophy of the applicant, such as whether he believes in capitalism or what his opinion is regarding certain events of a current or historical nature."

Blames Rules; Pledges Action by End of Year

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Police Commissioner James P. Allman was called before the grand jury yesterday to explain the delay in bringing charges against several captains who were suspended last month, presumably because they had not suppressed gambling in their districts.

Of nine captains suspended while the October grand jury was exposing syndicated gambling, in which the Guzik gang had a monopoly here, five technically have been restored to duty.

The five restored to the pay roll are Capt. Thomas Connelley, formerly in command of Summerdale station; Capt. Frank Malone, formerly of Chicago Lawn station; Capt. Walter J. Healy, formerly of Hyde Park station; Capt. John Cartan, formerly of Des Plaines street station, and Acting Capt. William Drury, Town Hall station.

Blames System for Delay.

Before going into the grand jury room, Allman said a cumbersome system is to blame for the inability of his personnel department to prepare formal charges against the policemen.

For instance: Allman said there are more than 300 specific instances in the charges to be filed against Capt. Healy. Civil service rules and city ordinances permit the commissioner to suspend a policeman for only 30 days, pending a hearing, Allman said, and when the city is not ready to proceed with the hearing at the expiration of 30 days, the policeman must be restored to the pay roll and his star returned to him.

Eight Hours Daily on Bench.

Chief John Prendergast of the uniformed force is seeking a way to utilize the time and abilities of the five reinstated captains. They have not been restored to command of the districts under their control prior to their suspensions. Since being restored to the pay roll they have been sitting on a bench in Prendergast's office for eight hours a day.

"We are preparing a new system under which it will not take so long to prepare charges," Allman told newspaper men at Criminal court. "I expect charges to be filed against one captain at least, and possibly two, every week until all are reached. That should be accomplished before the end of the year.

"All of those who were suspended will have charges filed against them, regardless of whether they are reinstated."

The commissioner spent an hour

'Brass Hats' Spoiled Tour, Says Actress

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 29 (AP).—Home from a three week tour of army camps, Film Actress Laraine Day said today she had just one complaint—she saw altogether too much gold braid and brass hats and not enough plain G. I. khaki.

Her time was monopolized by officers ranging from captains to generals, she declared in a report to the Hollywood victory committee, which she made public, and she got scant opportunity to carry out what she considered her mission—"to bring some measure of entertainment, fun, and cheer to the privates and noncoms."

"I've talked with a number of actresses back from recent tours and most of them reported running into the same thing," she said in an interview.

Her tour included Camp Gordon Johnson, Fla.; Camp Rucker, Ala.; Camp Blanding, Fla., and Drew and MacDill fields, both in Florida.

Husband Is a Private.

The brown haired actress, whose husband, Ray Hendricks, is an army private, said she was especially embarrassed when a "bevy of gold bedecked gentlemen took me thru the camp hospital."

"We walked into a ward and the major called 'Attention!' Every man who could jumped out of bed in his nightshirt and stood stiffly by his bed. I'm sure those boys will never forgive me."

Whenever she and her invariable escort of brass hats approached a group of enlisted men the latter would snap to attention, she said.

"It's a difficult task trying to carry on a friendly conversation with a couple of buck privates when a colonel is standing at your elbow. I am sure I could hear some of them saying, 'Who does that high hat dame think she is?'"

The next time she goes out, Miss Day said, "I want to eat G. I. food, not thick steaks washed down with champagne in the officers' clubs."

Ann Sothern System.

Actress Ann Sothern said she took no chances on her recent tour. "The first thing I would tell the special service officers when I arrived at a camp," she declared today, "was that I had come to entertain the enlisted personnel, and that teas and dinner parties in the officers' clubs were out."

The chairman of the Hollywood victory committee, Kenneth Thompson, said: "We are passing Miss Day's reports along to Lt. Col. Marvin Young in Washington."

He described Col. Young as the war department representative for camp tours.

YANK IN SO. PACIFIC WRITES A LETTER TO SON HE HASN'T SEEN

Union Beach, N. J., Nov. 29 (AP).—"I'm mighty glad your mother has a 'man' in the house now," Pvt. John A. Rossi wrote from the southwest Pacific to his infant son, whom he had never seen.

"Tho you are five weeks and three days old," the letter began, "the cable telling me about you has just arrived and today, to me, is your birthday and I can be a father in earnest.

"You see, you had us guessing whether you would be a little boy or a little girl, so all the ruffle stuff I have been thinking will be discarded for a real man talk.

"I've so many things to tell you, even if we are thousands of miles apart. You'll forgive me, I hope, for not being on hand to welcome you, but a lot of other Americans and I have a big job to do before you and I can take time to go fishing, tell stories and raise pups.

". . . get acquainted with your brand new world and I'll do what I can here to keep it free and fine and decent for you.

"Be a good soldier. I'm mighty proud to be able to sign this,

"Lovingly,
"Your Dad."

The baby was born Aug. 8 at Fort Monmouth army hospital and the father's letter was received here this week.

BLAST IN WAR FACTORY ROCKS N. Y. CITY AREA

New York, Nov. 30 [Tuesday] (AP).—Fifty persons were reported injured early today when an explosion occurred at the Western Electric company, rocking lower Manhattan.

A catastrophe unit, carrying 20 doctors and 20 nurses, was dispatched to the war plant. An alarm of fire was turned in and three ambulances, fire apparatus, and a fire rescue company was sent to the scene.

Some of the injured were removed from the building. Police said they believed others were trapped in the basement, where a fire was raging.

The force of the blast, which occurred on the ground floor of the nine story plant, shattered windows within a radius of half a mile. Broken glass was knee deep in Hudson street. The explosion was felt as far away as New Jersey.

Bank Robbery Tip Brings 25 Cops, but No Holdup

Twenty-five policemen, armed with machine guns and tear gas bombs, surrounded the First National bank, 38 South Dearborn street, shortly before closing yesterday on an anonymous tip that the bank was to be robbed. Nothing happened.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—Armor smashing 75 mm. cannon have been installed in United States medium bombers and one pilot used the flying field artillery to sink a Japanese destroyer, the army revealed today.

B-25 Mitchells—the type that raided Tokio—now are armed with guns similar to the famous French field pieces of World War I.

The navy said that it, too, had some "secret weapons" it wasn't talking about much, but which now are being used against the axis.

Perfected in secret, this use of artillery in airplanes has had its combat test in the South Pacific "and probably other theaters," the army said.

Five Hits on Destroyer.

"First use of the cannon firing B-25 was against the Japanese in New Guinea, when it joined in action against a Japanese air transport, which was destroyed as it made a landing," said the announcement.

"Stalking larger game in the same area, the B-25 was sent against the larger of two Japanese destroyers. Five direct hits were scored and the warship was left in a sinking condition. The B-25 with cannon also has been employed in attacking land installations and making forays at sea against axis shipping.

"Action by the heavily armed plane has been extended to include gun emplacements, landing barges, and tanks."

Biggest Yet Mounted.

Cannon have been in general use in airplanes, but the installation in the B-25 is the largest weapon yet mounted in a plane. The British Hurricanes and the Russian Stormoviks have used 40 mm. cannon with great effect. The largest cannon used heretofore in an American plane has been the 37 mm., employed in the Bell P-39 Airacobra and the P-38 Lightning. The majority of fighter planes, both axis and allied, use 20 mm. cannon in addition to machine guns.

Adaptation of the 75 to aircraft was possible, the army said, because North American Aviation, Inc., makers of the B-25, developed a special type of recoil mechanism.

"Despite the size of the new weapon it has not decreased the effectiveness of the B-25 in dropping bombs, strafing, or carrying torpedoes," the army said.

Details of the weapon's design were not disclosed.

House Group Told of Ignored Pleas.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29. — A first hand account of the recent Japanese rioting at the Tule Lake, Cal., relocation center was submitted today to a house subcommittee on un-American activities which is investigating the disturbances.

Dr. John T. Mason.

The story was told by Dr. John T. Mason, former senior medical officer at the center, who resigned after the rioting.

Dr. Mason related that Dillon S. Myer, national war relocation administration director, and Ray R. Best, Tule Lake director, spent the entire afternoon of Nov. 1 listening to "demands" of Japanese leaders at the camp, while a few hundred feet away he and other American doctors and nurses were held prisoners in the camp hospital.

Pleaded for Help.

One of the doctors, Mason said, made repeated phone calls to Best asking him to send help in the form of camp police or to summon army troops stationed near the camp to restore order. These requests, he said, were ignored.

At the time, Mason related, a mob of 6,000 to 10,000 Japanese were surrounding the hospital and administration building in which Myer and Best were located. A group of them, he said, had already seized Dr. Reece M. Pedicord, chief surgeon of the camp hospital, and kicked and beat him severely.

Denied Doctor "Injured."

That evening, when the mob had dispersed of its own accord, Myer said, according to Mason, that the disturbance "doesn't amount to anything — you can see that Dr. Pedicord is not injured."

"Mr. Myer told us to be careful, because this might lead to an international incident," Mason said. "I resented it. I pointed to Dr. Pedicord lying there with an eye hemorrhage and severe bruises. I asked Mr. Myer if he remembered Pearl Harbor, and told him that to me this disturbance was an international incident."

Mason's testimony that Myer and Best "negotiated" with the Japanese leaders while the camp internees carried on the rioting was supported by a transcript of the negotiating conference placed in the record by Robert Stripling, committee counsel.

Doing Good Job.

Mason told the committee that, in his opinion, Dr. Pedicord and the rest of the medical staff were doing a good job, and said the Japanese were constantly trying to gain admission to the hospital, even when they were not seriously sick or injured.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. John M. Costello [D., Cal.], tomorrow will hear Rep. Claire Engle [D., Cal.], who made his own investigation of the Tule Lake disturbance.

Axis Outrages Upon Women Captives Told

Tarawa Isle Pictures

The Tribune today publishes on the back page a full page of stirring action pictures of the American invasion of Tarawa in the Gilbert Islands which has been called "the toughest battle in the history of the United States marine corps." Depicting with great force the devastation and slaughter of the Tarawa battle they constitute one of the most dramatic groups of pictures to come out of the war in the Pacific.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Acts of physical and mental torture committed against women by Japanese and Nazis are told in a 26 page report of the inter-allied information committee in London and made public today by the office of war information.

Admittedly only a general recital of axis brutality against women, the report is being circulated in the United States by the United Nations Information office, 610 Fifth avenue, New York City. It omits mention of the Japanese treatment of American nurses and civilian women in the Philippines, China, Hongkong, and Japan.

"In some of the occupied territories, women have been treated worse than cattle," the report said. "Examples of sadistic beatings and torture, sometimes ending in death, are not infrequent and the compulsory enrollment of women for forced labor under slavery conditions and for brothels frequented by soldiers is common. There is one example which reveals that young women have been sent to Germany for six months to work for the Fuehrer and 'they will be proud to return as German mothers.'"

"Story of Brutality."

The report said the excesses of the Japanese army in occupied China are all too familiar, adding that "when the full history is written it will reveal a story of brutality and callous indifference to human suffering which has never been surpassed."

"Such is the nature of Japanese mentality that women and children have not been immune from extreme ill treatment."

The report said the Japanese raped thousands of Chinese women, including little girls, and bayoneted some to death when they retreated last spring from West Hupeh and the Tungting lake area.

Forced Into Brothels.

In the Shansi province, the Japanese kidnaped Chinese women and forced them into army brothels, where they were held for ransom, the report continued, saying the ransom was 400 pounds of rice for each woman. Other eyewitness reports cited by the committee told of Japanese soldiers who bayoneted babies at their mothers' breasts and ripped open women's stomachs or slashed their feet and noses.

In one Chinese province, the report added, Japanese soldiers stripped the clothing off women and set army dogs to tear at their flesh.

Subjected to Indignities.

The committee said it assumed that British women were subjected to "all the indignities and brutalities suffered by their Chinese sisters," but disclosed that since the early days of Japanese occupation there has been some improvement.

Relating the German brutalities in Europe, the committee said that many conquered women were forced into slavery, tortured, or forced into brothels frequented by German soldiers.

The report asserted that hundreds of Polish girls were kidnaped and herded into such brothels, and that those not attractive to the soldiers were sent to labor camps. Some of the girls released from the brothels after a few months returned to their homes "pregnant, diseased, and in a state of complete physical and mental exhaustion," the report said.

FIGHTER PILOT SAFE IN CHINA, ARMY REVEALS

U. S. 14TH AIR FORCE HDQ. IN CHINA, Nov. 29 (AP).—Lt. Tom Harmon, fighter pilot of Michigan football fame who was reported missing recently, is safe, it was announced today.

Harmon, a native of Gary, Ind., was lost on a dive bombing attack on Kiukiang, a Yangtze river port, on Oct. 30, when four United States Lightning fighter planes were shot down in combat with Japanese Zeros.

Saved Self in Jungle.

It was the second time that the All-America half back of 1939 and 1940 had been reported missing. Last April a bomber he was piloting was disabled in a rainstorm over French Guiana, and the six man crew bailed out.

Harmon was saved after slashing thru the jungle until he met natives who guided him to a settlement.

The flyer found the bodies of two of his mates in the wreckage of the charred plane in the jungle then. The other three were not found.

An order for Harmon's promotion to first lieutenant came thru the day after he was lost in the raid over the Yangtze.

[Harmon was assigned to the 449th fighter squadron in China and was credited with bagging two Zeros.]

"Thank God," Says Father.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 29 (AP).—"Thank the Lord; it's almost too good to believe; I can hardly wait to tell mother about it," exclaimed Louis Harmon, 71 years old, the father of Army Pilot Tom Harmon, tonight when news of his safety was received.

Harmon said Mrs. Harmon, 65, Lt. Harmon's mother, had gone to near-by Ypsilanti, Mich., tonight to visit the mother of a boy who had been Harmon's roommate in China. He said the boy's mother had reported two stranded flyers had reached safety in China and one was believed to be Harmon.

When word reached the Harmons last April 14 their son was missing, his mother refused to give up hope. Early this month, they were notified again he was missing and the father said, "I don't think he's fallen in Jap hands if he landed safely."

13 ARMY NURSES LOST

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 29 (AP).—Thirteen United States army nurses of an air evacuation unit and 12 soldiers have been missing since Nov. 8, when a transport plane flying from Africa to the east coast of Italy overshot its destination in bad weather.

Lt. Ann Markowitz.

The last word from the plane was a message received while it presumably was over the Adriatic sea. It never arrived at the allied field.

2 CHICAGOANS LISTED.

Second Lts. Ann Markowitz of 1337 Wicker Park avenue, Chicago, and Lois Watson McKenzie of 9320 52d avenue, Oaklawn, were among the nurses lost.

Lt. Markowitz, 26 years old and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Markowitz, attended Tuley High school and Wright Junior college and trained at Walther Memorial hospital. She joined the army nursing corps about 18 months ago and after air evacuation training at Columbus, Miss., air base and Bowman field, Ky., went to Africa last August. A brother, Daniel, is in the navy.

Lt. McKenzie, 23 years old and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Watson, was graduated from Parker High school in 1938 and trained at Evangelical hospital. She enlisted in the army nursing corps on Dec. 1, 1942, and was sent to Camp McCoy, Wis., where last March she was married to Lt. Nolan G. McKenzie. He is stationed at Frederick, Okla. She was sent to Bowman field, Ky., for air evacuation training and went to Africa in July. A brother, Thomas, is in the navy.

The war department at Washington, D. C., announcing the names of persons missing on the army transport said all the nurses were second lieutenants and all the soldiers, technicians, third grade, and that the next of kin had been notified.

Other nurses lost were:

Pauline J. Kanable, Richland Center, Wis.; Agnes A. Jensen, Stanwood, Mich.; Lillian J. Tacina, Hamtramck, Mich.; Eugenie H. Rutkowski, Detroit, Mich.; Wilma D. Lytel, Butler, Ky.; Elna Schwant, Winner, S. D.; Ann E. Kopcso, Hammond, La.; Ava A. Maness, Paris, Tex.; Helen Porter, Hanksville, Utah.; Frances Nelson, Princeton, W. Va., and Gertrude G. Dawson, Vandergrift, Pa.

Illinois Soldier Lost.

The soldiers lost were:

3 ARMY FLYERS OF ELGIN AREA LISTED AS LOST

Three army men from the Elgin area were reported missing yesterday in war department messages to parents.

Lt. John H. Olhaber, 28 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Olhaber, 357 Vincent place, Elgin, meterologist in army air force and former school teacher at Gurnee, Lake county, disappeared over North Africa on Nov. 22, his 28th birthday, while flying from this country to an unannounced destination.

Lt. William H. Levernier, 23 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Levernier of Union, McHenry county, did not return from a bombing mission over the Japanese base at Bougainville on Nov. 23. Levernier was navigator bombardier on the bombing plane.

Staff Sgt. Fred Pedersen, 23 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Pedersen of Algonquin, and a gunner in the army air forces, has been missing since the Nov. 13 air raid over Germany.

PICK 11 JURORS FOR ROBINSON KIDNAPING TRIAL

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 29 (AP).—Eleven jurors were selected tentatively for service in the trial of Thomas H. Robinson Jr., who is charged with kidnaping, and a night session ordered by Federal Judge Shackelford Miller ended after the first day's panel of 68 veniremen was exhausted.

From questioning of prospective jurors, Defense Counsel Robert E. Hogan left no doubt the chief defense would be insanity at the time of the $50,000 ransom kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll in 1934.

Robinson was released from Alcatraz federal prison two months ago for today's trial. He won a court order for the jury trial on his self-prepared plea that he was not properly represented in 1936 when he pleaded guilty to the kidnap charge here and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

BOARD DEFERS DADS; AWAITS F. D. R.'S ACTION

Westfield, N. J., Nov. 29 (AP).—Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers among draftees ordered to the Newark induction station for final examination were sent home today by Union county selective service board 4 and told they had been granted temporary deferments.

Frederick S. Parker, board chairman, said the board "is temporarily deferring all pre-Pearl Harbor fathers because of legislation by both houses of congress," which has not yet been signed by the President.

"The board feels that the rights of these fathers should not be prejudiced by the fact the President has not yet considered the bill and the board also feels these fathers should be deferred until definite information on the outcome of this bill has been delivered," Parker said.

UNRRA DECIDES TO LET U. S. PUT UP BULK OF CASH

Final Meetings Will Be Held Today.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 29.—Delegates from 43 nations gave their approval today to plans for the United States to shoulder the major financial burden of relief and rehabilitation for the world's war victims.

The full council of the united nations' relief and rehabilitation administration, accepted all the resolutions presented by its committees for the accomplishment of UNRRA's tasks. The delegations then celebrated with a cocktail party given by the French.

The committees will hold final meetings tomorrow to make certain that nothing has been overlooked. Then Herbert H. Lehman, director general of UNRRA, will return to Washington to begin assembling his staff of 2,200 and wait for the various governments represented in UNRRA to vote preliminary funds for its work.

Congressmen on Scene.

Meanwhile congress indicated a supervisory interest in UNRRA when three members of the house foreign affairs committee arrived. The three, all Republicans, are Representatives Robert B. Chiperfield of Illinois, John M. Vorys of Ohio, and Bartel J. Jonkman of Michigan.

The house delegation conferred with Dean Acheson, assistant secretary of state and chairman of the UNRRA problems, with the delegates in view of the close relations expected between UNRRA and the foreign affairs committee. The congressmen said other members of the foreign affairs committee will arrive tomorrow.

It is estimated that close to 2½ billion dollars will be needed. Of this, the United States is expected to pay about three-fifths, or 1½ billion dollars. The United Kingdom's share, under the suggested plan for countries not actually occupied to contribute 1 per cent of a year's income, will be about 320 million dollars. Canada's will be 90 million dollars.

UNRRA's officials say they hope the rest will be provided by other units of the British Empire and by South American countries. It is believed that congress will shortly be asked to vote about a half billion dollars as the first American contribution.

UNRRA's task will be to feed and clothe the needy of enemy occupied countries, to transport refugees and those driven out back to their homes, and to rehabilitate them and the industries by which they can resume their normal mode of living.

OWI Covers Parley.

UNRRA hopes to be ready to begin its project within a few months, if military victories will permit.

The office of war information has been active in supplying foreign nations with news of the three weeks' UNRRA conference. Part of the news has gone out in recordings of comments of delegation members, placed on records and sent to New York for short wave broadcasts in their native languages to their native lands.

EXPECT 'BIG 3' TO TELL HITLER TO SURRENDER

Allied Chiefs May Sign Ultimatum.

'Consider Peace Bid'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 30 [Tuesday].—A. J. Cummings, well informed News Chronicle political commentator, this morning stated the proposal that President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin, and Prime Minister Churchill should appeal to the German people to repudiate Hitler and surrender unconditionally "has been favorably considered in high quarters." Some such document, Cummings added, "may be framed for use at a convenient moment." Such a moment, he suggested, "might come when the German armies are driven across Russia's frontiers and the allied bombing offensive on the reich has reached its climax."

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—A declaration of epochal importance involving a possible demand for Germany's surrender and signed by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Stalin in the first meeting of the "Big Three" is expected to be announced perhaps within a few days. This expectation is based on foreign reports.

It is speculated that such a document, in terms more precise than the Atlantic Charter, certainly would state the peace principles for application to Germany and her satellites.

Allied Officials Silent.

Allied officials maintained silence as to the dates and site of the conference. Axis and neutral comment, often conflicting, persisted.

The German controled Vichy radio said: "According to neutral reports reaching Vichy, Roosevelt and Churchill have arrived in Cairo and Stalin, on his way to Egypt, has reached Teheran, Iran [Persia]. The meeting of the three statesmen will take place in the next few days, either in Cairo or Alexandria."

An odd editorial was reported in a Munich newspaper. The Zurich correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet quoted from the Muenchener Neueste Nachrichten:

"Everybody hopes the fifth winter of the war will be the last, but one must reckon with the war being intensified daily until the great end. That end cannot be far away."

Try to Minimize Importance.

German propagandists anticipated an announcement of a conference of the "Big Three" with an effort to minimize its importance.

"Since efforts to bring about this conference have been made for the last two years, it would not be surprising if a conference should at last take place," said DNB [German news agency] in a Berlin broadcast. "It is surprising, however, that the meeting should take place so soon after the Moscow conference of foreign ministers of Britain, Russia, and the United States.

"Since the Moscow conference, the situation on the whole has not changed. Stalin, Churchill, and Roosevelt therefore can hardly discuss anything that Molotov, Eden, and Hull did not discuss.

"If a meeting, nevertheless, has convened, it may be concluded that the Moscow conference brought no agreement, and the Moscow communique [brought] nothing but an attempt to give the illusion of agreement."

Contrary to this German view the affirmation of solidarity among the three leaders of the allied nations is expected alone to constitute one of the greatest accomplishments of any consultation.

Peace Mission Hinted.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov. 29 (AP).—A three man Bulgarian political commission arrived here today en route to Ankara, and one of the members was reported to have said Bulgaria was seeking a way out of the war. Recent allied aerial bombardments have convinced the Bulgars that the allies are in a position to inflict any kind of punishment upon the country they desire, the commission member was said to have told a friend here.

HULL BRANDS PEACE RUMOR ENEMY TRICK TO CONFUSE ALLIES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull took a negative attitude today toward the latest batch of peace rumors with a warning that "most of the time" such reports are put out to impair allied prosecution of the war.

Hull was asked whether he had any information "that would support rumors that a German peace move is afoot thru the Vatican or other channels." Permitting direct quotation, he gave this reply:

"I think I would be safe in authorizing you to quote me entirely in the negative about such rumors at every day's conference until I notify you to the contrary.

"They are evidently put out most of the time with a view to creating overconfidence among the allies in carrying on the war to a successful conclusion and in that way impairing the whole vigor of the war situation on the allied side."

VETERAN RAILROADER DIES.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 29 [AP].—William Nyle Garvin of St. Louis, superintendent of transportation for the Wabash railroad, died today. He was 49 years old. A railroader since 1912, he joined the Wabash in 1921. He is survived by his widow and a daughter.

STAR ROOMERS OF WHITE HOUSE TO MOVE SOON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—There will be a couple of spare rooms at the White House one of these days. Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hopkins are going to move soon to their eight room house.

Mrs. Hopkins, it was learned today, will take formal possession tomorrow of the three story house in Georgetown and will start paying rent. Workmen have been busy two months renovating the place.

The Hopkins' new landlady was said to be worried for fear Hopkins and his bride would find the house too small. But others took the view that eight rooms and three baths, after two rooms, even in the White House, should satisfy almost any one in this overcrowded town. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's closest adviser, has lived at the White House since 1940.

Austin Hall Resigns U. S. Post to Practice Law

Austin Hall, for 10 years an assistant United States attorney, resigned yesterday, effective Dec. 6, to enter private practice. He will be associated with George I. Haight at 209 South La Salle street. Hall has been chief of the civil division of the district attorney's office.

TWO DIE OF BURNS.

Dubuque, Ia., Nov. 29.—William P. Spensley, 77 years old, and Charles Scheffert, 70, died of accidental burns, Coroner Norbert Behr reported today. Both men were invalids and each set his clothing afire while lighting a pipe, Behr said.

POLAND INVITED TO SIGN SOVIET AND CZECH PACT

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—The Russians and Czechs, in a mutual assistance pact to be signed within the next 10 days, will open the door for Poland to join in a barricade against Germany's "drang nach osten" [drive to the east] for the next 20 years, it was learned tonight.

The pact also in effect disclaims any soviet intention to bolshevize the smaller European countries.

A protocol to the pact, patterned after the British-soviet treaty signed May 26, 1942, says it can be joined by any of the neighbors of Czecho-Slovakia or Russia which are not allies of Germany. This is a flat invitation to Poland to join, as she virtually is the only country falling into this category.

The terms of the new treaty pledge a fight to the finish against Germany and provide for the rebuilding of post-war Europe on a basis of nonintervention with the internal affairs of the nations. The treaty makes no mention of territorial boundaries.

This was omitted for two reasons:

1. The Russians have never recognized the Munich concessions to Germany.

2. The United States and Britain have insisted that boundary discussions be postponed until the end of the war.

To Be Signed in Moscow.

A plank emphasizing that there shall be no intervention in internal affairs of the countries involved is regarded here as establishing a principle for soviet relations with all of the smaller countries with whom they might conclude treaties.

The soviet-Czech pact, which will be signed in Moscow in the next few days by Edouard Benes, president of the provisional Czech government, will be a corrollary of bigger pronouncements expected to come out of a meeting of President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin, and Prime Minister Churchill.

Negotiations were concluded for the pact some time ago and have been given the unofficial approval of both the United States and Britain.

Churchill 69 Today; He's 8 Years Older than F.D.R.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Prime Minister Churchill will be 69 years old tomorrow. He is eight years older than President Roosevelt, five years older than Premier Stalin, and 14 years older than Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, with whom he is reported by foreign sources to be meeting.

GERMANY'S SECRET WEAPON JUST BLUFF, SAYS VISITING SWEDE

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 29.—Germany's secret weapons are not much beyond bluff, in the opinion of a Swedish scientist just returned from the reich. Not only is today's German scientist inferior, due to the elimination of some of the best brains for political reasons, but science itself keeps a fairly even pace in the progress of all countries, he said.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels no doubt speaks the truth, thinks this scientist, when saying German laboratories are working day and night on a new weapon, but chances of discovery of something really epoch making are small. They have certainly not discovered any new element, he is convinced. What they may have been able to achieve is improvement on compounds derived from known elements, but, he said, it would not take scientists of other countries long to find out the composition and evolve a counter-measure.

TARAWA LEADER LAUDS BRAVERY OF WAR WRITERS

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Nov. 29 (AP).—The bravery and truthful reporting of war correspondents were praised today by Maj. Gen. Holland McTiere Smith, who led the assault on Tarawa in the Gilberts.

"I've seen enough of the hazards you correspondents go thru to get your stories," he told a press conference. "Your hazards are as great as those of the soldiers.

"I feel keenly that you gentlemen can do as much to win this war as the soldiers with rifles. My personal reaction to what I've seen is that no greater courage has been demonstrated than that you demonstrate by your efforts to get the truth. I think recognition should be given you."

TRIBUNE PROVES WASTE SOLVES NEWSPRINT LACK

Experts and Officials See Pressroom Test.

Solution of the increasing newsprint shortage was seen by 52 representatives of Chicago and Illinois newspapers, printing, paper, and ink company officials, and war production board representatives in a demonstration of newsprint made partially from waste paper in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE pressroom yesterday.

The assembled group, viewing sample press runs of newsprint containing from 10 per cent non-deinked waste paper up to 45 per cent deinked waste paper, could find little difference in the quality and printing of the varying samples.

Federal Officials Watch Test.

Earl Bauer, 6th region chief of general salvage, and J. G. Sheldon, executive secretary of the Chicago Metropolitan area for WPB, were among the interested spectators witnessing the press runs that were the climax of experimental work begun by THE TRIBUNE and the New York Daily News in 1941.

Visitors to THE TRIBUNE pressroom yesterday were given press run samples of paper used regularly by THE TRIBUNE, paper with all new pulp, paper with 10 per cent non-deinked waste paper, paper with 20 per cent non-deinked waste paper, paper with 23 per cent deinked waste paper, and paper containing 45 per cent deinked waste paper.

Solution for Shortage.

After critically scanning the samples, newspaper publishers, paper and ink experts, and the WPB representatives could find but slight difference in texture, general appearance, and printing clarity of the six samples. The newsprint containing 45 per cent de-inked wastepaper provided clear and readable pages that, the experts agreed, would solve the growing shortage of newsprint if used generally by newspapers thruout the country.

The demonstration was arranged by John W. Park, Tribune production manager, and was similar to one held recently by the New York Daily News and witnessed by more than 60 newspaper and newsprint trade officials. Park said the experimental work was part of THE TRIBUNE's campaign to provide a solution to war time publishing problems growing out of governmental newsprint restrictions.

Experiment Begun 2 Years Ago.

The experiment was begun two years ago and was carried out by the two newspapers with the co-operation of the New York state college of forestry at Syracuse university and the Ontario Paper company of Thorold, Ont., a Chicago Tribune subsidiary, which provided laboratory and research facilities.

Park said the de-inked waste paper experiments proved a large saving in new pulp could be made. There are many methods of deinking, he said, most of which provide for dislodging the ink particles from the castoff paper and holding them in suspension until they are washed away. The de-inked pulp is then pumped into the paper mill, where it is mixed with fresh ground wood and sulphite and sent to the paper machine.

The process for the unde-inked waste paper is similar except that smaller quantities of the waste paper can be mixed with fresh pulp.

Find Winery Worker Dead in Vat He Was Cleaning

Sam Spector, 57 years old, 3539 Grenshaw street, was found dead yesterday in a wine vat he had been cleaning at the California Wine company, 444 West Grand avenue. Firemen donned masks to remove the body because of the wine fumes inside the vat.

BLIND WORKERS TOP INSPECTORS IN WAR PLANT

Suffer No Handicap, Bosses Discover.

The blind are leading the field at the Metal Products Manufacturing company, 1815 Irving Park road, where Lester MacFarland, Robert Gardner, Ben George, Paul Gardie, and 111 other war workers are turning out radio communications equipment for the army and the navy.

MacFarland, Gardner, George, and Gardie are blind. Officials of the United States employment service thought this handicap might not be too great to permit them to become precision inspectors for screw holes drilled in the delicate metal of certain type of radio cabinets. The manufacturers found that blindness actually helps.

This, it seems, is because the sudden sharp noises of a war plant do not distract blind workers. There's no use looking up when you can't see. Also, the extraordinary sensitivity of their fingers saves material, money, and time.

Blind Fingers Sensitive.

Each inspector has a small precision screw which he turns into each hole to be tested. If the hole is more than two 10,000ths of an inch imperfect, the screw won't fit and the work is turned back for correction. Fingers of blind inspectors feel the resistance of soft metal threads to the inspecting screw before it has damaged the threads. Normal workers frequently punch thru the threads. When this happens the whole part must undergo repair.

Gardner and MacFarland are radio entertainers, who decided they weren't helping much to win the war. The employment service office at 913 Montana street found them a job. In two weeks Walter Grahn and L. P. Overend, their new bosses, discovered that two blind men not only could surpass production of normal inspectors but also injured fewer delicate parts.

Keep Ahead of Machine.

After the two showed they could keep ahead of the parts turned out by a speedy retapping machine operated by Odessa Watts, 27, of 401 North Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, two more blind men were hired. They were Gardie, 60, of 3819 Kenmore avenue, and George, 34, of 2216 Lincoln avenue. All but Gardner, who is 41, get to work unassisted. Gardner's wife, Frances, 33, brings him from home, so the plant put her to work, too. They live at 3531 Carroll street. MacFarland, 41, travels all the way from 3000 Washington boulevard.

MacFarland and Gardner, because of their radio program, work only five hours a day as precision inspectors. The others work full time. All are paid the same wage as normal workers.

FOR CHRISTMAS-Adopt a Yank in Sick Bay

On Sunday THE TRIBUNE printed an article describing a campaign which this newspaper is inaugurating to brighten the Christmas season for the thousands of sick and wounded soldiers hospitalized in the Chicago area—For Christmas—Adopt a Yank in Sick Bay!

Yesterday more than 500 letters were received from persons eager to help make Christmas more cheerful for the heroes who were disabled in their country's cause. Last night the letters were still pouring in.

"I am a nurse," wrote one girl, "and I know how terrible it would be not to have people remember the sick at Christmas time. I would like to adopt three Yanks for the coming Christmas season."

Gifts for Those in Hospitals.

When you "adopt a Yank" you know that some soldier or sailor, confined to his bed in a hospital, will not be forgotten this Christmas. You know that he won't have to lie back on his pillows and watch his more fortunate buddies, who were remembered, open their gifts. Because he will be remembered, too—by you.

All the big general hospitals in the states surrounding Chicago are coöperating in the campaign. Officers will distribute slips on which the patients will write their names and addresses and perhaps a list of the things they would like for Christmas. The slips will be collected and sent to THE TRIBUNE.

You are invited by THE TRIBUNE to send a self-addressed envelope, with a note telling how many Yanks you would like to send gifts to. Send your letter to the Adopt a Yank Editor, Tribune Tower, Chicago. You will then receive one or more slips from the hospital—from the Yanks you will adopt.

You Can Buy What You Wish.

Because personal delivery of the gifts would disrupt hospital routine, they must be mailed to the adopted Yanks. You can buy something the wounded Yank has suggested, or something else if you feel it is more appropriate. And if you wish you may write him a letter to add to his Christmas cheer.

Letters received yesterday by THE TRIBUNE all were heart warming in the eagerness they expressed to help make Christmas day a cheerful one for the bedridden casualties in the veterans' hospitals.

"Please send me the name and address of a service man and a list of what he would like for Christmas," read a typical letter from a Chicago girl. "I find it a privilege to do this and I am anxiously awaiting your reply."

21,000 Got Gifts in 1941.

Many letters were from persons still corresponding with soldiers and sailors they aided in a similar "Adopt a Yank for Christmas" campaign conducted by THE TRIBUNE two years ago, when more than 21,000 Yanks in camps received gifts.

"I think this a fine thing THE TRIBUNE is doing," wrote a River Forest girl, "bringing cheer to thousands of Yanks. The Yank I adopted two years ago is, of course, overseas, but we are still corresponding."

That Yank will never forget her. The Yank you adopt will never forget you.

2 Arrested, 6 Phones Seized in Gaming Raid

Capt. William Burke of the Marquette station yesterday arrested two men in an alleged gambling establishment at 2758 Ogden avenue and confiscated half a dozen telephones. In a room on the second floor over a theater he took into custody Charles Picco, 36 years old, and John Dunlevy, 43.

ARRAIGN 3 TODAY FOR ASSAULT AT UNION MEETING

Three members of the Cement Finishers' union will be arraigned in Des Plaines Street court today on charges of assault and battery preferred by two fellow workers who said they were kicked and slugged as they left a union meeting Nov. 23.

Lt. George Barnes of the police department's labor detail said the men were crippled so severely they had been unable to report for work on a government enlargement project at the Hines hospital.

The men charged with the assault are: Patrick A. Sepe, 29 years old, 1353 Taylor street; Salvatore Masella, 32, of 318 South Aberdeen street, and Joseph Tomasello, 31, of 1106 Larrabee street. They are members of the Cement Finishers' local 502 [AFL], as are their victims, Phillip Scornavacco, 47, of 7127 South Marshfield avenue, and Cleron Palmer, 37, of 6150 Thorndale avenue.

Testified Against Trio.

Both victims told Lt. Barnes they had been beset by the trio Nov. 23 as they left the union hall at 36 South Peoria street. Their assailants, they said, had preferred charges against Nick Celini, a foreman at the Hines project.

They said Masella, Sepe, and Tomasello had been upbraided by the foreman for loafing and were asked to do over some unsatisfactory work. The trio refused and quit the job, attempting unsuccessfully to get 10 other workmen to join them, they said.

Eighteen Stitch Wound.

The trio then preferred charges against the foreman, and Palmer and Scornavacco were called to testify at the grievance hearing, at which the union upheld Celini, the foreman. It was on leaving this meeting that Palmer and Scornavacco were attacked, they reported. Scornavacco said he lost a tooth and was kicked in the head so severely that 18 stitches were required to close a wound in his mouth. Palmer said he also was kicked in the head and knocked unconscious.

Joseph Cody, president of the union, who saw the attack, was threatened with similar treatment by the men when he attempted to intervene, the victims said.

Nurse Finds Her Husband Dead in Home; Gun Near

When Mrs. Joan Davis, supervisor of nurses at West Suburban hospital, returned to her home, 16 Erie street, Oak Park, yesterday afternoon, she found her husband, Chester, 43, a clerk for the Western Electric company, shot fatally thru the head. A .22 caliber rifle lay beside the body. She told police he had been under a doctor's care for 18 months.

MONOXIDE VICTIM REVIVED.

Thomas Corl, 53 years old, 2528 North California avenue, a messenger, was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from his automobile in his garage yesterday, but was revived by rescue squad No. 6 under Lt. Harry Mohr after an hour's work.

RAPS GRANTING GAS TO UNIONS, NOT TO PASTOR

Aid to Labor Leaders by OPA Cited.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Rep. Clare Hoffman [R., Mich.] today contrasted refusal of the office of price administration to grant extra gasoline to a pastor with its grants of "almost unlimited" gasoline rations to labor union organizers.

In a house speech, Hoffman cited the case, made public last week, of the Rev. Leland L. Marion, pastor of a church in Pontiac, Mich., whose C gasoline card was withheld by the OPA following a report by the minister that he was told his work was not essential.

Get Gas to Follow Drivers.

The Michigan congressman recalled that union organizers in Detroit recently were allotted gasoline rations for 1,000 to 3,000 miles a month for the purpose of following nonunion milk drivers and "intimidating" them into joining labor unions.

Similarly, he said, another group of union organizers has used gasoline in trying to stop purchases of coal by industrial plants in Holland, Mich., from the long established Harrington Coal company, because Harrington drivers have refused to join the union.

"These union organizers, so-called, some of them convicted criminals," Hoffman said, "have been getting all the gasoline they need, traveling at least 50 miles a day on a useless, unnecessary, destructive errand.

Charges Tributes Forced.

"What a contrast! OPA gives rationed gasoline to men who drive day after day in an effort to force those working in defense industries to pay tribute for the privilege of working there. They drive hundreds of miles to take from the working men's paychecks dues to further their own activities, and their own political ambitions.

"But when a minister asks for gasoline to hold divine services, to attend the sick, to assist in burying the dead, his request is denied and he is told, according to his statement, that the quicker the churches close up, the better it will be anyway. What cheering news to men on the battle front.!"

Thieves Get $350 Meats, Groceries, Ration Points

Thieves took his entire meat stock, valued at $350, in a week-end burglary, Ludwig Janisch, a butcher at 1933 West 63d street, reported to police yesterday. They also stole groceries, $12 in currency, and 1,800 ration points.

GERMAN ESCAPE GAP NARROWED AS REDS PUSH ON

Pincer Drive Closes In on Railway Hub.

LONDON, Nov. 30 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Russian shock troops, opening a new wedge from the south on Zhlobin yesterday, captured a town 12 miles below that railway center and base for perhaps 300,000 Germans in the Gomel escape hatch. Moscow's war bulletin early today said that seven other villages were taken by the Russians in that drive between the Dnieper and Berezina rivers.

Forty other communities were captured in attacks against the Nazis who were retreating northwest of Gomel. This northwest push by the Reds already had carried to about 20 miles southeast of Zhlobin.

Thus the Russians were developing a strong pincers movement upon Zhlobin, junction on the Gomel-Minsk railroad and the Leningrad-Odessa main line as well.

Narrow Gap for Nazis.

Advance forces of the Red army's drive into southern White Russia, cutting thru the freezing fringes of the Pripet marshes up the lower Berezina, have carried to a point 25 miles south of Bobruisk as the Germans abandoned strongpoint after strongpoint in their withdrawal toward Minsk and Poland.

The offensive was rolling forward along a 100 mile front.

At the same time the Russians reopened a drive into the Dnieper bulge at Cherkasi, midway between Kiev and Kremenchug, toppling three strongholds including a town eight miles west of Cherkasi.

New Threat to Nazis.

This plunge carved out a deeper bridgehead on the west bank of the Dnieper and brought a new threat to German positions to the south of the Dnieper bulge.

The Red army offensives southwest of Kremenchug and southwest of Dnepropetrovsk in the great Dnieper bend bit deeper into German defenses. Eleven enemy fortification points were seized below Dnepropetrovsk. Several positions also were captured southwest of Kremenchug.

One town falling in the mop-up southwest of Dnepropetrovsk is located 23 miles north of Nikopol, further tightening the sack around the Germans in the Krivoi Rog-Nikopol holdout bulge.

Again Moscow said that German tank and infantry assaults in the Zhitomir sector [west of Kiev] had been thrown back.

30,000 JAPS PUT TO ROUT IN 3 DAY BATTLE IN CHINA

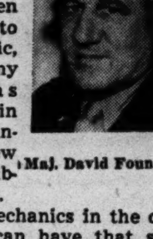
CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 30 [Tuesday]—(AP).—The Chinese high command announced today that two Japanese divisions, roughly 30,000 men, have been routed southwest and northwest of strategic Changteh in a three day battle and are in full retreat with Chiness forces in hot pursuit.

Easing another threat to the transport center from which drives might be launched either against Changsha or Chungking, Chinese forces southeast of Changteh blunted the thrust of another Japanese column and turned it back to the north bank of the Yoan river.

The partly-encircled and battered city still was taking heavy punishment, however, with Japanese guns pouring incendiary and gas shells into it and subjecting it to almost incessant bombings. Large numbers of Japanese were said to have been killed.

CICERO MAJOR RETURNS FROM SOUTH PACIFIC

Maj. David Fountaine, who enlisted in the army as a private 24 years ago, is back home at 3721 South 53d court, Cicero, on sick leave, but he is already planning for the day when he can go back to the South Pacific, where for many months he has been engineer in charge of a maintenance crew working on Liberator bombers.



Maj. David Fountaine.

"I had 450 mechanics in the crew and I hope I can have that same bunch again," he said. "Those are the men who really 'keep 'em flying.' When necessary they work day and night to get those big fellows ready for the bombing missions. They patch the holes and repair the shattered wings, and they keep the motors roaring nicely."

Fountaine was stationed on Guadalcanal for seven months.

Brig. Gen. B. F. Fellers Rejoins Gen. MacArthur

RUSSIA FOSTERS PRIVATE TRADE TO REBUILD KIEV

Here's Picture of City Ruined by Nazis.

BY EDDY GILMORE.

KIEV, Nov. 28 [Delayed]—(AP).—Soviet authorities have a tremendous undertaking in rebuilding this ancient capital of the Ukraine after more than two years of German occupation but they are making a good start.

One of the most interesting phases of this reorganization was disclosed in an advertisment in today's Kiev edition of Pravda, Communist party newspaper, which already is turning out copies in the Ukrainian language.

The advertisment invites persons to start small enterprises or shops for private profit under soviet regulations.

Taxes Are High.

Already several restaurants have sprung up under this system. At the city soviet headquarters, Zinovy Serdiuk, party secretary, said private trade is permitted under the soviet constitution.

He explained that taxes are high for such enterprises and they must compete with socialistic organizations operated by the state.

Prospective restaurant and small shop operators borrow money from the Soviet Central bank which was established in Kiev Nov. 6, 1943, the morning after Kiev first saw Red army men again. This money is advanced against their expected earnings with a nominal interest rate.

German occupation money is not being recognized nor is any payment being made for it. It became worthless overnight.

All workers of Kiev, however, are being advanced soviet money against their expected wages. No interest is being charged for this service to private civilians.

No Water System.

The principal problem is restoration of municipal services. Kiev today has no water system, no electricity and virtually no heat.

Nine of Kiev's water mains are working but no water has yet gone into houses. Crowds of women stand in the middle of streets around manholes lowering buckets on ropes into storm sewers for their water. Others go to the river but that is a long walk and a hard pull up a steep bank with a heavy load.

Ration cards have been distributed and more are going out every day as people return to the city. Authorities figure Ukrainians are returning to Kiev at the rate of about 200 a day.

Housing will not be too difficult because only the center of the city has been destroyed. In the suburbs and away from the center, most houses and buildings are standing altho hundreds of buildings such as schools and small plants were destroyed by the Nazis.

CHICAGO CADET ONE OF SIX DEAD IN TEXAS CRASH

Thomas J. Maroney Jr., 21 years old, 7236 Lafayette avenue, and Walter F. Liszka, 24, of Harvey, were killed Saturday in the crash of twin engined army training plane near Sabinal, Tex., in which six other persons also died, it was announced yesterday. Both were army aviation cadets. Wreckage of the plane was discovered yesterday by searching parties from the Hondo army air field at Hondo, Tex. Liszka was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Liszka of Harvey.

Two Chicago Flyers Win Silver Stars in Pacific

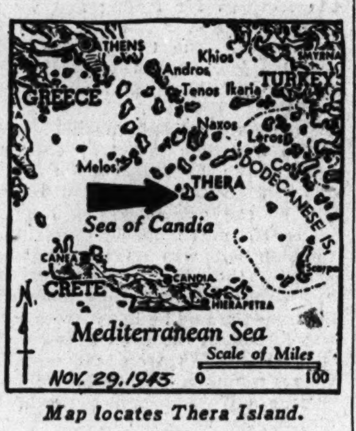
Island Taken



Map locates Thera Island.

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—The Germans announced today the capture of Thera [Santorin] Island, north of Crete. The German radio said Thera surrendered to German naval forces Saturday night "with all its batteries and other defense installations." Since no British troops ever were announced as landing there, it was assumed that the garrison was Italian. Kos, Leros, and Samos—all previously seized by the British—were recently recaptured by the Germans.

Gen. Josip [Tito] Broz, in his war bulletin on guerrilla action in Jugo-Slavia, drew a picture of train derailments in Bosnia, killing many Germans; a new Partisan advance on Stolac in Herzegovina, and the repulse of Nazi attacks on Partisan positions in Montenegro.

Italy based American medium bombers launched a large-scale assault on Dubrovnik, Sibenik, and Zara, three German-held ports in Jugo-Slavia. Seven separate waves of Mitchells hit Zara, rained bombs on five or six ships at Sibenik, where the biggest attack was carried out, and hit a merchant ship, docks, and military stores at Dubrovnik.

TWO U. S. SHIPS SUNK BY SUBS; 28 CREWMEN DIE

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Nov. 29 (AP).—An American Liberty ship was torpedoed and sunk, with a loss of 16 lives, and an American tanker was sent down with a loss of 12 lives in the same general area, subsequent to the sinking of the Colombian inter-island motor schooner Ruby, 15th United States naval headquarters announced today.

The Ruby was sunk by gunfire by a German submarine, the statement said, and four members of the crew were killed. The four remaining members of the crew and three passengers, one a 6 year old child, were injured.

OUR WILL TO DIE WON TARAWA, SAYS GENERAL

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Nov. 29 (AP).—How were the marines able to take Tarawa in 76 hours?

"Gentlemen, it was our will to die," Maj. Gen. Holland McTiere Smith, commander of the amphibious forces [assault troops], said at a press conference today.

The general described defenses which the Japanese had considered impregnable.

"These blockhouses were of concrete five feet thick. Superimposed on top of that were angle irons. On top of that was 10 to 12 feet of sand and coral.

"I am talking about individual blockhouses [of which the Japs had many]. Nothing but a direct hit by a 2,000 pound bomb would destroy them."

Less Cost Possible.

Asked if the same operation could have been done at less cost, Smith replied, "I think with longer preparation by naval gunfire and aerial bombings perhaps it might have been done for less.

"No way has yet been found to make war safe and easy.

"The capture of these islands was the result of teamwork—that is, naval gunfire, air and land forces. Never in the history of our country has there been closer coöperation, coördination, and mutual support than in this undertaking.

Tribute to Admirals.

"The plans for attack were approved completely and fully by the division, the corps, and amphibious force and officers. Tribute should be paid individual commanders who actually did the fighting. There are too many to name, but I would like to pay tribute to the magnificent support of Rear Adm. Harry A. Hill in the south and Rear Adm. Richmond Kelly Turner in the north."

Describing the extreme concentration of Jap gunfire, Smith said, "I counted 105 dead marines in a space less than 20 yards."

Few Japs on Tarawa.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—The navy reported today that a "few enemy stragglers remain in the northern end of Tarawa atoll," one of the Gilbert group occupied by American forces.

The department issued the following statement on the situation:

"Islands in the Gilberts are being developed according to plan. A few enemy stragglers remain in the northern end of Tarawa atoll.

JAPS "LOSE CONTACT."
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Japanese, who have yet to concede defeat in the Gilbert Islands, yesterday broadcast a bulletin acknowledging loss of contact with their forces on Tarawa and Makin.

AUSSIES CLOSE IN ON JAP STRONG POINT IN GUINEA

Tanks, Bombers Aid Drive on Bonga.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC HDQ., Nov. 30, Tuesday (AP).—Supported by waves of bombers and their own tanks, Australian infantrymen are closing in on Bonga, a Japanese jungle position northeast of Sattelberg, New Guinea.

Sattelberg, five miles northwest of Finschhafen air field, was captured by the allies Nov. 26.

A spokesman for Gen. MacArthur, explaining the strategic value of Bonga, said that altho Pino hill has been taken, a bulge still remained in allied lines along the coastal trail. The assault on Bonga is intended to take out the bulge.

Bombers and Aussies.

Pino hill, a large irregular height, dominated the northeastern half of the main jungle trail along Huon peninsula. The attack on Bonga was launched Saturday.

Mitchell medium bombers, flying at tree top level, roared ahead of the Australians, strafing enemy lines as the attack began. The next day they blasted the Japanese again and by Sunday afternoon the Aussies had advanced to within two miles of Bonga.

Three Airdromes Pounded.

Mosigetta, Marawaka, and Mutipina airdromes, on the southeast coast of Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville Island, were attacked heavily by Dauntless and Avenger bombers escorted by P-39 fighters. Six large buildings were destroyed and 24 smaller structures were demolished by the 68 tons of bombs released.

Liberators attacked Wewak, the Japanese stronghold on the northeast coast of New Guinea. Escorted by Airacobras, the allied heavy bombers put 94 tons of bombs on the target. Observers reported a large fire along the coast at nearby Boram and two small fires at Wewak.

Night reconnaissance units raided shipping north of Rabaul, attacking two destroyers and a freighter. One of the destroyers was reported damaged.

"Ocean Full" of Ships.

Japanese warship losses have been mounting steadily toward a possible new high for a single month in the face of greatly increased American naval strength—an "ocean full" of aircraft carriers and other combat vessels.

An enemy cruiser, caught in the narrow waters of St. George channel between New Britain and New Ireland, was the latest victim of allied power. Gen. MacArthur reported it was hit by a 1,000 pound bomb from a Liberator bomber. An internal explosion severely damaged the ship.

"Headed Toward Japan."

In strong contrast was the growing strength of American naval power. Vice Adm. Kinkaid, allied naval commander in the southwest Pacific, said a year ago there was only one allied carrier in the Pacific, and it was damaged.

Adm. Kinkaid conceded that fighting over any route to Tokio would be extremely difficult, but added:

"But we are headed toward Japan and will go thru."

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 29 (AP).—Several hundred students and teachers at the Chinese middle school at Hofu, west of Changteh, were killed by the Japanese when they entered the town recently, the Central News agency said today. Many girl students were reported carried off. Central News attributed the story to a student who escaped.

TROOPS IN ITALY DEMAND LEAVES TO COME HOME

Storm Army Paper with Angry Letters.

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 29 (AP).—A storm of protest has burst in the ranks of the 5th army over a recent editorial in the service newspaper, Stars and Stripes, on the question of rotation of American combat troops and home leave for men who have been in action.

Soldiers deluged the newspaper with angry letters, illustrating a general belief that they should have furloughs in America after they have been in the line for a certain time.

The question first was raised by a senate subcommittee which visited the Mediterranean theater several months ago.

The combat edition of Stars and Stripes took issue with the senators' statements, as quoted here, on the subject of furlough. The editorial asserted that the American soldiers wanted to see Berlin before they saw their home towns again.

"Speak for Yourself."

Almost immediately, an avalanche of sulphurous letters began to arrive. Sample statements in them were:

"Who in hell elected you to voice the opinion of the veteran? We have been overseas more than 22 months now. I contend that you can't leave combat troops in the line indefinitely and expect the same good work as when they started.

"I have yet to see a piece of ground taken by the Stars and Stripes. I have yet to see a Stars and Stripes cemetery. When you say you don't want to go home, why don't you say you are speaking solely for the staff of the paper?"

The paper printed two columns of the letters, unanimous in sentiment.

War Is Just a Job.

Combat troops reading about the millions of men being trained in the United States feel combatants are being discriminated against in being kept in the line without any prospect of home leave. They believe the army is big enough now to rotate divisions without loss of efficiency. The average doughboy regards the war against Germany as a job, not a crusade. He doesn't have the same sentiment toward his enemy as British troops who have seen British cities bombed.

The doughboy, however, does have a genuine hatred for the Japanese. These same men would fight without any thought of home leave if they had Japanese troops in front of them instead of Germans.

They have a real feeling about that area of the war. The fighting in this area is just a job.

Fifth army commanders have been well aware of these sentiments for a long time. Small units continually are being pulled out of line and sent into rear areas for rest. But that isn't what the average soldier wants. He wants to go home. He's homesick—as soldiers always are—and believes there are plenty of troops, in America and elsewhere, to take his place for a while.

FIGHT NAZIS AND 'FROZEN' BOMBS IN RAID ON REICH

AT A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, Nov. 29 (AP).—How a Flying Fortress crew, unable to drop their "frozen" bombs on a target at Schweinfurt in a raid last October, "sweated out" their homeward trip was told today by First Lt. Richard W. Lyng, 7521 Wabash avenue, Chicago, pilot of the Fort. His co-pilot was Flight Officer H. L. Smith of Green Bay, Wis.

Lt. Richard W. Lyng.

The trip home was completed safely, tho the bomber was destroyed by fire in an emergency landing and Staff Sgt. John W. Disher of Fredericktown, Mo., ball turret gunner, was seriously wounded in the right foot during a fight with German fighter planes. "Disher never said a word about his injury," said Lyng. "It was 10 minutes before I knew he was hit."

Trouble began when the plane got over the target. The bombs would not budge. On the way home the explosive load was dumped over France. Landing on a runway too small, the Fort hit an embankment and caught fire. The big ship went to an honorable death as her crewmen were officially credited with six German planes shot down.

Son of Poland's Premier Flees Nazi Prison Camp

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—The Polish telegraph agency said today the 16 year old son of Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk of Poland had escaped from the Nazi prison at Lublin and is hiding somewhere in Poland. The premier's wife, Cecelia, and the son, Marian, were seized in July, 1942, the agency reported. Mrs. Mikolajczyk is now being held as a hostage in Oswiecim concentration camp, the agency added.

2,700 Killed, 1,800 Hurt by Earthquake in Turkey

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—The Ankara, Turkey, radio said today that 2,700 persons were killed and 1,800 were injured critically in Saturday's Turkish earthquake. Homes destroyed totaled 3,000, while 500 others were damaged.

U.S. 'FORTS' RAID BREMEN AGAIN; 65° BELOW ZERO

13 Bombers Missing; Foe Loses 35 Planes.

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—Streaking thru 65 below zero weather, American Flying Fortresses with powerful fighter escort continued the aerial offensive against Adolf Hitler's Europe today by heaping more destruction on the German port of Bremen.

In the attack on Bremen and other targets 13 American heavy bombers and 18 fighter planes—16 of the latter American—were reported missing. Thirty-five German aircraft were shot down.

An indication that the R. A. F. was permitting no slack in the new aerial drive came tonight when the German dominated radio stations at Bremen, and towns in France, Luxemburg, and the Netherlands, faded from the air.

Berlin Radio Off Air.

Deutschlandsender, the big station in the Berlin area, also went silent, indicating that the R. A. F. again might be blasting smoking Berlin.

Under clouds of Thunderbolts and Lightnings, the Flying Fortresses made the 800 mile round trip to Bremen in the coldest weather in which American high altitude bombers ever have operated from Britain.

Capt. Morma L. Harvey of Canisteo, N. Y., said his bombardier had to scrape ice off the plexiglass nose of their plane while flying so he might see the target.

Ace Bags 12th Plane.

Capt. Walker M. Mahurin of Fort Wayne, Ind., the leading American ace in the European theater of operations, bagged another German plane—bringing his total to 12. The 24 year old pilot flies a Thunderbolt. On two occasions he has destroyed three planes on a single trip. His last "triple" was on the Bremen raid last Friday by American bombers.

Lt. Robert F. Hughes of Evansville, Ind., was the bombardier aboard the "Merry Widow" which was unable to reach its own base in England. It landed at another base with the propeller of one engine burned off, three other engines coughing from bullet holes, and with only five gallons of gas in its tanks.

LOSER OF WAR WILL CEASE TO EXIST—HITLER

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—The Berlin radio today broadcast a speech it said was made by Adolf Hitler nine days ago in which he told 2,000 young officers that "the nation that loses this war will cease to exist." "In this struggle only one ideology can win," he was quoted as saying. "The other will be destroyed mercilessly." Today's broadcast did not explain the delay in releasing the address.

"It would be madness to expect from this struggle anything but victory or annihilation," Hitler was quoted as saying. In contrast with his previous statements that Providence had helped Germany, the broadcast said: "As so often in the past, so today Providence will bestow no gifts on our nation in its struggle for freedom and its future."

Raising the possibility of German defeat, he said that if the allies won "then the barbarity of the steppes would sweep across the continent and destroy it as the base and source of human culture."

Allied Council on Italy Holds Its First Session

ALGIERS, Nov. 29 (AP).—The allied council on Italy, born of the Moscow conferences to coördinate the allied policy with regard to Italy, met today in advance of its first formal session scheduled for tomorrow. The council includes Robert D. Murphy, American minister to North Africa; Harold McMillan, British minister; Andrei J. Vishinsky, representing Russia, and the French committee's foreign commissioner, Rene Massigli.

CHICAGO OFFICER PULLS STINGERS FROM 16 BOMBS

AT AN UNCOMPLETED BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND [delayed] —(AP).—First Lt. Thomas H. Regan, 5528 S. Paulina street, Chicago, formerly a clerk in the office of the election commission, has been awarded the soldier's medal for a little job he did here.

A Flying Fortress, exploding above the field where Regan was an ordnance officer, dumped 16 live bombs over the countryside. Soldiers were sent out to mark their locations with flags, then Lt. Regan went from bomb to bomb removing their fuses so they wouldn't explode.

"I was only scared once," he said. "As I straddled one of the last bombs the whole fuse mechanism fell away. I couldn't move for a minute, and then I said to myself, 'Hell, if I'm still here to see that thing roll out, I'm still O. K.,' and I was."

Pope Will Broadcast on Christmas, Says Vichy

New York, Nov. 29 [Special]. — "Pope Pius XII. will make a speech on Christmas day on the occasion of a reception for the members of the Ecclesiastical college," the German controled Vichy radio said today. The speech will be broadcast to the world and "well informed circles believe he will deal with political and religious matters," Vichy added, quoting from a Turin, Italy, newspaper.

8TH ARMY DRIVE MAKES 2 DENTS IN NAZI DEFENSE

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Nov. 29 (AP).—Striking in a fierce night attack, the veteran British 8th army has slammed into the enemy's main defenses at two points across the Sangro river, gaining vantage points from which additional advances could make the entire Adriatic end of the German "winter line" untenable.

The Germans fought to hold heights commanding the enlarged allied bridgehead near the mouth of the Sangro, and to hold rising ground across the river from the village of Archi, 13 miles inland.

The combined weight of massed 8th army artillery, daylong bombings of their positions by clouds of allied planes, and the onslaught of British, New Zealand, and Indian troops under Gen. Montgomery, were too much for the Nazis, however, and official reports said the attack near the coast made "good progress."

Hold Valued High Ground.

In the bridgehead opposite Archi a day of seesaw fighting ended with Montgomery's warriors holding valued high ground on the northwest side of the river.

[Monday's German war bulletin said: "The enemy is approaching German positions on the northwestern edge of the Sangro river valley with powerful forces. British troops who infiltrated during the previous day were dislodged in a counterthrust, with the enemy sustaining big losses. Enemy prisoners were captured."]

West of Venafro, American troops of Lt. Gen Mark W. Clark's 5th army gained more high ground in a limited advance and broke up German counter-attacks and withstood heavy artillery fire. A headquarters bulletin said "valuable information" was being gathered by 5th army patrols penetrating enemy territory.

Fortify Road to Cassino.

Reconnaissance showed the Nazis still were working hard on their emplacements guarding the main road to Rome from Mignano thru Cassino.

Helping to cut the enemy's line of supplies from northern Italy, two British destroyers bombarded the Adriatic port of Civitanova, 85 miles up the coast from the Sangro. A British cruiser and destroyer also shelled the west coast of Italy in the Minturno area, just north of 5th army positions.

American Liberators flew into the Alps of northernmost Italy to bomb a railway viaduct and tunnel at Dogna, 60 miles north of Trieste, where the only direct railway from Germany, aside from the Brenner pass, enters Italy. Hits were reported on the mouth of the tunnel and on the viaduct.

CICERO AIRMAN, WOUNDED, KEEPS FIRING AT NAZIS

AT U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND [Delayed] (AP).—A painful wound in the thigh failed to stop Staff Sgt. Raymond F. Pencek of Cicero, Ill., from firing his top turret gun at persistent German fighter planes during the Oct. 8 raid on Bremen.

Shortly before reaching the target, a Nazi machine gun shell knocked Pencek out of his turret, but he hurried back and when the pilot asked if he were wounded, Pencek didn't answer. He stuck to his gun until his Flying Fortress was in safe territory, then let fellow crewmen give first aid.

The Illinoisan's commanding officer recommended him for a decoration for gallantry in action. [He is a son of Mrs. Anna Pencek of 2702 South 59th court, Cicero.]

CHICAGO YANK IN ITALY BILLETS WITH A COUSIN

Corp. Nero Gets Warm Welcome.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY NEAR VENAFRO, Nov. 28 [Delayed].—The American forces had just occupied this town as Corp. Fred Nero, 3002 Narragansett avenue, Chicago, strode down a shell torn street holding a slip of paper on which were some numbers. Finally he found a particular address and knocked.

Corp. Fred Nero.

A wide eyed Italian woman who had watched behind the curtains while the German troops hurried out of the town a few hours before, wondered perhaps before she opened the door what this new soldier would demand.

"I'm Fred Nero from Chicago," the corporal began.

Billeted with Cousin.

"Cousin Fred!" cried the woman joyfully, embracing him and pulling him into the house. "We've been wondering whether you would come."

That was the way Corp. Nero arrived at the threshold of a relative to whose home he was brought by the invasion of Italy. He is now billeted with the family of his cousin, as long as the fortunes of war permit him to remain in this locale, which is only 12½ miles from the birthplace of his grandparents and his father, James.

Proud of His Brother.

"They treat me like a king," said this 19 year old veteran of the African, Sicilian, and Italian campaigns. "We've been getting lots of shelling around their house. It seems like they feel better when I'm with them. They cry when I have to leave. After what I've told them about Chicago they want to visit there when this is over."

Nero's main job has been as an interpreter and spokesman for Americans.

He was more anxious to talk about his brother Al, who recently won the 118 pound boxing championship in a Catholic Youth organization tournament.

Chicagoan in R.C.A.F. Gets Distinguished Flying Cross

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 29 (AP).—The royal Canadian air force tonight announced the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Flying Officers J. W. Lauro of 6008 South Wood street, Chicago.

STEAL RUGS FROM PORCH.

Mrs. Louis Finkelstein told police last night that two rugs worth $205 were stolen from the rear porch of her apartment at 4530 Drexel boulevard.

SFORZA PARTIES DEMAND ITALY OUST KING NOW

NAPLES, Nov. 28 [Delayed] (AP).—The abdication of King Victor Emmanuel was demanded publicly for the first time today at a political meeting and Count Carlo Sforza, pre-Fascist foreign minister, asserted that the recent British reverse on the Island of Leros resulted from failure of Italian troops to fight under one of the king's generals regarded as a Fascist.

The meeting demonstrated for a republic. Sforza reiterated that the king must go if Italians are to be expected to participate effectively in the war against Germany.

Shout Against Regency.

The Christian Democrats and Liberals, both rightist groups, were absent from the demonstrations. The adherents of four other united front parties, however, left no doubt of their hostility to the king and even shouted down the venerable philosopher, Benedetto Croce, when he pleaded for a regency as a means of preserving the monarchy.

Sforza, who followed Croce on the rostrum, was cheered wildly when he said, "Italy can't hope to be respected or to respect herself unless she participates in this war. But the people won't fight as long as the king stays at the head of the government."

Can't Wait Until War Ends.

Reading what he said was an official statement about the loss of Leros being due to the failure of the Italians to fight, Sforza asked, "The king must go now and not later. We can't wait until the end of the war."

[A dispatch from another agency said that a petition to the allies, for which it is hoped to get at least 100,000 signatures in Naples alone, is being sponsored by the Italian Communist party. It asks allied authorities to permit anti-Fascist forces "to begin economic, political, and moral reconstruction of the country," and requests that deliberations of the Moscow conference be put rapidly into effect.]

Reports Nazi Air Troops Battle 'Rebels' in Italy

New York, Nov. 29 (AP). — The Stockholm newspaper Social Demokraten, in a dispatch from the Swiss-Italian border, said the Germans had thrown air borne troops and dive bombers against Italians waging "open rebellion" against the Nazis in northern Italy. "A battle is raging near Lake Maggiore," and hundreds are dying daily in the day and night fighting in Florence, said the dispatch as reported to the OWI today.

ILLINOIS YOUTH WINS 3D YEAR AT STOCK SHOW

Young Farmers Display Products of Skill.

BY BEN MARKLAND.

America's rising generation of farmers, the youngsters from 10 to 19 years of age who will assume leading roles in post-war agriculture, testified yesterday that they know all the secrets of producing the finest cuts of beef, pork, and mutton.

The witness stands from which they issued this testimony were the roughly boarded arenas of the sheep barns in the Chicago Stock yards. The youngsters, from 14 midwestern states, were exhibiting in the Market Fat Stock and Carlot competition, war time substitute for the huge International Livestock exposition that has thrilled Chicagoans since 1900.

The traditional scene of the livestock exposition, the International Amphitheater, is being used by the army, forcing the farm stock exhibitors to smaller outlying buildings.

Promise Bright Farm Future.

The boys who exhibited the three best steers in the junior feeding contest are samples of the 1943 farm youth who are in training as farm owners and supervisors.

There was T. Richard Lacy Jr., an Illinoisan of Kansas, Edgar county, softspoken, wide shouldered boy who plays left end on the Kansas High school football team. Richard duplicated his victories of 1942 and 1941 in the junior feeding contest with a Hereford steer, T. O. Monogram. Last year he won the junior event with T. O. Masterpiece, then went on to win the grand championship of the entire show with the same animal. He received $1 per pound for Masterpiece, adding $1,135 to his gross income of more than $19,000 in the last seven years. This afternoon Richard will go into the judging rings again with T. O. Monogram, his goal being a repetition of his 1942 grand championship.

Iowan Second to Lacy.

Runner-up to young Lacy's Hereford was a blocky, coal colored Aberdeen-Angus steer owned by John Oxley, 17, Marion, Ia. John and his brother, Meyer, 21, are orphans, their father having died in 1935 and their mother a year later. The two boys, left with a 255 acre farm, operated it with the help of a guardian for four years, then struck out for themselves.

The third best steer in junior competition was a shorthorn owned by Gerald Fairchild, 12, Sioux Rapids, Ia. Gerald's entry, Victor's Gift of Haigler II., was brought by Gordon, his 21 year old brother, but when Gordon enlisted in the navy last July Gerald took over the job of feeding, watering, and bedding the animal, between sessions with his seventh grade school books.

One of the most disappointed competitors in yesterday's show was Kenneth Disch, an 18 year old youngster of Evansville, Wis. Kenneth has been feeding and exhibiting Southdown and Shropshire sheep in 4-H competition for the last eight years. He set a new record for individual wins yesterday when three of his Southdowns won the junior pen championship for the fourth consecutive year.

But Kenneth, who just last week bought a $1,000 war bond with the profits of sheep sales, had his eye on the grand championship sheep award.

Boy's Ambition Thwarted.

However, when the judges examined the pens of three and the individual wethers, Kenneth's entries were classed as "reserve winners," just a nice way of placing them second. Southdown sheep owned and exhibited by Oklahoma A. & M. college won the championship for pens of three, and a Shropshire wether entered by the same school defeated Kenneth's best Southdown for the grand championship award.

These are only four of the middle western farm youngsters who won and lost with equal grace in yesterday's show. There were hundreds of others, girls as well as boys.

Two Illinois boys and a Wisconsin youngster won $200 college scholarships, given by Thomas E. Wilson, for having accomplished the best all around achievements in their junior agricultural activities.

These winners were Frank Snyder, Kirkland, Ill.; John H. Irwin, Pleasant Plains, Ill., and Wallace Feldt, Monticello, Wis. Alternates for the award were T. Richard Lacy Jr., Barbara Perkins, Greencastle, Ind., and James Hallar, Lafayette, Ind.

BIDDLE DEFENDS F.D.R. ACTION IN HOLDING LEPKE

Wants to Be Certain Slayer Will Die.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 [Special].—Failure of President Roosevelt and the justice department to commute a prison sentence against Louis [Lepke] Buchalter so the death penalty can be carried out against him in New York was defended today by Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle in a letter to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

The letter, which was made public here, said the attorney general is ready to ask the President to commute Buchalter's federal term as soon as New York state has indicated a readiness to execute the death penalty. Buchalter is serving a 14 year federal term on a narcotic charge.

Several Requests Made.

Gov. Dewey, who has twice postponed Buchalter's execution date and that of two associates who were convicted of murder with him in connection with the operations of "Murder, Inc.," has not returned from a Georgia vacation, upon which he left shortly after granting their last respite Nov. 20. In his absence his Albany office refused comment on Biddle's letter.

The New York governor has several times called on federal authorities to surrender Buchalter so the death penalty can be carried out.

In a statement which deferred the execution date from Dec. 2 to Jan. 6, the governor said, "I have twice respited the executions of Capone and Weiss [Louis Capone and Emanuel Weiss] because I will not consider their cases while the principal defendant is protected from punishment by the failure of the President of the United States to grant the customary conditional pardon."

Biddle's Position.

Biddle rebuked Dewey for "recent press announcements to the effect that the President has failed to make Louis Buchalter available to the authorities of the state of New York to be dealt with according to law."

Biddle took the position that no commutation should be granted by the federal government until New York clemency appeals by counsel for the convicted trio have been disposed of. He said the government will produce Buchalter for clemency proceedings if this is requested by Dewey, but suggested that in the event of a commutation of the death sentence Buchalter should serve his federal sentence before being surrendered to state custody.

Buchalter has frequently boasted that he will never be executed.

Armstrong to Outline Father Draft Deferment

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois selective service director, will discuss the state's father deferment system and related subjects at a luncheon meeting sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce war problem school Friday noon in the grand ballroom of the La Salle hotel. Col. Harris P. Ralston, deputy director and occupation adviser, will talk at 2:15 p. m. on employers' appeal procedures.

1,000 YOUTHFUL FOOD PRODUCERS DINE IN STYLE

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

In the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel, where hundreds of young soldiers recently were fed heartily as future members of the air forces, another youthful army whose work it is to raise food for the nation met last evening.

They were 1,000 4-H club members who are pledged to "clear thinking, greater loyalty, larger service, and better living for their clubs, communities, and country." As the 26th annual Thomas E. Wilson dinner, the meeting was a high point of the 22d annual and 2d wartime 4-H Club Congress.

The gilded elegance of the ballroom made an odd background for the clear-eyed, rosy-cheeked, farm youngsters in their casual clothes and pert 4-H overseas caps embellished with the 4-H shamrock and the victory symbol. But they clapped and shouted, sang and cheered with an enthusiasm appropriate to their wartime achievements.

Many in Services.

Despite the fact that there are 1,700,000 4-H club members thruout the country this year, 200,000 more than the previous season, many are absent. Some 750,000 former 4-H club members are now flying over Italy, wading thru the jungle islands of the South Pacific, and swabbing the decks of warships on the high seas.

One of the most distinguished of these was present, however. He is Capt. Thadd H. Blanton of Gainesville, Tex., 24 years old, a pilot on the Doolittle raid on Tokio who holds the distinguished flying cross, the air medal, and the Chinese military cross.

And there were many, too, who have won honors on the home front. Pretty Helen Louis Owings of Summerville, Ga., 17, was presented amid thunderous applause. Helen, individually, sold $699,000 in war bonds to win the junior war bond championship. "Every one responded so nicely," was her only explanation.

"In the last year 4-H club members have sold or purchased more than $25,000,000 worth of war bonds and stamps and have collected more than 300,000,000 pounds of scrap," Mr. Wilson told guests. "But the major contribution of the 4-H to the war effort has been in the production of food and fiber for the arsenal of democracy.

Work Is Lauded.

"During 1943, 4-H boys and girls grew more than 5,000,000 bushels of victory garden products and more than 12,000,000 pounds of peanuts, soybeans, and other legumes. They raised more than 9,000,000 chickens, turkeys, ducks, and geese; 600,000 head of meat animals, 90,000 head of dairy cattle, and canned 15,000,000 jars of perishable food. The record of what has been done here in America should suggest to various other nations and their leaders the possibilities which a similiar movement holds for their own young people and for the peace of the world."

In recognition of this work Mr. Wilson awarded three $200 college scholarships to the champion 4-H food producers of the nation. They are Keith McMillin of Lafayette, Ind., 17, central sectional winner, who has produced 19,766 pounds of meat animals; A. C. Newman of Bleecker, Ala., 18, southern sectional winner, whose total project work is valued at $11,620, and Benny Shader of Fort Collins, Colo., 18, western sectional champion, whose live stock has won him $419 in prizes.

"I'd like to be in the army," said Benny, an open-faced auburn haired youngster with large, capable hands. "But I guess the country needs me where I am."

DEAN AND 4 A.M. CALLER CHARGED WITH ADULTERY

William J. Freckelton, a teacher at the Chicago Vocational school, yesterday obtained warrants charging his wife, Jeanet, dean of girls at Lindblom High school, and Porter Craig, 14904 Marshfield avenue, Harvey, with adultery.

They were issued after a hearing in Women's court, where Mrs. Freckelton and Craig appeared to answer disorderly conduct charges growing out of the arrival of Freckelton, private detectives, and police at her apartment at 11253 Hermosa avenue at 4 a. m. Saturday. Craig was a visitor at the time. He said he had stopped for a cold turkey sandwich.

COP TESTIFIES SHOT FIRED AS HE STUMBLED

Joseph Murray and William Hogan, Sheffield avenue policemen on trial before Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court on a charge of shooting Howard Darnell, 22 years old, a navy inductee, in a tavern at 2430 North Clark street on Aug. 31, had visited four other taverns and a bowling alley earlier in the evening, Murray testified yesterday.

Under questioning by James M. Burke, defense attorney, Murray testified he shot Darnell as he stumbled while crossing the tavern floor with his revolver in his hand. At the time, he said, Darnell was advancing toward him in a threatening manner.

Other witnesses have testified that Darnell had his hands in the air at the time of the shooting.

CANADA BUYING LAND FOR VETS, FARM AIDS TOLD

100,000 Fighters May Get Tracts of Own.

Canada's program of land settlement for returned soldiers has advanced to the point where those in charge have created an effective organization to handle resettlement problems, and are buying land which will be held in reserve for veterans, Gordon Murchison of Ottawa, veterans' land settlement director, informed delegates to the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers in La Salle hotel yesterday.

Murchison said the dominion government, which does not own or control much agricultural land, is forced to buy land outright for cash in sufficient quantities to take care of probably 100,000 veterans. Including necessary chattels, the cost will mean a capital expenditure of about 400 million dollars, he said.

Part Time Farms, Too.

Full time farm operations will be confined to those veterans who have had practical farm experience, he said. But the veteran who has a trade or occupation other than farming, and who wishes to obtain small acreage and a good home outside the high taxation areas of large cities, will be given the opportunity at a cost of $2,500 to $4,000, he added.

"In the Land Veterans act provision is made whereby the state absorbs approximately 24 per cent of the cost of land and buildings, and conditionally absorbs the total cost of farm stock and equipment," said Murchison. "The maximum cost of land and buildings is $4,800, and the maximum for chattels is $1,200. Thus a maximum establishment requires a capital outlay of $6,000, of which the veteran subscribes a minimum of $480, or 10 per cent of the cost of land and buildings.

Assumes 53% of Debt.

"The formula for sale to a veteran is two-thirds of the cost price of land and buildings, and in the case of a maximum establishment, this leaves a balance of $3,200 payable by the veteran, with interest at 3½ per cent. In other words, his contract indebtedness represents about 53 per cent of the capital cost of land and chattels."

Conversion of war industries to the manufacture of civilian consumer goods at the end of the war will require two years or longer, Floyd W. Reeves, professor of administration and director of the rural education project, University of Chicago, told members of the society at a banquet last night.

Private Jobs Main Reliance.

"The main reliance for employment during that period must rest upon private industry," he asserted. "The federal government should foster a dynamic expansionary economy to make effective use of the nation's resources and productive capacities, and to include an extension of the programs of private industry. A program of public works and services immediately after the war should also be included."

A "back to the land" movement, which generally follows in the wake of wars, will be unworkable this time, said Reeves. "There should be no such project in the sense of a net movement of urban people to farms," he added. "For years agriculture has been an overmanned industry. It would be disastrous if it should be treated as a dumping ground for the industrial unemployed."

Leading agriculturists and live stock men will address the International Association of Fairs and Expositions which began a three day convention in Hotel Sherman. The organization represents 2,200 county and state fairs.

CORP. M'CARTHY KILLED IN ACTION IN PACIFIC AREA

Mrs. Grace McCarthy, 1419 North Monticello avenue, was notified by the war department yesterday that her son, Corp. Harry McCarthy, 23 years old, was killed in action Nov. 2 in the Southwest Pacific. McCarthy, who had served overseas for 22 months, was a graduate of the Ellen Mitchell school. Prior to entering the army he was an automobile salesman. He is survived by his mother and two brothers, Charles and George. His father, George McCarthy Sr., an employe of THE TRIBUNE, was killed eight years ago in an automobile accident.

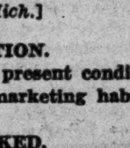
THE QUESTION.

In what way have present conditions changed your marketing habits?

WHERE ASKED.

Washington street and Wabash avenue.

THE ANSWERS.



Mrs. A. J. Monaco, housewife, 2053 Birchwood avenue—Before there were ration points, I bought what we needed when we needed it. Now I spend the points while they're still worth something. I find for the first time that I actually have a reserve supply of canned goods.

Mrs. Leon S. Guss, typist, 915 Carmen avenue—My days begin as they should now that I do my own marketing instead of having the things ordered and delivered. I go shopping the first thing, before the stores are too crowded, and while there is still a good selection left.

Mrs. Mathias A. Reisel, housewife, 2425 Dakin street—My marketing formerly consisted of ordering by telephone, but now I do my own shopping. I find that by looking around I'm reminded of different things, and serve a greater variety. Meal planning is much easier.

Mrs. Jack N. Mervis, housewife, The Oaks farm, Barrington—We live about three miles from town and always had taken a daily trip to market. Now, with less gas, we shop only two or three times a week. We take inventory more often and are more efficient buyers.

Mrs. Harry Sachs, housewife, 5458 Kenmore avenue—It used to aggravate me to wait in line while shopping, but I'm getting quite accustomed to it. I'm a much more patient shopper. Because I am compelled to take more time, I do a better job.

Mrs. J. A. Greaves, housewife, 820 Judson avenue, Evanston—A year ago, I seldom bothered about listing the things I needed, but bought as the demand arose. Now my marketing is planned. I think the menus have improved. I figure out in advance what I will have.

URGES U. S. DROP CANOL PROJECT FOR ALASKAN OIL

No Post-War Rights, Says Poulson.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Rep. Norris Poulson [R., Cal.] in a house speech today urged the army to abandon its 130 million dollar Canol oil project in Canada and turn over all usable equipment to the navy for developing Alaskan oil reserves.

Investigation of the Canol project by the senate Truman committee has disclosed the United States will have no post-war rights to the facilities it is constructing for 130 millions, of which 100 millions have already been spent. Poulson said the navy has large undeveloped oil reserves in Alaska, including an area of 35,000 square miles near Fairbanks.

Pushes Alaskan Oil.

"Why not concentrate on United States oil production in Alaska, instead of going into Canada?" Poulson asked. "This is a war between the United States and its enemies, not between the army and navy."

Poulson suggested that if the navy continues its "dilatory tactics" toward oil development, congress should make its Alaskan reserves a military reserve, available to both the army and navy.

Puts Part Blame on Navy.

Part of the responsibility for the army's embarking on the Canol project should rest with the navy, he said, because the navy was aware of the project and knew that "Canol reserves do not compare with naval reserve No. 4 in Alaska."

The California congressman said that "no competent oil man" recommended the Canol venture to Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the army service forces. Some of Gen. Somervell's friends, he added, are trying to blame the project on the general's subordinates but, Poulson said, if the responsibility is placed, it should be on "the man in charge of the department."

STEAL 8,500 POUNDS OF SUGAR.

A truck containing 8,500 pounds of sugar was stolen at 1015 South Western avenue, John Fricano, driver for the Star West Cartage company, 1239 Madison street, reported to police yesterday.

U.S. TREADS PATH TO IMPERIALISM, CANADIANS TOLD

Give Democracy New Life, Ex-Envoy Urges.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 29 [Special].—Further excerpts from a speech made Saturday by W. D. Herridge, former Canadian minister to the United States, were made public here today. Herridge spoke before guests at a dinner marking the centennial year of Ottawa's Lisgar Collegiate institute.

"We are a disunited people," Herridge said. "Sectional issues and those of class and race have shattered our frail autonomy. We have no positive, no constructive purpose and no zeal to put behind that purpose. We are passive and confused. But we are troubled and ready for a lead.

"Somehow, somewhere, we intend to move. But we don't know how or where. This means that we are potentially tributary, economically, socially, and politically, to any great power which could lay its hands on us—a contiguous power—however non-aggressive that contiguous power might be.

"Imperialism Is Routine."

"The United States is a great, contiguous power. But it may not be much longer a non-aggressive one. For I believe that the United States is making ready to embark upon a vast imperialist adventure. Not because the people desire it or because the administration or congress has declared for it. But because, in the present circumstances, imperialism is routine.

"If the United States pursues its imperialist way and if Canada continues on its passive way, then I believe that the absorption of this country by our good friend and neighbor is but a matter of time. And absorption is conquest in the most hateful meaning of that term. For if the United States were to imperialize Canada, that act would mark the end of freedom not only in Canada but in the United States as well. Because today, imperialism is, of course, just another name for fascism.

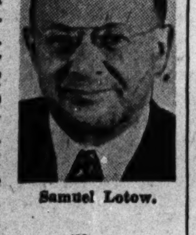
"People Do Not Understand."

"The United States is not irrevocably committed to imperialism. It is going the way of imperialism because the people do not understand that there is another, a better, a great, new democratic way.

"To swing America out of its prospective course more than words are needed. Deeds are needed. . . if at this time of crisis Canada could strike out a plan for the regeneration of democracy, if Canada could get behind that plan with fervor and intelligence and prove that it would work, then I believe it altogether possible that America might adopt that plan. For such a plan would flash upon the complex mind of America like a bright light upon the new road forward. It would be easy to follow that light."

JEWELRY THEFT SUSPECT NABBED FOR 43D TIME

Samuel Lotow, who has been arrested once for every year of his life—he is 43 years old—was held in $25,000 bond by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday on a charge of stealing $80,000 worth of jewelry from the Merbeler company of Pensacola, Fla. He pleaded not guilty, but waived extradition. His case will come up again Friday.



Samuel Lotow.

Lotow, whose home is in Somerville, Mass., was arrested in a near north side hotel Sunday night by agents under Spencer J. Drayton, chief of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation.

Drayton said Lotow stole the gems Oct. 5 after a short period of employment with the Merbeler company, expressed the loot to himself to Baltimore, Md., then drove to Baltimore in a stolen car. The FBI recovered the jewels before he could claim them, then trailed him to Chicago, where he had already found work in a pawnshop, said Drayton. Drayton said Lotow confessed stealing $250,000 worth of jewelry in the last 10 years. His practice, said Drayton, was to work for a jewelry house to win its confidence, then commit his theft. Drayton said Lotow was first arrested when he was 15, and has been arrested 42 times since.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

Widows, Lonely Men Offered in Ads.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 29.—"Young man, free in afternoons, seeks female diversion. Box 6847 Herald office."

This is a classified advertisment in the personal column of the Montreal Daily Herald. It's a jolly column, a relief from sordid Canadian stories of babies dying of malnutrition in Montreal nurseries, politicians, currying public favor with promises of post-war prosperity, radicals seeking to communize industry in Canada, and a rise in the infantile death rate resulting from an increase in illegitimate births.

Seeks Gay Companion.

"Visitor wishes gay female companion to make life interesting without financial gain; give phone," says another ad. True love for some girl with money is guaranteed in the following:

"Lonesome young man, good appearance, recently arrived in Montreal, wishes to meet an attractive girl or widow possessing some means; can promise sincerity and affection."

Not so promising of any culmination is the advertisment: "Shy, backward young lady desires meeting some young man of same type."

Other Invitations.

More lusty are the following samples:

Adventure for Evening.

"Would any reputable lady care to take a respectable man of 40 out for an evening?"

The personals, dominated by this type, run for about a column and a half. They are followed by a "medical" classification in which four doctors advertise as genitourinary experts, and a fifth asks readers to come to him for medicine, surgery, and maternity cases.

AUSTRALIA PAYS 315 MILLION FOR U. S. LEND-LEASE

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 29. (AP).—Prime Minister John Curtin announced today that Australia had spent a total of 78,800,000 pounds [$315,000,000] on reciprocal lend-lease for the United States up to Aug. 31.

Present trends and heavy commitments indicate the estimated 100,000,000 pounds budgeted for 1943-'44 might be exceeded. Reciprocal lend-lease for 1942-'43 was 11.4 per cent of total Australian internal war expenditure.

Curtin said additional services were rendered by Australia which could not be expressed in money. Some projects were for joint use of Australian and American forces.

WILEY URGES SYSTEM FOR PLACING VETS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Sen. Alexander Wiley [R., Wis.], asserting that congress cannot discharge its obligation to service men with monetary grants, today proposed a system of employment placement under the supervision of the veterans' administration, be set up to insure work for veterans.

"We will be letting down" the returning veterans if "we give them a hundred of two hundred" and go no further, he said. Under his proposal each member of the army or navy would fill out a questionnaire on his pre-service and service record, and his qualifications and desires for future employment.

After being discharged, service personnel would consult with an "employment expert" of the veterans' administration, and thru its facilities and those of federal and state bodies in coöperation the representative would aid in obtaining a job for the returning veteran. Wiley said he has written Wisconsin manufacturers seeking coöperation in setting up lumber camps immediately for returning soldiers so they could help the pulp paper industry.

Fort Sheridan Sergeants Cook Without Shortening

Resourceful mess sergeants at Fort Sheridan are getting along without shortening these days by rendering the fats from most of the meat they prepare and using it in place of shortening. They are allowed four and a half pounds of shortening per 100 men a month but 75 per cent are not drawing the ration and the remainder soon will be able to get along without it. When the rendered grease no longer is usable for cooking it goes to the fats and salvage for war uses.

LAUD C.A.P. CREWS FOR SUCCESS IN RESCUE MISSION

Flyers of the Civil Air Patrol, squadron 613-3, were commended yesterday for skill in Sunday's flights in a search and rescue mission problem. Thirty pilots and observers prowled the skies over southwest Chicago, hunting two cars in a 25 mile radius from Rubinkam, Washington Park, and Howell airports. The cars were draped with C. A. P. emblems and simulated wrecked aircraft. More than one-third of the flyers located the objectives, one of the most difficult of aerial feats. The Civil Air Patrol units, now a part of the army air forces, will work on a new problem next Sunday. This will require finding, within a given time limit, a point described only by longitude and latitude.

Tricks Soldier's Mother to Get Suit and Overcoat

Englewood police last night sought a Negro who appeared at the home of Mrs. Amanda Henderson, 5547 La Salle street, and obtained a suit and overcoat belonging to her son, Joseph, 34, now in the army, saying Joseph had written him, asking him to pick up the clothing to be cleaned. They said he had obtained clothing at other homes by a similar ruse.

TELLS FAMILIES OF WAR MAIMED TO EXPECT SHOCK

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 29.—American families must prepare themselves for the shock of seeing many of their men folk return from the war wounded and maimed, Col. Joseph I. Martin of Evanston, Ill., surgeon of the 5th army in Italy, cautioned today

Col Joseph I. Martin.

Martin pointed out that proportionately there are more invalided soldiers in this war than the last because the lives of badly injured men are being saved, whereas in the past they would have died.

Martin, who headed the medical corps replacement center at Camp Grant, Rockford, for 28 months, said the efficiency of army surgeons has been greatly increased. But they are not miracle workers and can only do their utmost to preserve lives and prevent permanent disability.

"War Not Over with Armistice."

"The point must be brought home emphatically," Martin stated, "that an unfortunate psychological shock awaits many families in the United States who after the war must give sympathy and consideration to invalids.

"The war won't be over with the signing of the armistice for the disabled soldier. These men whose lives we are saving will be soldiers as long as they live. Their fight will only begin after their discharge from service. This is the sad part of our victory and people must expect to see it."

New Devices Add to Wounds.

The number of soldiers mutilated is increased by the enemy's use of mines, booby traps, and bombs exploding in the air. Frequently amputations are necessary. The death percentage from these types of wounds is being steadily lowered.

Col. Martin is a veteran of the first World war. He was commissioned a first lieutenant in 1918 and has served in the regular army ever since. He was stationed for several years in the Philippines and Panama and was promoted to colonel on March 8, 1942, while at Camp Grant.

A. P. Correspondent Hurt by Bomb Gets Medal

SOUTH PACIFIC HDQ., Nov. 29 (AP).—Rembert James, Associated Press war correspondent, was awarded the Purple Heart today for injuries suffered on Bougainville Island. He was the first correspondent decorated by Adm. William F. Halsey's South Pacific command. James suffered a ruptured ear drum, arm abrasions, and shapnel wounds Nov. 7 from a Japanese bomb.

WLB PROHIBITS UNION COERCION IN LABOR PACTS

Member Maintenance Clause Altered.

WAR WORKERS' LETTERS

The Tribune's contest for war workers suggestions closed at midnight Sunday. Letters mailed before that time were duly entered. Beginning next Sunday The Tribune will print one prize winning letter daily.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

In an order issued by Robert K. Burns, regional chairman, the war labor board yesterday told labor unions and their officers that henceforth unions and their members "shall not intimidate or coerce employes into joining or continuing their membership" in such organizations.

The order is in the form of a clause which will be inserted in all future contracts between unions and managements. It goes into effect tomorrow and takes the place of a so-called "union security clause" in which unions were pledged not to coerce workers into joining them.

Provide "Escape" Period.

In addition to prohibiting coercion and intimidation, the new maintenance of membership clause [if admitted into a contract by the WLB] sets up a 15 day "escape" period. During this period an employe may join the union or resign from it, or retain his status as a member or a nonmember. If at the end of the 15 day period he is a union member, he has obligated himself to remain a member in good standing for the duration of the contract—usually for the period of a year.

Under the new clause, "a union member found to be delinquent in his dues is given a hearing before a joint committee of union and management representatives." If he makes no defense to the charge, he has a 30 day suspension period in which to restore himself to good standing before the union may request his discharge. Formerly, the company was obligated to fire him on demand by the union if his dues were alleged to be unpaid.

Affects Big War Plants.

Attaches of the labor board said the new clauses will go into whatever contracts are made by the employes in the Douglas Aircraft company's Chicago plant, who hold their bargaining agency election tomorrow, and in those negotiated by employes of the Dodge Chicago plant of the Chrysler corporation, and the Bendix Aviation corporation west side factory, who hold their elections soon.

Thousands of men and women at the Douglas plant in Park Ridge will ballot under the supervision of Frank Kleiler and Stanley Leibling, field examiners for the national labor relations board.

Thousands of production and maintenance employes will cast their ballots for the AFL International Association of Machinists or the CIO United Automobile Workers' union, or for neither. Smaller groups, such as the carpenters, plumbers and steamfitters, and electricians, will have the right to vote for their AFL craft union or either of the other organizations as their bargaining agent.

Should a majority of the employes vote for none of the unions, there would be no official union bargaining agency in the plant.

UAW to Probe Charges.

Joseph Matson, regional director of the UAW-CIO, announced that he had requested the UAW international union office at Detroit to send to Chicago a three man investigation committee to investigate charges made several weeks ago by loyal American workers in the Chicago Studebaker plant.

Matson would not say what the charges were nor would he admit that any of the recent revelations of THE TRIBUNE were included in the charges. He said that the revelations were "indirectly included in the charges."

Matson explained that the three man committee is a permanent feature of the UAW international set up to investigate and hear all sides of a dispute. It is known that the right wing members of this UAW-CIO local in the Studebaker plant have been anxious to get rid of Communist domination and that the international union was investigating the local, which has been described as a "thorn in the international's side."

The labor committee of the Communist party yesterday issued a statement attacking THE TRIBUNE for its recent exposures of conditions in the Studebaker war plant. It also said:

"It is necessary to declare openly that members of the Communist party are an integral and vital part of the working class and its trade union movement in Chicago and thruout the nation."

Labor leaders pointed out that Communists thus sought to justify the fact that officers of Studebaker local 998, composed entirely of employes at the war plant, are Communists, altho the constitution of the UAW-CIO, according to R. J. Thomas, its president, prohibits Communists, Fascists, or Nazis from holding any offices, either elective or appointive, in the organization.

FAVOR REHIRING INTERN OUSTED IN TYLER DEATH

Reinstatement of Dr. George M. Whitacre, County hospital intern who was suspended after admitting knowledge of the altering of hospital records in the Marjorie Tyler suicide case, will be recommended tomorrow when the executive staff of the County hospital convenes, Dr. Ole C. Nelson, medical director, said yesterday.

Dr. Whitacre was relieved of duty when it was disclosed that illness charts had been changed to make Miss Tyler's death from gas asphyxiation appear to have been due to natural and other causes. Miss Tyler was taken to the hospital on Nov. 10 by Dr. Victor G. Lands, employed at the Wesley hospital.

Dr. Lands, a former intern at the County hospital, confessed altering the records to save the girl's family from the scandal of suicide. The action of both doctors is being studied by the state department of registration and education to determine whether they are guilty of malpractice. Results of their findings are expected to be made known later this week.

SHIP WORKERS' FRAUDS PROBED BY GRAND JURY

Boston, Mass., Nov. 29 (AP).—The federal grand jury today began an investigation of what United States Atty. Edmund J. Brandon said was apparently a wholesale attempt by employes to defraud the government on work being done at the Bethlehem-Hingham Shipbuilding yard.

The prosecutor said scores of workers including foremen, timekeepers, and laborers were involved. The grand jury action followed investigation by the federal bureau of investigation of reports of false pay roll computations.

Brandon, citing examples, said one man did not report for work for 11 days but drew full pay after a foreman had signed the pay roll for him. Another man was absent 22 days in a five month period, Brandon added, but he, too, received full pay by the same method.

The United States attorney said the firm was coöperating in efforts to stop the practice.

PARTS DIVISION AT REMINGTON'S SEIZED BY NAVY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 [Special].—Mystery tonight surrounded seizure by the navy of the "N" division of the Remington-Rand company's Elmira plant at Southport, N. Y.

The navy took over on an executive order from President Roosevelt stipulating that the plant will be turned back to the company within 60 days after the President determines that it will be operated privately in a manner consistent with the war effort.

Charge Production Lags.

No explanation for the Presidential action was forthcoming except a navy statement that production was lagging "far behind schedule" and was of unsatisfactory quality. Remington-Rand officials immediately branded the statement "manifestly unfair" but pledged continued coöperation.

The product of the "N" division was described by the navy as "an important war item." The plant, operating under a navy contract and using tools and equipment owned by the navy, has been turning out parts used by Carl L. Norden, Inc., New York City, manufacturer of bombsights and other precision instruments.

A statement issued by Remington-Rand in New York asserted that "95 per cent of the production" at the "N" division plant has been passed and accepted by naval inspectors.

Deny Schedules Fixed.

"The inference that the plant is behind schedule is unjust as there never has been a schedule described in the contract or otherwise," the statement said.

The navy said wages and other working conditions will remain unchanged under navy operation. Rear Adm. Harold G. Bowen, special assistant to the undersecretary of the navy, was placed in charge of the division and the Norden firm was designated as manufacturing agent for the navy.

CHURCHES ASKED TO STRIVE FOR RACIAL AMITY

Racial tension in Chicago was discussed yesterday by a group of ministers at the Central Y. M. C. A., 19 South La Salle street, under the auspices of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago. A. L. Foster of the Chicago Urban league said the tension points in the city were found in housing, employment, recreation, health, and schools.

Dr. J. Harry Cotton, chairman of the inter-racial commission of the federation, urged that churches form groups to work for better coöperation among races.

SHIPPING BOARD SPURNS THREAT BY AFL SEAMEN

Insists on Enforcing Medical Tests.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 [Special].—Charging that the Seafarers' International union and the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, west coast AFL organizations, had defied a new medical examination requirement, the war shipping board today said it is prepared to sail ships with or without the coöperation of those unions.

Capt. Edward Macauley, deputy war shipping administrator, made public a letter from Harry Lundeberg of San Francisco, president of the SIU and secretary treasurer of the SUP, which said "our organization will absolutely and definitely not coöperate in this respect." Lundeberg asserted he represented 40,000 seamen.

Medical Tests Required.

Macauley said the controversy is over a WSA order calling for periodic medical examinations for all seamen to protect crew members and army and navy personnel against communicable disease. He said at a press conference he interpreted Lundeberg's refusal of coöperation as a threat to strike. He added, "We have the men available to sail the ships and will use them if a strike is called."

In his letter to Macauley, Lundeberg branded the WSA proposal as a plot to eliminate the seamen's unions and replace them with new men. He contended the present health examinations are sufficient.

Clashed with Bridges.

Lundeberg, as the AFL west coast ruler of maritime labor, has engaged in frequent clashes with Harry Bridges, alien head of the CIO longshoremen and CIO director for California. Lundeberg's SIU is a rival of the CIO National Maritime union. At deportation proceedings against Bridges, Lundeberg testified for the government that Bridges had admitted membership in the Communist party.

Macauley disclosed that he sent Lundeberg a telegram announcing that the refusal to comply with the medical order "will not be tolerated."

In San Francisco Lundeberg told reporters his unions would "keep on sailing—we have as much at stake in this war as some of these useless bureaus at Washington."

Wife Sues Artist for Son, Support, and Real Estate

Mrs. Julia Seyffert, 24 years old, 1328 East 57th street, filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday in Superior court against Leopold Seyffert Jr., 28, of 4 East Ohio street, a portrait painter. She charges that Seyffert, to whom she was married at Elkton, Md., in 1938, deserted her Jan. 3. She asks $125 a week alimony and custody of their son, Peter, 4. Full title to real estate at Lake Bluff, now held jointly, also is asked because, Mrs. Seyffert alleges, she supplied most of the money for its purchase.

48 HOUR WEEK CLAMPED ON 25 INDIANA AREAS

William H. Spencer, regional war man power commission director, yesterday extended the 48 hour work week to 23 Indiana counties and parts of two others in that state. He also announced that important areas in Illinois and Wisconsin, including Rockford, Moline, and Milwaukee, are being considered for the extended week.

The Indiana counties affected are Union, Wayne, Rush, Fayette, Howard, Grant, Blackford, Jay, Delaware, Randolph, Henry, La Porte, Pulaski, Starke, Benton, Carroll, Clinton, Montgomery, Tippecanoe, White, Cass, Fulton, and Miami; eight townships of Fountain and six townships of Warren.

Union and Wayne counties embrace the Muncie area, parts of which previously were placed in the No. 1, or critical, labor supply classification, carrying a mandatory 48 hour week.

Deadline Set At Jan. 1.

Spencer set Jan. 1 as the compliance deadline for his latest 48 hour week order. When he ordered the longer week for Chicago last Friday, he selected Jan. 16 as the effective date. The shorter compliance period for the two Indiana counties was attributed to a more critical labor supply situation.

The other areas included in the order are South Bend-La Porte-Michigan City, and Lafayette-Logansport. The compliance deadline for these areas is Jan. 16.

Spencer announced that labor market areas under consideration for the 48 hour week are Rockford, Springfield-Decatur, Moline, Waukegan, and Freeport in Illinois, and Milwaukee, Kenosha, Beloit-Janesville, and Madison-Merrimac in Wisconsin. In view of the rapid extension of the 48 hour week in this region, WMC officials believed that these areas will have the longer week within a few days and that compliance will be ordered effective within six weeks.

Wage Policy Discussed.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon, members of the regional war labor board discussed a policy to be adopted by employers in paying additional wages for workers under the 48 hour week. The board is expected to adopt a procedure whereby employers who must obtain WLB approval for overtime pay may make such payments without going thru the present formalities for obtaining approval.

All employes under the wages and hours act producing for interstate commerce and those whose union contracts call for overtime pay must be paid time and one-half for all hours worked over 40 in a seven day period. Those who are not in these categories may receive "straight" time only for extra hours and cannot be paid overtime without WLB permission.

Spencer said employers in 48 hour week areas should take no steps toward compliance until they had received instructions and forms from the WMC. Forms for Chicago firms will be mailed late this week. Spencer also emphasized that no employes may be released until approval is given by the WMC.

Call 15 More to Testify in Fake Liquor Shortage

J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, yesterday announced that 15 additional subpenaes have been issued in connection with the federal grand jury investigation into an alleged conspiracy to create an artificial liquor shortage here. The new subpenaes bring to 43 the number of persons ordered to appear before the jury.

LAKE DIVERSION BILL ACTION PUT OFF TO JANUARY

Hull Opposes Granting of Chicago Needs.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Rep. Joseph J. Mansfield [D., Tex.] made public today communications from Secretary of State Cordell Hull expressing state department opposition to pending legislation authorizing an increase to 5,000 cubic feet per second of waters diverted from Lake Michigan into the Calumet river near Chicago, and transmitting objections of the Canadian government to the proposal.

Following recent hearings on the legislation, offered by Rep. Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.], Mansfield, as chairman, announced that further consideration by the house rivers and harbors committee would be postponed until January.

Defers to Canada.

The quantity of water now allowed to be taken from Lake Michigan totals 1,500 feet for navigation purposes. Under the proposal, advocated to carry away increased war plant pollution and human waste, the amount diverted into the Calumet river would be increased by 3,500 cubic feet per second.

Secretary Hull in a letter to Mansfield, said:

"The existing diversion from Lake Michigan at Chicago was authorized by the Supreme court of the United States. If there is an emergency situation which necessitates a further diversion of water for sanitary purposes, it is my view that an application in this sense should be made to the Supreme court in the regular manner.

"I am not willing to state, however, that procedure along this line would obviate Canadian objection as the Canadian government noted thru its representation in Washington that a similar bill introduced in March, 1942, alleged that an emergency of this kind existed then.

Asked to End Pollution.

"In view of the foregoing considerations and in the interests of our relations with Canada, I find it necessary to convey an adverse opinion on the proposed bill."

Hull sent to Mansfield a copy of a letter from the Canadian legation in which opposition of the Canadian government to the diversion proposal was outlined. It stated:

"The Canadian government is of the opinion that adoption of such a resolution would have an adverse effect upon navigation in the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence, and would impair the power potentialities of the Niagara and St. Lawrence rivers."

DELEGATION HALTED.

Four members of the Chicago delegation, who expected to testify today before the house rivers and harbors committee at Washington, were seated on a train in the Chicago Union station yesterday when word of postponement of the diversion bill hearings reached the city hall.

They were Willis W. Deberard, city engineer, John R. Baylis, city water purification engineer, Horace P. Ramey, assistant engineer for the sanitary district, and Ernst Buehler, sanitary district attorney.

Loran D. Gayton, assistant city engineer who received the notice of postponement from Rep. William A. Rowan, rushed by cab to the depot.

FURNITURE STORE ROBBED.

Theft of four rugs valued at $100 and $3 in cash from the Normal Furniture store at 6049 South Halsted street was reported to police yesterday by Saul Hayman, the manager.

OPA WILL HIRE 800 AGENTS FOR SNOOPING POSTS

Charges that manufacturers and wholesalers have failed to observe price ceilings and other office of price administration regulations were made yesterday by Chester Bowles, national OPA administrator, in announcing that 800 more expert paid investigators would be put to work, probably more than 100 of them in Chicago.

Bowles said in Washington, D. C., that the OPA had received numerous complaints from price panels—voluntary investigators—that merchants said they were unable to sell at ceiling prices because of illegal prices charged by wholesalers and manufacturers. One of the "biggest enforcement problems" right now, he said, is clothing.

Bowles revealed that he now has 2,200 so-called snoopers. Additional agents, paid $1,600 to $2,000 a year, will make the total 3,000. The announcement followed by a week the statement that more than 600 paid price panel clerks would be added to the regional pay roll.

WIFE ASKS HUNT FOR MATE, WAR BONDS AND CASH

Police yesterday were seeking Frank Mazak, 56 years old, a machinist, who on Wednesday left his home at 3854 Diversey avenue and failed to return to his wife, Lottie, 50. Mrs. Mazak told police that her husband took along $4,150 in war bonds, issued in his name, and had withdrawn $2,200 from their joint banking account. Mrs. Mazak, who has two children by a former marriage, said the money represented proceeds from the sale of their farm near Michigan City, Ind. At the Triplex Corporation of America, 2403 North Oakley avenue, Mazak's employers said he had not reported for work since Nov. 21, three days before his disappearance.

ALLMAN CALLED TO EXPLAIN SNAG IN GAMING DRIVE

Jury Eyes Return of 5 Captains to Duty.

and forty minutes with the grand jury. The last previous time that he was in the jury room he promised to take action against those who had failed in their duty.

The jury issued a summons for Earl Downs, assistant corporation counsel assigned to the task of preparing the charges against the policemen. He is to appear today, it was said, to explain why it takes so long to get his legal documents in order, and to answer a question Allman couldn't answer. The question is whether the men will be suspended again after formal charges are filed against them. The jurors also want to know whether the policemen received pay for the time they were off and if they will be paid while they are on trial.

Capt. Frank Malone and Detective George Gore, attached to Chicago Lawn station until their suspension and indictment a month ago, yesterday asked a continuance in their trial on a charge of conspiracy. They were given until Dec. 10 to file preliminary motions, after which a trial date will be set.

Lt. Myles McDonough and Policeman Philip Schwartz, members of the county highway police force until their suspension and indictment in connection with a raid on a gambling resort at 7466 Irving Park road, were granted a continuance until Dec. 6.

State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney said his office will be ready for early trials against all those indicted during the gambling investigation.

DISMISSAL PLEA IN RACKET TRIAL DENIED BY COURT

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—Federal Judge John Bright today denied motions for the dismissal of indictments against the seven remaining defendants standing trial on charges of conspiracy to extort more than a million dollars from the film industry. Six of the defendants are Chicagoans.

Court was adjourned until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow after Judge Bright had announced his decision on the motions.

The defendants are Louis Kaufman, business agent for the Newark local of the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, and Philip D'Andrea, Francis Maritote, Louis Campagna, Charles Gioe, Paul De Lucia, and John Roselli, whom the government describes as members of a Chicago syndicate.

QUIRK CASE SET; CHIEF WITNESS FOR STATE ILL

Trial of John J. Williams, John Wright, and Anthony De Lordo, charged with the murder of Martin Quirk, south side gambler, was set for tomorrow by Judge Harold G. Ward in the Criminal court, but shortly afterward it was reported that the state's chief witness, James Egan, was threatened with an attack of appendicitis.

Dr. Emanuel Padnos, physician for the state's attorney's office, examined Egan, who also is under indictment for the Quirk killing, and said last night he appeared improved. He will examine Egan again today.

An operation would delay the trial four to five weeks. Egan has confessed participation in the Quirk slaying, and has named the others. De Lordo also reputedly confessed, but is expected to repudiate the confession during the trial. Meantime, pending definite announcement relating to Egan, the trial will remain on schedule for tomorrow.

INQUEST AT 9:30 TOMORROW IN KNIFER'S DEATH

A coroner's inquest will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in the county morgue into the death of Nick Bruno, 26 years old, 1415 Clybourn avenue, who was shot by a policeman Sunday night on a surface lines car near Oak street.

Bruno, who was unemployed and classified 4-F by his selective service board because of ill health, was terrorizing passengers and the crew with a knife when killed by Policeman Ambrose Mahoney. The policeman had cornered Bruno on the front platform, and ordered him to drop the knife, but Bruno rushed toward him.

Before he boarded the street car, Bruno had chased his sister, Angeline, 29, into the street in front of their home in a fury because she refused to give him money. Frank C. Guagliardo, 60, of 1831 Larrabee street, a passerby, was cut over the right eye. He went home yesterday from Grant hospital.

Passes Street Car, Hits Auto; Loses Driving Right

Robert Piazcenza, 18 years old, 329 North Homan avenue, was deprived of driving privileges until July 18, 1944, by Judge N. J. Bonelli in Boys' court yesterday, on a charge of passing a street car on the left side and crashing into an approaching car.

TINY WIRE PUTS WAR FRONTS ON FIRESIDE RADIOS

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The magnetic wire recorder, developed by the Armour Research foundation of Chicago, is solving the problem of front line radio reporting where transmitters are not available. Col. Edward M. Kirby, chief of the radio branch of the army's bureau of public relations, revealed the fact yesterday to several hundred educators attending the school broadcast conference in the Morrison hotel.

The compact magnetic wire device records sound on a steel wire as thin as a human hair. It can be played back immediately without the processing required of records.

Col. Kirby said the field set operates on 110 watt alternating current and can be powered by a plane, jeep, sometimes by landing barges, and by batteries.

A master recorder, which has immediate playback and erasure features, and weighing 46 pounds, records 66 minutes of sound on a spool of wire weighing about a quarter of a pound. The spool fits into a box no thicker than a double decker sandwich. A pilot can slip it into his pocket, without packaging or breakage problems, and fly it back to the nearest transmitter, Col. Kirby said. There it can be edited, promptly, rerecorded if necessary, and put on the air.

DIES OF THROAT TROUBLE.

Mrs. Mary Katsiavos, 60 years old, 770 Vernon Park place, died yesterday in Grant hospital of an abscessed throat.

HE DIDN'T KNOW HOW TO BUY OUT HIS PARTNER

THE opportunity was there, all right. The business was making money . . . big money . . . and E. W.'s partner had reached the age when he wanted to retire.

But the cash needed would have to be borrowed . . . at least most of it. The usual borrowing channels were available. But E. W. knew that if he had to repay a loan within six months or a year, it would have to be at the expense of his business.

The alternative was to get the money from a friend. But this would mean that he would have to share the business. He didn't want a new partner. Yet to buy outright and operate safely, he needed permanent money or its equivalent.

Money from Walter E. Heller & Company solved the problem.* In a strict sense it was borrowed money. Yet in a practical sense it wasn't—because under ordinary conditions, it would not have to be repaid except at E. W.'s convenience, out of profits. In effect, it served as capital money.

True, assets had to be pledged as security; and the charges were higher than interest on temporary bank loans. But there was no interference with all-important working cash. And, as compared with the cost of sharing his profits with others, the price was surprisingly low.

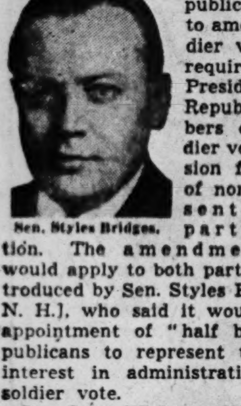
DEMOCRATS TRIP G. O. P. PLANS ON SOLDIER VOTING

F. D. R. Would Have Full Control of Board.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Sen. Styles Bridges.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Democrats of the senate late today beat down a Republican attempt to amend the soldier vote bill to require that the President select Republican members of the soldier vote commission from a list of nominees presented by the party organization. The amendment, which would apply to both parties, was introduced by Sen. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.], who said it would prevent appointment of "half baked" Republicans to represent the party's interest in administration of the soldier vote.

Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], one of the sponsors of the vote bill, argued any such limitation on the appointive powers of the President in regard to the soldier vote commission would be a reflection on the President's integrity. He mustered 33 votes to tie the 28 Republicans and the five Democrats who voted for the Bridges amendmnt.

Revival Due Today.

The tie vote meant temporary defeat for the amendment, but it will be considered again tomorrow on a motion by Sen. Raymond E. Willis [R., Ind.], who was absent when the roll was called today. Reconsideration of the vote would have been accomplished today except that Sen. Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], majority leader, succeeded in a motion to have the senate proceed to executive business, under which order the bill under consideration, or its amendments, could not be discussed. The vote on Barkley's motion was 43 to 29.

After the defeat of the Bridges amendment Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] introduced an amendment to require a two-thirds vote for senate consent to the President's appointments to the commission. The bill would require approval by a majority vote. The Vandenberg amendment temporarily was withdrawn to allow reconsideration tomorrow of the Bridges amendment, but will be recalled if the Bridges amendment is beaten, which is expected.

Barkley Balks Vandenberg.

Vandenberg said several senators on the Democratic side had given assurance they would not vote to ratify any Republican appointment made by the President which does not meet with approval of the Republican leadership. With this assurance, Vandenberg said the provision that a two-thirds vote would be required should meet Democratic approval.

It didn't. Sen. Barkley immediately raised a constitutional objection, which will be thrashed out when the amendment is called.

Senators from poll tax states continued their opposition to the bill on the ground that it abrogates states' rights. Under the bill no state would be allowed to collect poll taxes from soldiers voting under the provisions, the opposition says. The bill provides for voting by secret air mail ballot. The commission would work in coöperation with the army and navy in administering the act.

GEORGIA COUNTY VOTES TODAY ON '44 PREFERENCE

Donalsonville, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP).—The Seminole county Democratic executive committee has called a Presidential preferential primary for tomorrow, probably the first to held in the country.

The county was the first to hold such balloting in 1936 and 1940 and favored President Roosevelt. Ellison Dunn, chairman of the Roosevelt committee, predicted the vote again would favor Roosevelt. His committee has issued automobile stickers proclaiming "Roosevelt for fourth term."

The ballot says:

"If you favor a fourth term for President Roosevelt, vote for fourth term. If you oppose his reëlection vote against fourth term. "If Roosevelt is not your choice for the Presidency, write below the name of your choice."

There are approximately 2,200 qualified voters in the county.

Annulment Fight

MRS. MURIEL GODAR.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
PVT. JAMES B. GODAR.

A cabled plea from Pvt. James Bruce Godar, thousands of miles away in New Guinea, yesterday urged Judge Robert J. Dunne of Circuit court not to set aside Godar's marriage to Murial Vial Godar, 17 years old, who also begged the judge not to annul the union.

"I cannot defend myself while here," Godar, who is 20, cabled Atty. Irving W. Eiserman, representing his wife. "Pray do all you can to save my marriage."

Mrs. Godar told Judge Dunne she and Godar were childhood sweethearts when they lived near La Grange. They were married last April 22, when she went to Oklahoma to visit him in camp. She is now attending Lyons Township High school and is "assistant cook" in a home near Hinsdale. She said her father, Paul Vial of La Grange, filed the annulment suit despite her protests. Godar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Godar of La Grange, are not opposed to the marriage.

RUMOR OF TRUCE WITH COURTNEY SPIKED BY KELLY

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

If there's anything that travels faster than a war rumor it's a political rumor. But the big difference is that the political rumor has a better chance of being believed, it appeared last night after a day during which political rumors were thicker than ants at a picnic.

One rumor widely published said that Mayor Kelly, leader of the Democratic organization in Cook county, and State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney had buried the hatchet. Because this hatchet had kept a pretty sharp edge for eight years that seemed to be important news.

But stockholders in this particular rumor had no dividends in sight last night. Its assets were found to have been watered more than prohibition whisky.

How Rumor Got Under Way.

It all happened this way:

Mayor Kelly decided to take Mrs. Kelly, a hard worker in the service men's center, to Florida for a week's rest. Before going he decided it would be well to call in the 13 members of the advisory subcommittee of the county central committee to take a look at the score.

They talked about political conditions generally, and the resurgent strength of the Republicans.

"Of course, everybody wanted harmony," said the mayor last night, speaking from Miami Beach. "They have faith in the Democratic party and want to keep it a winning organization. But there was no mention of Courtney or any other individual."

One member, President Clayton F. Smith of the county board, explained that he was anxious to have the board carry out its duty of appointing a sheriff to succeed the late Peter B. Carey. He said he had been "exploring" and thought that Martin H. Kennelly would be a good man for the job.

"No Politics in It": Kelly

"Kennelly's all right," said Mayor Kelly, who has been friendly with him for years. "What we want to do is find a man who will be good for the people and who will reflect credit on the party. There's no politics in it as far as I'm concerned."

There were comments that the mayor should steer the course as to filling the vacancy and after more general conversation the meeting held Saturday broke up.

But it also happens that Kennelly is the close friend and perhaps the most important supporter of State's Atty. Courtney. So by the time the not surprising indorsement of Kennelly by Mayor Kelly had passed thru several mouths, it had become news in headlines printed in scare type: "KELLY, COURTNEY BURY HATCHET."

Not Chummy, Politically.

This did not change the fact that Kelly and Courtney still are neither personally nor politically chummy, altho in 1944, as in past election years, it is likely that they both will be found pitting their strength against the Republicans.

Another of the rumors was that a special meeting of the county board was called last night for 10 a. m. today to name the sheriff. It had even experienced Democratic ward committeemen going around in circles. There were embellishments—it was to be rump session, with the appointment to be made by only 8 of the 15 members.

President Smith and Commissioners Daniel Ryan, Harry Perry, George F. Nixon, and William N. Erickson all said it, too, was untrue.

Plan Wedding

Lt. Rudy Vallee of the coast guard and his fiancee, Bettejane Greer, as they obtained marriage license yesterday in Los Angeles.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 29 [Special].—Rudy Vallee, now known as Lt. Hubert Prior Vallee of the coast guard, escorted Miss Bettejane Greer, 19 years old, into the county clerk's office today to obtain a marriage license.

Vallee explained that he met Miss Greer while she was singing with an orchestra in Washington, D. C.

The two will be married at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Westwood village community chapel with Capt. J. E. Johnson, navy chaplain, performing the ceremony.

20,000 STOLEN CARDS ABANDONED.

Twenty thousand penny postal cards, stolen from a truck parked in front of 2004 Van Buren street, were recovered yesterday behind an elevated station at Hoyne avenue and Van Buren street, where they had been abandoned. The truck was driven by Haven Sturgeon of the Van Buren street address.

KENTUCKY G. O. P. LOOKS FOR NEW VICTORY TODAY

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 29 [Special].—Another test of the Republican swing in Kentucky comes tomorrow in a special election of a representative in congress in the 4th district.

Republican state party headquarters here today predicted the election of their party's candidate, Chester O. Carrier of Leitchfield. The Democratic nominee is J. Dan Talbot of Bardstown, a veteran in Democratic politics.

The 4th district normally is Democratic by more than 4,000, but in the Republican upsurge Nov. 2, when Judge Simeon S. Willis, Republican, was elected governor, he lost the 4th district by only a narrow margin. J. Lyter Donaldson, defeated Democratic nominee for governor, got a majority of 229 votes in the 4th district. The district, comprising 19 of the state's 120 counties, lies in central Kentucky.

Vote to Fill Vacancy.

The special election is being held to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Rep. E. W. Creal [D.], and the winner will serve the unexpired part of Creal's term, which ends in January, 1945.

Democrats have made a strong campaign in behalf of Talbot, who has played a prominent part in guiding the political career of Sen. A. B. [Happy] Chandler [D., Ky.] and who in his own name is a leading state Democrat. Sen. Chandler is supporting Talbot, and so is Gov. Keen Johnson.

Sen. Alben Barkley, majority leader in the senate, has been urging the election of Talbot, saying defeat of the Democratic nominee "would be widely misunderstood and misinterpreted."

Believe Trend Continues.

Mrs. Creal, widow of the congressman, also has indorsed Talbot.

Despite this concentration of Democratic efforts, Republican headquarters declared reports from county chairmen in the district are that public sentiment in this special election appears to be following the same tendency as in the governorship election Nov. 2, when Willis was elected by a majority of 8,303 in normally Democratic Kentucky. They declare the issue of "machine rule at Frankfort" and resentment of voters against too much interference by government in the ordinary affairs of citizens and in private affairs is running in the special election as it did in the governorship race.

OPA MEAT PRICE TACTICS LASHED BY HOUSE GROUP

Subsidy Use Branded Law Evasion.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 [Special].—The special house [Smith] committee investigating federal agencies today accused the office of price administration and the food distribution administration of using the subsidy program, the lend-lease act, and the needs of the army and navy "as a subterfuge to impose legislation upon the country which congress had failed or refused to enact."

In its third intermediate report, the committee charged the OPA with violating the price control act by setting maximum prices on meats "that were not generally fair and equitable" and by recommending to Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director, that "indirect ceilings" be placed on live cattle.

The committee said the FDA inserted two clauses into Surplus Commodities corporation contracts dealing with purchases for lend-lease and the fighting forces, one of which "amends existing law" and the other "enacts new legislation."

Prices Result in Losses.

The meat prices established by the OPA, the committee said, resulted in operating losses of 1½ cents a pound to nonprocessing meat packers.

"The effect of the order," the committee reported, "was to favor, foster, and encourage monopolistic tendencies to concentrate the meat slaughtering business in the hands of the comparatively few large processing slaughterers and to destroy the much greater number of small independent slaughterers who operate without processing facilities."

The agency further violated the price control act, the committee said, by failing to take remedial action within 30 days of the filing of complaints.

Charge Law Nullified.

The committee charged that the order to establish ceilings on prices of live cattle without the consent of the secretary of agriculture, to whom the price control act gives exclusive jurisdiction over prices of agricultural commodities, had the effect of nullifying an act of congress.

"For all practical purposes," the committee said, the price control act "has been repealed by subsidy."

In contracting for dairy products for military and lend-lease purposes, the committee charged, the FDA amended existing law by requiring producers and manufacturers to pay their employes for overtime work, whereas the fair labor standards act specifically exempts processors of dairy products from its overtime provisions.

The report was signed by all seven members of the investigating committee: Howard W. Smith of Virginia, chairman; John J. Delaney of New York, Hugh Peterson of Georgia, and Jerry Voorhis of California, Democrats, and Fred A. Hartley Jr. of New Jersey, John Jennings Jr. of Tennessee, and Clare E. Hoffman of Michigan, Republicans.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

FOUNDED JUNE 10, 1847

12  TUESDAY, NOV. 30, 1943.

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER MAY 14, 1903, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT CHICAGO, ILL., UNDER ACT OF MARCH 3, 1879.

All unsolicited articles, manuscripts, letters, and pictures sent to The Tribune are sent at the owner's risk, and The Tribune company expressly repudiates any liability or responsibility for their safe custody or return.

The entire and absolute freedom of the press is essential to the preservation of government on the basis of a free constitution. —Daniel Webster.

THESE ARE OUR RULERS.

Mr. Trohan of THE TRIBUNE's Washington bureau sat down to catalog the people in Washington who were running the war and the New Deal, and in so doing demonstrated Mr. Roosevelt's overwhelming predilection for easterners in positions of power. The palace guard, which forms a personal staff for the President more powerful than his official family, is composed of New Yorkers. Half the cabinet comes from the two states of New York and Pennsylvania. The ratio is continued in the lesser policy making jobs.

This is not a good way to run a war and it is not a good thing for the country. The majority of these people will concede that Indians and buffaloes are not encountered just west of the Hudson, but they remain fixed in the belief that there are no ideas or political principles worthy of their regard to be found west of the Appalachians. They do not look upon themselves as Americans but as easterners. They do not think as Americans but as internationalists, conditioned by social, financial, or political associations in Europe. Because of the importance of eastern finance all over the country they look upon themselves as the owners of the United States and expect the America which begins at the Alleghenies, and which has been carrying the great burden of the war both in fighting and production, to submit tamely to the planning and leadership of the mortgage holders.

The Roosevelt administration now depends almost exclusively upon the eastern money power and the Communists who have their headquarters in New York. This alliance is not only largely unrepresentative of America; it is un-American. It has been repudiated by the voters even in the east, and it will continue to be repudiated. The political maneuvers for a fourth term are becoming less important as the knowledge of their futility grows. The eastern millionaires realize that the only hope they have to continue the policies which they and Mr. Roosevelt are now executing is to control the Republican party as they did in 1940. That control was obtained largely by deceit and the beneficiary of the deception has made his insincerity clear to the whole nation. We do not think he will be able to repeat his trick.

There is going to be a great revival of Americanism and patriotism in the United States. The people who make up the real country are prepared to take control of its political affairs. Without this revival the country would be lost.

UNFAIR TO CAROL.

As a broken down wolf whose intermittent periods of power were noted for corruption even in the country that holds the European record in that respect, Carol of Rumania is certainly no international rose. Nevertheless, by the present yardstick of White House sycophancy, he is being gypped.

The frayed Carol and his faded babe are now in Mexico, which is all right with his former subjects, but not all right with him. He wants to get into the United States and set up a "free Rumania" movement with the object of getting back into office. He has laid out $35,000 to a Hollywood press agent, who will undertake to make us forget that as a king his client combined the democratic instincts of Frank Hague with the acquisitive talents of Willie Bioff.

Carol is obviously being discriminated against. Since when is busted royalty supposed to pick up a check? Where is Justice Frankfurter? If he can swallow a Hapsburg, why should he gag on a Hohenzollern? Where is the OWI? If Stalin can have a score or so of lend-lease propagandists in its foreign division, why can't Carol have a fictitious commentator or two?

Sure, he's a bum, but when did that get to be a disqualification in Washington?

BEEF WASTED.

The Associated Press reported from Washington a few days ago that 12,000 to 15,000 pounds of meat are going to waste there each week. Supplies are piling up faster than they are being eaten. There have been reports of food spoiling there and in New York.

Supplies of rationed food are so excessive elsewhere, too, that they cannot be stored properly. The Associated Press story said that one dealer had unsuccessfully sought to get refrigerator space in Baltimore, Chicago, and St. Louis.

The official figures show that over a five year period the average amount of beef in storage on Nov. 1 is 69 million pounds. The present supply is 134 million, nearly double normal. Lamb and mutton in refrigerators amounted to 23 million pounds the first of this month, compared with the usual stock of 6½ million pounds at this time of year. The amount of pork on hand is 60 million pounds above the five year average.

The meat in large part is held on orders of the government for the army, navy, and lend-lease use. On Nov. 1 the cold storage warehouses contained 210 million pounds of butter, a record for the date. Nearly all of it belongs to the government, and nearly half is earmarked for lend-lease to the Russians. The government also holds for use in the indefinite future tremendous quantities of canned eggs.

These vast hoards of food have absorbed all the available cold storage space which is more than sufficient for ordinary requirements. If the merchandise belonged to dealers much of it would be moving out into consumption, making room for poultry and other produce which comes into the warehouses at this time of year. The government, however, holds these vast quantities of food out of consumption and ignores seasonal trends, thus preventing the normal turnover of refrigerated food.

The American people are willing to undergo any hardship for the boys who are in service, but they ask that their sacrifices be confined to what is necessary. There is something radically wrong when meat is going to waste at a time when the blocks and the hooks in the meat shops are bare. If the United States government would reduce its tyrannical regulations there would be no beef rotting in government storehouses awaiting shipment to foreign peoples more favored by this administration than the American people.

DEBT—THE NEW DEAL'S MAGIC WAND.

It is the practice of the New Dealers of all classes, from the horse traders to the evangelists, to treat opposition to their economic and fiscal programs as a species of moral turpitude. This makes a very simple world of right and wrong, of saints and sinners, in which the opposition is always wrong, by choice and natural depravity. Much disputation goes by such a rule, but it is peculiarly the privilege of the New Deal to invoke the odium theologicum upon people who happen to think the New Dealers are full of prunes and given over to schemes of doubtful public interest and more doubtful sanity.

When the house of representatives voted against the food subsidies, 278 to 117, the self-righteous denounced the majority as tools of selfish pressure groups thinking only of their own profits and political advantages and willing to expose the country to the worst consequences of inflation. In truth, the case for subsidies is not transparently good. The argument for it does not leave the objectors without reply.

Early in the war the executive departments were given extraordinary controls over prices and wages. Executive orders deal with hours and pay. Arbitrary authority is distributed to various administrations and portioned out all over the country. Producers and consumers read the daily papers to discover what has been done to their businesses and their cost of living. Prices are adjusted and readjusted. The people of this country have submitted themselves to governmental regulation of the small details of their lives which, altho it has become the normal routine, is still strange to contemplate. The people are rationed, routined, and ridden. The administrative authority over them is complete and they are given no assurance that it will be slackened so long as the New Deal is continued in office.

Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policies have all been based on the public debt. Without deficit financing they would fail. If at any time in the three terms the executive program had been limited to the treasury receipts it would have been stopped. It required spending greatly in excess of income. Debt, the creation of the New Deal, has been in turn the creator of the New Deal. Now, confronted with difficulties and mistakes in the administration of the tight controls over all phases of American life, the executive department returns to the first principle of its existence and seeks to spend its way out of the muddle it has created.

It is not embarrassed by limitations of authority. There are none. This nation is a totalitarian state in its power to order the lives of its citizens. The very great majority of them comply without dispute. They know there is a war. They know they must conform to its necessities. Collective and individual responses are satisfactory. They may indeed be entirely too reserved and uncritical when future possibilities should be considered. What embarrasses the executive is not limitation of authority but bungling use of it. The avenue of escape the New Deal naturally would seek is paved with treasury funds. It would spend its way out, just as it has tried to spend its way out of every folly and error it has committed.

The opponents of food subsidies are accused of many evil intentions. Among them is a willingness to risk a disastrous inflation if they cannot advance their political and personal fortunes any other way. The New Dealers have never given a sober thought to the inflation which may come in the train of deficit financing and a national debt of astronomical figures. Or if they have given it a thought it is only to reflect that such inflation would involve an economic revolution and end the era of private enterprise and private investment. That may be the end desired.

THE CONSERVATIVE COURSE IN RACE RELATIONS.

[Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch.]

The Times-Dispatch advocates abolition of the segregation law on street cars and buses in Virginia because it considers this the truly conservative course. Such abolition would be tangible and convincing evidence that the whites of Virginia desire to work with the Negroes in eliminating injustices, arriving at amicable solutions of interracial problems, and relieving interracial tension.

Southern Negro leaders are genuinely and sincerely anxious to coöperate with southern white leaders, and they want to avoid the interracial friction which would be sure to arise, if more racial Negroes from the north should gain a foothold among the colored people of this section. Many Virginians probably do not know it, but we have now arrived at the point where radicals from the north will find it easy to secure a large following in the south, unless reasonable and proper concessions to the colored people are made.

Some of the stuff now circulating brings to mind the carload of blended liquor that arrived in Brockton, Mass., a while back in a frozen condition.—[Detroit News.]

LET 'EM EAT TROUT.

Annoyed by the prevalence of a flabby and insipid fish called lake trout on war time menus, we decided to investigate the critter. We found that he is entitled to bear the noble name of trout, but that he has a more appropriate name, bestowed by the Indians. It is "namaycush." He tastes the way it sounds.

• • •

Whence come the enormous supplies of this gastronomic failure? In peace time he was almost a stranger to the better bills of fare. He is said to be hard to catch, and there is a scarcity of fishermen, but current evidence tends to show that the Great Lakes are seething with him, and that he jumps into the boat. We are beginning to suspect, however, that reserves of unsalable lake trout, worth about a penny a pound, have been piling up in cold storage ever since the Civil war, and that the restaurants are drawing on this hoard. Perhaps we are now eating the lake trout of World War I., and within another year we will get the weaker flavor of the Spanish war deposits.

• • •

The overcrowding, overcharging, and underfeeding in downtown restaurants have caused a group of historians and philosophers in a certain office that shall not be named to carry their lunches in the familiar tin box of manual labor. Their midday meal is hearty and tranquil as well as frugal; and after brushing up the crumbs to hide their iniquity from the boss, who is out eating his usual two-dollar snack, they take a walk to view the antiquities of the city. All of which recalls the good old days of lunch-carrying, and suggests that the white collar class is capable of rising against its economic oppressors.

• • •

If the Linemaster could only find his ancient high school lunch box, he, too, would sally forth with a supply of nutritious sandwiches, hard-boiled eggs, pickles, and pie to baffle the lake trout joints. This box was designed before the thermos bottle era, and was oblong, with folding sides. When emptied, it could be flattened out and carried in a pocket, or strapped up with the textbooks, for the journey homeward. The meals that it provided, especially when mild weather permitted picnicking outside the walls, often come to mind when we face the eternal dinner items at our usual "ordinary": choice of lake trout, omelette, chicken.

THE UNCONQUERABLE.

(With a bow to Horace, Book III., Ode 3.)

A man of firm, unyielding will
Who walks in righteous roads alone,
Need never fear a tyrant's ill;
It breaks on him as surf on stone.

Nor does he bow before the mob,
But cows it with determined eye;
Fearless, he feels no trembling throb
When Jove hurls lightning from the sky.

Tho in wild storms his ship be whirled,
He steers on with tenacious grasp;
Ay, should destruction strike the world,
He'd rise o'er ruin, strong, steadfast.

In fact, he'll win in any strife
Except, of course, against his wife. P. V.

Man's Inhumanity to Trees.

It happened in spring! I wandered down into my favorite tree lane, and toward its end I heard the unfamiliar sound of a saw gnawing away; then came the crash of branches.

It was hard to believe that one could heartlessly butcher a tree down to a mere trunk. There it stood, with its bright spring-green branches at its feet. The tree lane was now broken.

As spring merged into summer the trunk sprouted stubby, thick branches at its crown. In its courage to live again, to me it instilled courage, hope, and faith. During my walks I directed special attention to my convalescing friend. I was happy to note each new branch as it appeared with the passing of summer. Of course, it would be a matter of years before the mutilation was healed. But there was hope.

Then I was greeted by the sound of a deep-biting ax giving a death blow. There the tree lay forlornly in the gutter, with its brave new branches wearing a new bird's nest as its headpiece. The ground was littered with moist chips, so white, so clean.

The only reason the tree's owner gave for the act was "the branches wore away the gravel off my new tar-papered roof." Alexander Beifuss.

TO A BRONZE LION.

O, sculptured jungle monarch! Mighty beast
Transmuted into ageless bronze to guard
These portals on the busy boulevard!
Assistant watchdog to the well-policed,
Congested halls of Art! Your soul, released,
Runs down dim jungle trails. Proud, battle-scarred,
Your dark mane tossed in sovereign disregard,

Lion, you know what I am waiting for:
To see you crouch and lash your tail, to hear
Your great throat tremble with a thunderous roar
To set the city's heart a-pulse with fear,
To drown its stupid, unimpassioned hum

Guinea Pigs or Hens?

Several sharpshooters, displaying surprising erudition, have corrected the Linemaster for saying [Nov. 22] that on the island of Leros, recently in the war news, the sisters of Meleager, in Greek mythology, were transformed into guinea pigs. They declare that the unfortunate girls were changed into guinea hens, and cite Bulfinch as an authority. We have no doubt that they are right, but will throw a book right back at them. Harper's Dictionary of Classical Literature and Antiquities, containing 10 pounds of learning, plainly says "guinea pigs."

GENTLE HANDLING OF BROKEN BONES.

YES, bones will heal. Following a fracture, if the fragments are brought close together [set] and kept absolutely quiet, the process of repair will start. But it is slow and several weeks will elapse before the limb will be able to bear weight or support the pulling action of muscles.

When nature does a good job the site will be stouter than the balance of the shaft. As a rule, it will be thicker as the new bone which is deposited [callus] resembles a plumber's wipe joint which links two bits of lead pipe together. Should another accident take place the chances are that the skeleton will not give way at the same point.

The main objective in treatment is not to harm the surrounding tissues. The body's framework is covered with soft pliable material, chiefly muscles thru which run blood vessels and nerves. What we hope to avoid is mangling.

Now, breaks do not occur with smooth, round edges. The injury usually leaves the ends ragged and sometimes very sharp. The slightest movement, therefore, may thrust a projecting splinter thru important structures or penetrate the enveloping skin. When such a wound is open to the air, we call it "compound" and the greatest care must be taken to prevent infection.

There was a time when every mishap of this kind demanded amputation, otherwise the sufferer ran the risk of blood poisoning. But, thanks to Pasteur and Lister, we understand how to avoid both. Furthermore, the tedious healing period may be hastened via the use of pins or plates. After adjustments have been made, the parts can thus be held firmly in place.

If a person falls and cannot get up, something may have happened to the hip. The damage may be increased by careless handling, assisting the victim into a car, and trundling him to the nearest hospital. Unless help is immediately at hand, the wisest thing to do is to make him comfortable with overcoats, sweaters, and blankets and summon the nearest physician who will arrange the involved limb so that transportation can be undertaken with safety. A wide board is excellent for the purpose.

If the community has an ambulance, so much the better, as the crew will know what to do. They can transfer the patient to a stretcher without adding to his troubles.

Immobilization can be accomplished with a simple, well wrapped splint, such as a yardstick, a ruler, or any firm article that is long enough. It may be padded with cloth or cotton and then fastened firmly in place with bandages, tying it on both sides of the break. For this purpose we may use sizable handkerchiefs, neckties, or belts. An ideal aid is a flat piece of wood which is not more than a half inch thick but sufficiently rigid.

As a rule, we waste time when we try to apply dressings before the patient is sent to the hospital. Furthermore the lesion can be managed more safely by a skilled surgeon than under the kindly ministrations of the most willing first aider. About all we need to do is to make certain that bleeding has stopped and that bending or twisting cannot take place.

POLICE ARGUMENT.

V. B. writes: We have arguments here at the police department regarding buttermilk. A claims it is fattening and I say no. Who is right?

REPLY.

You are. When cream is churned, most of the fat is removed. What is left is buttermilk. This is nutritious but not fattening. However, whole milk soured with lactic acid bacteria is sometimes called buttermilk. This contains all the cream and is approximately as high in food value as ordinary whole milk.

THICK ANKLES.

M. G. writes: Is there any way to lose weight around the ankles?

REPLY.

BLEEDING GUMS.

H. K. B. writes: What would cause the occasional spitting of blood when brushing the teeth, gargling, etc.?

REPLY.

Inflammation of the gums [gingivitis] or pyorrhea, or both. Skilled dental care is advised.

YAWNING.

E. T. H. writes: What causes excessive yawning at night?

REPLY.

The combination of fatigue, bad ventilation, and slowing circulation. If you must indulge, that is the best time.

You Never Expect It.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Heroism is an unfathomable quality. Maybe it is reflex. Certainly it is rarely premeditated. Were it so, few of the acts called heroic would take place, for most of them are something apart from man as his fellows know him, and most of them are magnificently selfless and self-effacing.

Not so long ago the small daughter of a naval officer broached this subject to him. Once or twice during the war his ship has slipped into port and he has spent a day or two with her. One night he is home. The next morning, in the gray of dawn, he is gone, quietly and wordlessly. On one such evening he admonished her to go to bed. "No," she protested. "You'll be gone when I wake up." "O, no," he reassured her, "but if I go, I'll bring you back a present. What would you like?" "The navy cross!" she cried triumphantly. "I want you to come back a hero, wearing it." He smiled. "Now, look," he began, "no one goes out and looks for the navy cross. No one goes out all set to be a hero. You just do what you can, understand?" "But you can learn to be a hero, can't you?" she persisted. "No," he said. "You can't learn it. It's just a word. You can't tell from looking at any one what he will do. It just happens."

That's the way it was with the young marine. He was neither heroic nor homeric. He was a little shrimp of a boy, snivelling and, by ordinary standards, cowardly, and out in the Southwest Pacific his comrades held him in contempt. They had known from the beginning he didn't have it in him. He had shivered and moaned all the way across. If he wasn't seasick, he was shuddering with terror every time a depth bomb was dropped, and when he got to the tropics, he was worse. The noises of the jungle threw him into a babbling frenzy by day or night. He jumped if any one entered his hut suddenly. He moaned in his sleep. And when his battalion finally went into action, he fell down on the job, and fell down horribly, for he was ammunition carrier for a mortar, and in the long march in which his company advanced upon the Jap lines, he discarded, bit by bit, the ammunition. When the attack came he had none left and the men had to resort to rifles. The marines lost the engagement and nearly faced annihilation. In peace or war, but especially war, this was a heinous offense. In war it is criminal, and he was slated for court-martial. But a court-martial in the Southwest Pacific requires as much rigmarole as it does here in Washington, and sheafs of papers concerning his case had to pass from one headquarters to another before a hearing could be held. In the midst of this, the Japs attacked at Bloody Ridge.

No one expected any help from him this time, and no orders were issued him, but over in one nook he saw a machine gun crew heavily beset. Filling his arms with ammunition, he ran thru heavy enemy fire to the machine gun nest. He deposited his burden and turned back. The men told him he was a fool, for shells were crashing all around, but he raced back, got another armload and delivered it. And another and another, each time exposing himself mercilessly. Then at dawn, after a night long battle, he staggered to the mess hut, also under heavy fire, and made sandwiches and coffee for 200 men. With these he advanced far into the lines, serving the men as they fought. He did this for two hours.

The next day headquarters telephoned his commanding officer. The court-martial papers had been received and approved, the proceedings authorized. The boy was to be shipped to headquarters.

"Ship him?" the C. O. repeated. "Hell, no. Forget the court-martial. I'm going to give that —— a medal."

"AMGOT TO THE RESCUE."

Maywood, Ill., Nov. 25.—It would be enlightening to learn the political forces which prompted last Sunday's radio skit "AMGOT to the Rescue," starring Old Gall and Guts Polletti, hero of New York's famous jail delivery.

The obvious attempt to sprinkle this particularly smelly political figure with the toilet water of heroism was nauseating to say the least. Running true to form, the local crooks of the reoccupied countries are doubtless now out of jail, dressed in salvaged uniforms, and lined up to vote in the next election.

I have been reliably informed that when AMGOT takes over, the combatant services of the army have already cleaned up enemy resistance and moved on. That seems reasonable. Sound effects of machine gun fire and bursting shells are amusingly a la Hollywood.

As for the colonel, my guess is that he has the best billet in town, and in this man's war will never miss a meal. Tell the rest of the story to the marines. H. O. BARTLETT.

PLEA FOR MORE WACS.

Hondo, Tex., Nov. 17.—It gives me unlimited pleasure to write a letter to my hometown newspaper in the hope of getting some new recruits for the women's army corps. I know that to some girls it seems impossible to leave home and join with us, but give it thoughtful consideration.

I'm working at the army postoffice out here in Hondo, an army air base, and enjoy my work very much and feel that I am doing my share to relieve the men who are so badly needed for combat duty. We can't all shoulder a gun, but we can do the work that these men are doing. PVT. EMILY KOLAR.

FOR MUSIC LOVERS.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—I noticed an article by V. Petersen in regard to the lack of appreciation for better music. I have recently moved to your city and last Saturday I was lucky enough to stumble onto a good bet that music lovers are overlooking. That was a concert of recorded music held in the Chicago public library on Saturday afternoons. I spent a very relaxing afternoon listening to well selected music. It was good to know that the concerts are a regular feature.

A PATRON.

ON THE SOLID SIDE.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—This is in reply to V. H. Petersen, who apparently does not understand that young people can appreciate music composed by Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms, but also enjoy popular music and jive tunes, which are not "ear splitting" to every one as he seems to think.

The majority of the people do love and appreciate good music, but a great many people—young and old alike—are not so narrow minded as to allow themselves to listen only to one type of music. BETTY A. SUNWALL.

MAYBE HIS JOB ISN'T ESSENTIAL.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 24.—I read that Paul V. McNutt is going to resign if the President does not veto the bill that is supposed to protect pre-Pearl Harbor fathers. I am wondering where Mr. McNutt will obtain his availability statement that he has been released from his former employer, such as he has forced upon other American men?

IDENTIFYING MARGARINE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 23.—When the house agricultural committee was holding its hearings recently on the so-called oleomargarine bill, I wrote the committee a letter, to which I have received no reply.

As it is now reported that a similar bill is soon to be introduced in the senate, the whole controversy may be reopened. I suggested in my letter to the committee making shape rather than color the basis of identification of margarine. That would protect the consumer against deception not only in purchases for home consumption, but also in the patties of butter or margarine served him in restaurants and hotels.

As the government licenses and permits the sale of both white and colored oleomargarine as a food product, it may be assumed that it is a wholesome food if properly made. A plan of identification based on the shape in which the product reaches the consumer, rather than its color, eliminates the factor of deception. What justification would there then be for imposing a heavy fine or tax for coloring this particular product? FRED J. POSTEL.

THE WILLKIE STEAL.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—All sane Americans must be deeply shocked when they read the account in THE TRIBUNE of the new book about Mr. Wendell Willkie's nomination at the last Republican convention, including the pre-arrangements at the special dinner at which Lord Lothian played an important role.

I believe it is high time that all foreigners meddling in United States affairs, outside of any special jobs they may have here connected with the war, should be invited to leave the country forthwith. And this goes for all propaganda and publicity agencies of such foreign countries.

FENCE.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Our neighbor to the north claims that the fence between our property and his belongs to him, and our neighbor on the other side claims the fence to the south of us. Repair work should be made on both fences. Is there any ruling to apply in such matters? T. A.

The wording of the fence act indicates that the legislature had agricultural properties primarily in mind. Sec. 2, for example, provides that a fence "sufficient to turn stock" shall be legal. Altho the applicability of this wording to urban property is open to some question, there is no express exception and we regard the act as applying to division fences between city lots which are inclosed on their other boundaries. It follows that adjoining owners should contribute equally to cost and repair of each such fence.

We have no provision like the Indiana statute, which requires the owner east of the fence to build the north one-half, and the owner north of the fence to build the west one-half.

JUDGE ASSAILS LA GUARDIA ON CRIME FIGURES

Charges Mayor Caters to Racial Groups.

New York, Nov. 29 [Special].—Kings County Judge Franklin Taylor lashed out at Mayor Fiorello La Guardia today with a statement issued in his chambers challenging statistics made public by the mayor in attempted refutation of a Kings county grand jury charge of lawlessness in Brooklyn's Little Harlem.

Asserting that "figures don't lie, but what about the fellow who writes them down?," Judge Taylor renewed his charges that police would have no trouble in curbing crime in the area if it were not for "political interference from the city hall." He accused the mayor of "rabble rousing" and with playing politics that was largely "a catering to racial groups, which is vicious and dangerous."

Cites 1938 Scandal.

Little confidence can be placed in police figures on reported crimes in an area where lawlessness has broken out because people become discouraged and sense the uselessness of reporting crime, the judge said. He also listed the "glossing over the records" as a factor, and recalled the police scandal of 1938 in which fake arrests were resorted to in an attempt to create a false impression of police vigilance.

The statistics given out by La Guardia, which were at variance with figures quoted by the Kings county grand jury, said arrests for juvenile delinquency in New York City for the first 10 months of this year were 32.4 per cent higher than in the corresponding period of 1942 and 53.4 per cent above the same period in 1941.

The grand jury presentment said that in 1942 a total of 4,435 cases were reported in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section, while arrests totaled only 1,472. There were 26 homicides, 81 robberies, 145 burglaries, 232 assaults, 138 larcenies, two kidnapings, and 233 miscellaneous felonies in addition to other crimes, according to the grand jury.

Tries to Refute Jury Figures.

The police department report which La Guardia made public in attempted refutation of the grand jury charges, listed the total number of cases at 2,585 and the arrests at 5,098.

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine indicated today that a scheduled trial for Patrolman David Liebman on charges of violating police regulations by assailing the mayor in a speech Nov. 21 at a Brooklyn mass meeting probably never will be held.

The trial has been set for Wednesday, the commissioner said, but the department has learned since charges were preferred against the patrolman that he was an inmate of Creedmore state hospital seven years ago suffering from a mental ailment.

NEGRO LEADER SAYS OWI TRIES TO SWAY VOTE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 [Special].—Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council, today told the senate appropriations committee conducting hearings on the 165 million dollar deficiency bill, which contains a 5 million dollar item for additional expenditures by the office of war information for overseas propaganda, that the OWI is attempting to influence the Negro vote. He cited examples of pictures in magazines and Negro newspapers which, he said, were inspired by the OWI in an effort to influence the Negro vote. He said the Negro bureau of the OWI should be abolished.

FUNERAL RITES TOMORROW FOR REV. CALVERT

Services for the Rev. Leonard Calvert, a former Chicago minister once known as the Fighting Parson of northern Wisconsin, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 6754 Northwest highway. He died Sunday in Calumet, Mich., where he was pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Mr. Calvert was born in Ireland 67 years ago, and educated at Glasgow, Edinburgh, and Oxford universities. He came to America in 1903, settling first in Amberg, Wis., then Wabeno, Wis. For years he fought against the illegal sale of liquor to Indians and to lumberjacks in that region, and thus earned his nickname. For his work in supporting the war in 1917-'18, he was commended in letters from President Wilson and Secretary of War Newton Baker.

In 1920, the Rev. Mr. Calvert became pastor of the First Congregational church, Des Plaines, and in 1926 pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, Chicago. In 1931 he went to Calumet. He leaves his widow, Agnes, now seriously ill in Presbyterian hospital; two sons, and five daughters.

MRS. LANDES, 75, FORMER MAYOR OF SEATTLE, DIES

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 29 [Special].—Mrs. Bertha K. Landes, 75 years old, former mayor of Seattle, Wash., the first woman in the United States to be mayor of a metropolitan city, died here today in the home of her son, Dr. Kenneth E. Landes.

Prior to her election as mayor in 1926, Mrs. Landes served two terms in the Seattle city council. While serving as acting mayor during the absence of Mayor Edwin J. Brown, she fired the chief of police, assumed police powers herself and waged war on vice and gambling, but the mayor hurried back to town and reinstated the chief.

Thwarted in her efforts, Mrs. Landes sought the office of mayor and defeated Brown. During her two year term, Seattle was termed a "reasonably closed town." When she sought reëlection in 1928, the novelty of a woman ruled city had worn off and Frank Edwards, virtually unheard of politically, won by the largest plurality in the city's history on the issue of male or female control.

DAVID B. PIERSEN, MANUFACTURER IN AURORA, DIES

David B. Piersen, 63 years old, chairman of the Stephens-Adamson Manufacturing company of Aurora, died yesterday in Copley hospital at Aurora after a heart attack suffered Saturday. He had served four terms as president of the Associated Employers of Illinois, was four times president of the Fox River Valley Manufacturers association, and had been a director of the Illinois Manufacturers association.

He had been treasurer of the Aurora sanitary district since it was organized 15 years ago and was prominent as a leader in the Episcopal church, being a member of the standing committee of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago and of the diocesan council of the Episcopal church. His widow, Ellah, and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Cole of Los Angeles and Mrs. Joan Horstick of Aurora, survive.

DR. A. E. FREER, 81, DIES; MEMBER OF PIONEER FAMILY

Dr. Archibald Edward Freer, member of a prominent pioneer Chicago family, died yesterday in Augustana hospital. He was 81 years old, and resided in the Drake Towers.

He was the husband of the late Eleanor Everest Freer, noted composer and founder of the American Opera society of Chicago. During the last war Mrs. Freer's patriotic songs won her international acclaim.

Dr. Freer practiced medicine in Chicago briefly after completing studies in Heidelberg, Germany. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Leonard Karcher of Sutton and Donlea roads, Barrington. Funeral services will be private.

[ADVERTISMENT]
KATHY THE CARNIVAL QUEEN
BY BUD HILL

CONGRATULATIONS, KATHY! YOU CERTAINLY DO MAKE A ROYAL DISH IN THAT OUTFIT! BUT SAY, HOW COME YOU BLOSSOMED OUT WITH ALL THIS ZIP AND GINGER?
IT ALL STARTED WHEN "A LITTLE BIRD" TOLD ME I HAD A B COMPLEX DEFICIENCY!
SAY THAT AGAIN—IN ENGLISH!
IT'S VERY SIMPLE! LIKE MILLIONS OF OTHERS WHO GO AROUND FEELING LIKE WET RAGS—I SIMPLY WASN'T GETTING ENOUGH OF THOSE "SPARK PLUG" VITAMINS YEAST IS SO FULL OF! SO I BEGAN DRINKING 2 CAKES OF FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST A DAY IN COOL TOMATO JUICE
UPSY-DAISY TO YOUR THRONE, QUEEN! NOW, WHAT'S THIS ABOUT DRINKING YEAST?
MMMMM! IT'S SWELL THAT WAY! IN A KEEN VITAMIN COCKTAIL* WITH EVERY VITAMIN KNOWN TO BE NEEDED IN HUMAN NUTRITION! BUT STICK WITH IT! MANY SEE RESULTS IN ONLY SEVEN DAYS!
LIKE SO! YOU DON'T JUST DROP THE CAKE IN. MASH IT IN A DRY GLASS WITH A FORK, ADD A LITTLE TOMATO JUICE, STIR TILL BLENDED, FILL UP THE GLASS AND DRINK! GET A WEEK'S SUPPLY OF FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST AT ONCE! IT KEEPS PERFECTLY IN THE REFRIGERATOR!
MENU

*Two Vitamin Cocktails contain following proportions of minimum daily requirements: from yeast 100% of Vitamins A, B_1, and D; 14%-29% of B_2 (also 2-3 mgs. of niacin); with tomato juice (8 oz.), 100% of Vitamin C.
If you bake at home, use Fleischmann's Yellow Label Yeast. The only baking yeast with Vitamin B Complex and added amounts of both Vitamins A and D.

[ADVERTISMENT]

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Madison Street Cars Hit 2; Both in Hospital

Two men struck by street cars on Madison street, were in County hospital last night. One, tentatively identified as Joseph Zubas, 1065 Monroe street, suffered a skull fracture. He was reported unknown at the Monroe street address. The other, less seriously injured, is Walter Hicks, 34 years old, 1438 Jackson boulevard. Zubas was struck in front of 1400 Madison street, Hicks in front of 1218 Madison street.

TREASURY PUTS TAX BOOST PLEA UP TO SENATORS

Rips House Measure as Too Complicated.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—The treasury today accused the house ways and means committee of writing a tax bill that will greatly complicate the task of individuals and businesses in determining their income tax liability.

The charge was made by Randolph Paul, treasury tax counsel, as the administration, thru Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, renewed what appears to be hopeless demands that federal taxes be increased in 1944 by 10½ billion dollars.

As the senate finance committee began consideration of the house approved tax measure which increases taxes by slightly more than 2 billion dollars, Paul told the committee that Uncle Sam's tax collectors would "never be able to explain" to the tax payer how to figure his income taxes under the house bill. Paul said that in some instances a man and wife with independent incomes each would have nine alternative methods of computing their income tax liability.

Study Sales Levy.

Meanwhile, Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] evidenced interest in the possibilities of a general federal sales tax, a method of taxation that was defeated in the senate finance committee by only one vote last year.

Morgenthau told the senators the administration considered a sales tax "as the least desirable of all methods of producing additional revenue" after Sen. Byrd had said he favored a sales tax as "proper and legitimate" in war time.

Morgenthau explained the treasury's opposition to the sales tax, primarily on the grounds that it would be costly and difficult to administrate.

Stupendous Bill.

In the face of an assertion by Chairman Walter F. George [D., Ga.] of the finance committee that it will be impossible for the senate to enact a bill varying greatly from the principles of the house measure, Morgenthau reminded the committee of "the stupendous bill this war will leave behind," and declared:

"If we pay in taxes any less than we can now afford to pay, we shall be unfair to those who must face the accumulated bill after the war has been fought and won. . . . We shall not only be asking the 10 million members of the armed forces to give the most important years out of their lives to fight the war, we shall also be requiring them to pay in taxes after the war that we could and should have paid while they were fighting."

Sen. Vandenberg, at the end of the morning hearing, introduced an amendment to the house bill that would freeze social security tax deductions from pay checks at their present 1 per cent levels. Under existing laws, they are scheduled to be doubled Jan. 1.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

A. F. writes: "My wife, who has been in ill health due to a sinus infection, is now going to a physician for treatment three times a week, which will incur quite a bill in the long period required to cure her.

"I am a technical sergeant in the army, and while my salary is sufficient to support my wife and baby normally, when unexpected expenses, such as this occur, it is difficult to obtain the necessary funds needed. I have been wondering if the army or government has made any provision whereby a soldier is given financial aid, or if they make a loan which he can repay gradually."

ANSWER: The Army Emergency Relief society is equipped to help in a situation such as you describe. Since your wife lives in Chicago, have her contact the Army Emergency Relief society, Room 1109, 20 North Wacker drive. After investigating the situation, they will either provide temporary financial assistance or a loan which you can repay gradually out of your salary. The society was organized to care for cases such as yours in which an unforeseen occurrence places a financial burden on the family. I am sure your wife will find the society helpful.

Mrs. B. T. writes: "I was receiving a family allowance until several months ago when my husband was promoted to the rank of staff sergeant. I understand that men of that rank may now have the family allowance and wonder if you would advise me as to the method of application."

ANSWER: Men who previously had family allowances on behalf of their dependents, which were discontinued because they were promoted to an ineligible grade but are now eligible under the amended law, do not have to reapply. They request reauthorization of the allowance in a letter to their commanding officers. They need not attach marriage certificates or other evidence already supplied. However, if any new evidence is required, such as a dependent's certificate to substantiate claims for class B-1 or class B dependents, this evidence should be attached to the letter, or submitted to the office of dependency benefits as soon as practicable.

Mrs. A. R. asks: "If my husband joins the merchant marine, am I entitled to the government allowance?"

ANSWER: No. Men in the merchant marine are not included in the groups eligible for the family allowance. One reason for that is the fact that their salaries are much higher than those received by men in the military or naval branches.

SPENDING HIKE IS FEARED UNDER 100% LEVY PLAN

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

To what extent the major taxing bodies of Cook county will take advantage of County Assessor John S. Clark's promised 100 per cent assessment and hike their spending in 1944 is a matter of intense interest to taxpayers.

It is quite possible that one agency, the Cook county board, will toss aside its pegged levy of $9,500,000 set by the state legislature and levy approximately 13 millions on a rate basis. Under existing law the county's corporate fund may use the pegged levy or levy up to 32 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation in election years—and the 32 cents would produce an estimated 20 millions, the exact amount depending on the assessment, which is now in progress.

The county board, long known for its slipshod spending programs, including unbalanced budgets, received permission from the last legislature to issue $8,346,000 in bonds to pay debts contracted up to Dec. 1, 1942. This issue has been offered for sale and bids were received. The buyer, Seipp, Princell & Co., is awaiting an opinion by counsel as to the safety of the bonds.

Debts Up 3½ Millions.

But the board, in the fiscal year ending today, has contracted additional debts approximating 3½ millions; the sum being the difference between current expenses and revenues. There is no way to pay this in full out of estimated revenues without an economy program too severe to be contemplated by the board—unless the pegged levy is abandoned. [Under the old assessment of 37 per cent of full value, the peg was more than any possible tax rate would produce; at 100 per cent the situation is reversed.]

Deputy County Controler Richard J. Daley has prepared a tentative corporated budget of $19,800,000 which he is confident will be in balance. Revenues to this amount are expected to come from the pegged levy figure plus fees and collections of back taxes. There will, however, be little to apply on the 1943 debts.

Hence, the board members are gathering courage to levy an additional 3 to 3½ millions to get in the clear. Clayton F. Smith, president, and Maurice F. Kavanagh, finance chairman of the board, said they were opposed to any permanent increasing of county taxes, but indicated they felt it would be good business to get the county into a good credit position.

Believe Tax Boost Sound.

The majority of the board holds that it has not been extravagant; that the deficits are mainly caused by increase in institutional and supply costs, and that there is no way to cut these costs on a rising market. Also, they see the current debt as one to be paid—and a one year increasing of taxes as a sound measure.

It was reported that Mayor Kelly and others in the city administration are opposed to tax increases by any city taxing bodies.

William Donne, secretary of the county tax foreclosure committee, presented a summary of last year's work to the committee yesterday. It showed that the board had received and accepted tax settlements of $6,513,000. In the previous seven months acceptances were about 6 million more. Of the total 12 million, about 4 million go to the county and the rest to the other taxing bodies.

The foreclosure committee, on the advice of State's Attorney Courtney, refused to accept an offer of the Chicago Rapid Transit company to settle its back tax bills of 7½ million with an offer of 2½ million.

Beg Your Pardon

Hyde Park police yesterday corrected a report furnished THE TRIBUNE last Saturday stating that 5451 Drexel avenue was the location of a tavern robbed by four Negroes, one of whom was later slain. There is no tavern at that address. It is the home of Conrad Dionne, a bartender who had reported a robbery in a tavern at 821 East 55th street.

Can You Picture ILLINOIS without Highways?

JONES' TRUCK FARM

A strange place it would be—this State of ours — if our splendid 103,109-mile network of highways suddenly ceased to exist.

A great many communities would be isolated. Others would find it infinitely more difficult to carry on even the most ordinary daily activities — with no trucks on the move, no cars or buses taking workers to war plants and farms, soldiers to camp and home on furlough, business travelers to nearby communities, children to school.

We in Illinois are apt to take for granted the convenience of our excellent roads—but these highways didn't just grow. Building and maintaining them is a tremendous job and for achieving this successfully we can thank past and present administrations and particularly the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings.

That isn't the whole story, however. Transforming these lifeless ribbons of concrete and macadam into live, active arteries of public transportation has been the accomplishment of the Illinois Commerce Commission. They've labored hard and long to give our State a transportation system that compares favorably with any other in the country.

All of us who live and work and pay taxes in Illinois can take pride in our share in this highway system.

As fellow citizens, the Greyhound Lines have made a very large contribution in the form of license, fuel and operating taxes — but we feel that our greatest service is in putting the highways to work for the benefit of all who must travel, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities we serve throughout the State.

Will you give 45 minutes to save a fighter's life?

About 45 minutes after you walk into Red Cross Blood Donor headquarters, you walk out with a glow of pride that won't ever come off . . . for you've given a pint of blood that may save an American fighter's life on some far battlefield. It means so much—yet it's surprisingly easy to do. Write or phone your nearest Red Cross headquarters for an appointment.

GREYHOUND LINES

Much Promise Shown in Debut of Ballet Group

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Not quite hatched, but peering hopefully from its amateur shell, the Ballet Repertory company made its début in the Eighth Street theater last night in the first of three performances, with results so diverse they refuse to be captured in a flat statement of success or failure. Certainly, this début does not mean that Chicago suddenly possesses a resident ballet of stature or distinction. But it does mean that some charming young dancers had their first Chicago chance to appear in attractive surroundings under professional direction. They are improving so fast—even in the frantic days between their gawky dress rehearsal and their far more successful opening—that it would be unthinkable to say to them, "Go on back to your studios, we aren't interested."

We are interested, all of us who care about dancing. There were moments in last night's performance worth saving and encouraging. Some of them came in Bronislava Nijinska's "Vision," a not particularly distinguished ballet danced to an execrable orchestration of Brahms' First Sonata, when the girls of the ensemble suddenly threw themselves into a determined professional effort to pull the fat out of the fire. There were moments in Berenice Holmes' "Pandora," a solo bit or two, and the lighthearted pas de deux danced by Miss Holmes at her delicately etched best, with Erik Kristen, her notably improved partner, who has dropped the weakness of affectation for the sincerity of simplicity. There was a glint or two in Carla Bradley's unpretentious gambol called "Debutantes' Ball," and there was the sudden solidity of promise lived up to in the opening of Nijinska's Tschaikowsky ballet, "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star," which can develop into a work of verve and sparkle.

Out of all this thrust several dance talents worth watching. Berenice Holmes, of course, is the group's strongest dancer, and perhaps its most experienced. But there was a long stemmed blonde with a perky face whose name is Nanon Miller and who was delightful in everything from Diana's quiver to pigtails. There was chubby Edith Allard, whose dancing is poised and clean, with a classic serenity. There were sloe eyed Nancy Harrin and light footed Dorothy Hill, and other gifted girls whose names escaped me. Carla Bradley, the group's backer, had bad luck last night. A weak dancer who had exhausted herself in preparation for the performance, she was perilously handled by Alfred Floyd, a partner who needed starch in his stance and glue on his hands.

The most successful male of the evening was Stanislaw Mitruk, who designed the décor for the Nijinska ballets and achieved a hint of the empyrean effect that can set a ballet stage blazing. Julia Thecla's "Pandora" décor, all rosy skies and fat Grecian columns, was amusing despite a mishap in measurements that had some of it reposing offstage. Miss Thecla clung to her box while the dancers, Mme. Nijinska and Nicolai Malko, the director, took bows to onslaughts of partisan applause, scooping up shoals of flowers in the process.

Woman's Aid to Hear Lecture on Old China at Today's Breakfast

Mrs. Charlotte Hill Grant will give the Chicago Woman's Aid a glimpse of the picturesque China of yesterday when she appears as guest speaker at a noon breakfast today in the club's rooms in the Medical and Dental Arts building. "Requisites of Court Life in Old China" will be the title of her lecture.

Wears Prize Bonnet

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

At its recent organization meeting, the Silver Wings club, whose members are wives and mothers of men in the army air forces, elected a panel of officers to serve pro tem. At the fiscal meeting next January, another group will be elected to carry on club activities for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Frances Bell, whose son, Lt. Robert Malcolm Bell, is a pilot with the air forces in Italy, is the president. Assisting her as first vice president is Mrs. Violet Beaudro, Mrs. Eben T. Sabin is second vice president; Mrs. Charles Reinlie, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. H. Orcutt, recording secretary; Mrs. John Larsen, parliamentarian; Mrs. Howard B. Polston, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Beaudro, assistant treasurer; Mrs. John Krambo, auditor, and Mrs. Fred Tallent, chaplain.

Mrs. George Hartford of Bundles for America and Mrs. Roy E. Olin of the American Women's Voluntary services addressed the Silver Wings' organization meeting, which was under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Sands, who came from Atlanta, Ga., home of the club's national headquarters, to help with organization.

The Silver Wings club will meet the first Tuesday of every month at 8 p. m. to accommodate business women. Women interested in joining may call Mrs. Reinlie at Mulberry 4467.

Women eligible to enlist in the women's reserve of the marines may, if they are qualified, be given air force positions. Lt. Katherine B. Persons, senior recruiting officer of the women's reserve in Chicago, reports that half the enlistment quota is needed to fill jobs in ground operations.

Initial classification, after basic training at Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C., determines whether an officer or enlisted woman is suited for work in aviation. If she is selected, she takes further training at the marine corps air station at Cherry Point, N. C., where officers assign enlisted personnel to aviation schools or send them into apprentice training at the base.

Officers who are sent to Cherry Point from officer candidate school receive aviation indoctrination, and take an intensive course which includes chemical warfare, taught by noncommissioned women reservists.

Friday evening the Navy Sisters' and Wives' club will have a benefit card party, the proceeds of which will go to the canteen fund of the club. The event will take place in the rumpus room of the Navy Mothers' club, of which the sisters' group is an auxiliary, at 335 North Michigan avenue.

The All-Nations war bond booth in the Chicago public library, Randolph and Washington streets, which was set up Nov. 1, has brought in total sales of $58,174, according to midmonth compilations. Mrs. Donald F. McPherson and Mrs. John Alden Carpenter are co-chairman of the booth, a project of the women's division, war finance committee of Cook county.

A different national group takes charge of the booth each day. Special programs include exhibits of films made of European countries.

BY JUDITH CASS.

A NEW name on the debut list is that of Miss Louise Warner Herdic, whose coming out party will be an open house Dec. 18, with Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. John Eliot Warner, and Miss Barbara Warner as hosts and hostesses. Miss Herdic, niece of Mrs. Wheeler and of Mr. Warner, lives with the Warners, and the party will be given in the Warners' Walton place home.

Only young people will be invited to the informal gathering, and later many of them will be going on to the "pop" concert benefit which the woman's board of the Travelers Aid society is giving at the Drake. Instead of Braggiotti and Shaw, as previously announced, the evening's artists will be Shaw and Druke, as Mario Braggiotti, husband of the former Mary Melville Clow, has been drafted. There is no chance that the present combination will be changed, for Walter Shaw is 4-F in the draft. Helene Druke is his wife.

The Emory Wilders have decided on a New Year's day tea to introduce to society their daughter, Deborah. The party will be given in the Wilders' home in Helm road, Dundee.

Mrs. Darrow B. Fulton's Ritchie court home will be the scene of an old fashioned tea Dec. 21, when Mrs. Fulton will introduce her daughter, Nancy, to society. Miss Fulton, a student at Radcliffe college, has a younger sister, Leslie, who is at St. Timothy's. A similar party will be the George Van Burens' tea Dec. 29 for their daughter, Joan, who is arriving at home Dec. 15 from Wellesley college. The bud will share honors with her grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Stewart, whose 90th birthday anniversary falls on the same day.

Other Debut Parties.

The debut tea which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Bingham Jr. will give at home in Highland Park to introduce their daughter, Gwenyth, has been changed from Jan. 2 to New Year's day. The Henry N. Rowleys are planning a small luncheon for Jan. 2 for three of the season's debutantes, Mrs. Rowley's niece, Miss Florence Curtis; Miss Helen Priebe, and Miss Diana Prosser.

One of the latest parties on the holiday calendar is a luncheon Jan. 13 for Miss Nancy Kochs, daughter of Mrs. Kennedy Kochs and of Herbert Kochs. Miss Kochs, a graduate of the Girls' Latin school, attends Wellesley. The party is being given on her birthday.

The Francis E. Manierres, who had hoped to entertain New Year's eve at the Onwentsia club for their debutante daughter, Jere, have abandoned their plans because of the escort shortage. When Miss Manierre arrives at home Dec. 19 from

$5 PRIZE RECIPE

Emergency Frosting.
[For one dozen cookies or cup cakes.]

1 chocolate coated nougat, fondant, or marshmallow candy bar
Hot coffee
1 tablespoon softened margarine

Chop candy bar rather fine. Have coffee boiling. Add coffee by spoonfuls to candy, stirring constantly, until mixture is of spreading consistency. Stir until smooth. If too much liquid is added, boil two or three minutes to thicken. Stir in margarine and spread immediately. There will be less danger of adding too much liquid if mixed in a bowl set over hot, not boiling, water.

College Club to Entertain Maholy-Nagys at Dinner

The Chicago College club will give a dinner at 6:30 o'clock tonight for Mr. and Mrs. Laszlo Maholy-Nagy in its rooms at 30 North Michigan avenue. Mr. Maholy-Nagy, internationally known as an artist and photographer and director of the School of Design here, will speak, taking "The New Vision" for his theme. On the hostess committee for the evening will be Miss Georgia Boolookas and Miss Doris A. Tonk.

WAC Officer Is Married to Capt. Gilbert

Wearing her uniform as a captain in the women's army corps, Capt. Elenor Sweet, WAC staff director of the army air force training command at Orlando, Fla., became the bride of Capt. William McKean Gilbert of the army air forces, son of Mrs. William S. Gilbert of 2516 Park place, Evanston, and Santa Rosa, Cal., Nov. 23. The ceremony took place in Knowles Memorial chapel at Rollins college, Winter Park, Fla.

The bride, daughter of Col. William H. Sweet, stationed in Panama, and of Mrs. Sweet of Los Angeles, Cal., attended the University of Southern California and the Florida State College for Women. Capt. Gilbert, a graduate of De Paul university, completed 35 bombing missions in the Pacific war theater and received the distinguished flying cross and the air medal and oak leaf cluster in India. He now is stationed in the A. A. F. T. C. in Orlando, at which he and his bride will continue their work.

Lt. Richard Weedon Payne Jr. of the navy and his bride, the former Mary Virginia Lueders, are at home in Little Creek, Va., following their marriage Oct. 30 in Hinsdale. The wedding was one of the many "rushed" war time ceremonies and took place in the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. August Henry Lueders. Mrs. Harry Whiting Brown II. was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Edith Roache of Richmond, Va., was maid of honor. Lt. Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Payne of Richmond, had his father as best man, and Mr. Brown and Thomas Daffner ushered.

The marriage of Miss Jeannette Winter to Donald Victor Whelan is of interest here because the bride's father, Ezra Winter, widely known mural painter, taught for a number of years at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, while her mother, Mrs. Vera Beaudette Winter, was born

Recipes Given for Dishes on Current Menus

Following are recipes for two of the dishes included on Mary Meade's ration budget menus this week:

Cheese and Green Pepper Fondue: Pour 1 cup milk over 1⅓ cups soft bread crumbs and let stand until milk is absorbed. Add 1 cup grated American cheese, 2 beaten egg yolks, ⅔ teaspoon salt, dash of paprika and cayenne, and ⅓ cup chopped green pepper which has been lightly sauteed in 1 tablespoon margarine. Mix lightly. Fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, turn into greased baking dish, and put in shallow pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven [350 degrees] 30 to 35 minutes or until delicately brown and firm.

Steamed Carrot Pudding: Sift together 1 cup flour, ½ teaspoon soda, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, and ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg; mix in ⅔ cup currants, raisins, or chopped dried prunes. Add ½ cup ground raw carrots, ½ cup ground raw potatoes, ¼ cup melted shortening, and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Stir all ingredients together quickly but thoroly and pour into a greased pudding mold or can, filling ⅔ full. Cover tightly with lid or waxed or greased paper, tieing it on with string. Place on rack in kettle of boiling water, having water come up halfway around can. Cover kettle or steamer and steam 2 hours. Serve hot with orange or lemon sauce.

Other recipes will be given with Mary Meade's menus which appear daily.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY.

Hi.

To any one with seeing eyes, Chicago displays as many smiles per square mile as the beloved little town where folks say: "Mornin' Miss . . ."

Sometimes, of course, the smile doesn't show in curving lips—sometimes it shows in obscure, unnoted kindness. Policemen comfort wailing waifs or accompany feeble, bewildered persons home. Harassed cafeteria cashiers break bills cheerfully. Hungry foundry men shout for quick coffee—not for themselves but for the only woman in a corner lunchroom.

Proprietors and waitresses in a crowded restaurant create a friendly atmosphere for their guests. Artists, housewives, teachers, social workers, war workers, students, service men, and grandparents exchange anecdotes while the baby in the high chair at the next table beats "welcome" in code with banging spoon.

This is the way a big city smiles—this is the way it says "Hi" instead of "Mornin' miss."

Praise Be.

SECRETARY—What will people think? We want a secretary—not a combin. steno. "Handyman." She won't need to remind the boss to wear rubbers when it rains, but ability to take accurate dictation, ans. a phone diplomatically, handle some corres. on her own will please us. . . .

I don't know what other people will think, but I can answer for the secretaries: "Praise Be!" If a secretary with the qualifications specified will please the boss, I'm quite sure a sense of humor such as his, will please the secretary.

Almost any one of us can forgive the boss who dictates too slowly, too rapidly, ungrammatically, mumblingly, who chews a cigar, or makes his letters a mass of corrections and changes—if only he has a sense of humor.

KATHERINE RIFF.

White Collar Quote.

One should be truly convinced that there is no end to improvement. There is never any one best way—it is only today's best way.

Quiet Workers.

The United States Rubber company has an interesting inspection line in the ordnance plant at Des Moines and now at Milwaukee. It's a quiet division — the workers are deaf.

The results have been outstanding; the fine sense of touch of the deaf has been valuable in inspection operation.

Over their heads flies a silk American flag. Under it the women work, inspecting bullets and cartridges. Each has prepared a written statement as to why she wants to do this work, and what do they all express? Appreciation "for the chance to serve."

Cozy Lounging Pajamas Steal Back in Vogue

BY REA SEEGER.

Lounging pajamas are stealing the fashion spotlight after years of comparative oblivion. New, cozily warm creations offer both extra warmth and picturesque color. Warmth is achieved with decorative quilting over feather-light padding. The handsome jacket tops range from variations of Persian swirled peplum jackets to the sleek silhouette of a Chinese coolie coat.

Even the trousers or slacks are padded and quilted in nearly every model. Cozy as they are, there is nothing cumbersome or ungainly in these padded and quilted coats and trousers, and the two pieces seldom weigh as much as a padded and quilted velvet housecoat. The outfits use bright prints against white, pale pastel shades and brilliant red and green.

Decorative lounging costumes consist of padded slacks of dull black crepe worn with a beautiful padded velvet coat. The coat is one of those swanky affairs with deep rippling peplum that reaches the knee line. A gold kidskin belt and brilliant buttons accent the sleek tailored lines of the blouse, and the slacks are lined with white silk or satin. Black velvet slacks, unlined, are worn with a gay coolie coat of Chinese vermilion, embroidered with an allover design. The dull crepe padded and lined slacks are worn with vivid red or ivory white jackets. The leopard printed velvet tops are worn with brown satin or black velvet. Among the smartest finds, especially for gift shoppers, are the printed pastels and these dramatic combinations of velvet and crepe.

U. of C. Settlement Board Will Have Rummage Sale

The Student Settlement board of the University of Chicago is collecting clothes for a rummage sale to be held Saturday at 1321 East 63d street for the benefit of the settlement. The sale is being held in place of the usual fashion show. The settlement was founded in 1894 by William Rainey Harper, then president of the university.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 29—Gertrude Lawrence found him, Metro's got him, Bob Leonard directs him, and Hugh Marlowe plays the second lead with Lana Turner in "Marriage Is a Private Affair." They certainly haven't wasted any time. This is Hugh's second picture handed him in two days. Imagine getting Lana Turner and Bob Leonard in your first picture. Boy! If that's not luck! John Hodiak actually gets Lana, but Hugh trails along. . . . It delights me to see Zasu Pitts starring in "Ramshackle Inn" in Boston, with some of the best names in the show business supporting her. We've loved Pitts for years. She's been outstanding. She's made many dull pictures less dull. Her first stage appearance here without any training was in one of Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8:30" playlets put on for charity. She absolutely enraged its all star cast. No matter what Pitts did, the audience roared. I only hope this play measures up to Pitts.

Reunion in Boston.

Lt. Hal Grieve writes from Quonset, R. I., that Ensign Tom Cunningham says he's not fighting the war for Gypsy Rose Lee but for Paulette Goddard and rare roast beef. Margaret Sullavan sent tickets for her show in Boston to Hal and eight pilot pals. They all had dinner and supper after the show with her. Says Hal, "She does a beautiful acting job. A most amusing play with only three people and a million laughs. Sullavan was assembled by Adrian, Hattie Carnegie, and Mexican peasants, and her play will probably run till her children graduate from Westlake School for Girls. Henry Fonda's up here in school. I'm running around in circles. I've been doing it so long my gears won't slow down."

Builder-Upper.

Ann Savage.

Columbia's "Two Man Submarine" will have Ann Savage and Tom Neal in the leads. They've just completed "Klondike Kate." Tom has been called "The Road Show Clark Gable" but he's beginning to forget the captain and give out with that old Neal personality. . . . Samuel Bronston, who put Jack London's life on the screen, is east trying again to get permission to film the life of Brig. Gen. William [Billy] Mitchell. . . . As soon as Benny Goodman heard Twentieth was about to do "Kitten on the Keys," he started right in doing a swing version of "My Mother's Eyes." . . . Jose Iturbi loves families. When he takes Betty Asher out to dine, her brother goes, too.

Slight Cave-In.

Adolphe Menjou, after five months in Europe and making speeches to help our victory committee since his return, has taken to his bed for a five days rest on doctor's orders. He took time out to send me a hat which came from Gen. Charles de Gaulle. It was sent by my friend and neighbor, Lt. Comdr. Jack Carter.

Well, Now.

Donald O'Connor, whose picture "Top Hat" you'll be seeing, decided to get his own breakfast before pushing off to work. Just as he was drinking his coffee came a knock at the door. There was a tramp asking for a handout. He looked so old and hungry Donald not only took him in but started cooking bacon for him. At this point his mother appeared and said, "I don't mind your giving him breakfast, but bacon is pretty scarce around here." At which the tramp took out his ration book and said, "Madame, I haven't much use for this!"—and whipped off 46 points.

Joking Aside.

Fun's fun, but just why should Bing Crosby attend a pre-view of Swoonatra's first epic, "Higher and Higher?" If Swoonatra's wise, he won't go either. . . . It's Phil Baker's description of a tired star: "She wears pancake makeup on, but has a waffle complexion off." . . . The Duncan sisters' new song is "Bifocal Built for Two." . . . Paul Stewart, Cary Grant's gangster pal in "Mr. Lucky," went coy on Olivia de Havilland in "Government Girl." . . . Has Edward G. Robinson, "King of Gangsters," gone soft on us? The answer is yes. In his last five pictures there wasn't a trace of a mug. In his next, "Mr. Winkle Goes to War," he plays a milquetoast sort of character, and in "Once Off Guard," which is set for 1944, he'll be a professor of English literature. Shades of little Caesar! How he must haunt himself in his dreams! . . . Smiley Burdette is telling friends of his live stock business. Other day, he bought a pig for $40, swapped it in for a lamb, traded the lamb for a crate of chickens, traded the chickens for a rabbit hutch, swapped the rabbit hutch for a calf, and then sold the calf to Cookie Fairchild for $40. "Didn't make any profit," says Smiley, "but boy, what fun!"

INSTALMENT XIV.

HELP REFUSED.

"Is it any of MacGowan's business where Jess was?" Purdy asked, bristling up.

This was startling news.

Dunn was the first to speak. "So you've thrown in with our enemies," he cried angrily.

"No," Neal denied. "But I won't have my good neighbors shot down from ambush. And when I knew you in the old days, Allan, you wouldn't have stood for it either."

"I won't stand for it now any more than I would then," Dunn retorted hotly. "But I want more evidence than your say-so."

Neal did not want to go too closely into the evidence, since this led back to the stage robbery in which Dunn probably had been involved. He said, stretching a point: "Blackburn was recognized."

"Another lie," the killer screamed.

"Who saw him?" Dunn asked.

MacGowan shook his head. "Can't tell you that, Allan. Same thing might happen to him that did to Lane and his daughter."

"Whoever says he saw me shoot the Lane girl is lying," Blackburn broke out.

"Since you are innocent, you won't mind going down with me to meet yore accuser," Neal said.

Blackburn pounded the table with a hamlike fist. "I won't go a foot of the way," he roared. "If I went I'd be arrested on some other trumped-up charge. The big ranches have got it in for me."

"Sounds reasonable," Dunn agreed.

The lank rustler was in a quandary. He did not want to protect a coldblooded assassin. Once or twice he had suspected that Blackburn had killed Stuart Lane, and he had rejected the thought because he did not want to believe it. Now he was almost convinced. Moreover, he knew that the fellow had been out of the Gap yesterday, and he could see a sick fear sticking out of all his protests. But Dunn's past misdeeds tied him to the ruffian. He had been in the Sheridan stage holdup and had seen Cole Tracy shot from his seat. Allan made a temporary decision to keep his hands off and let Neal and Blackburn settle this themselves.

"Saddle a horse for Blackburn to ride, Fox," MacGowan ordered quietly. "He's going with us."

Blackburn appealed to Dunn. "He's got another fellow with him. You wouldn't let him pull a dirty trick like this on me, would you, Allan?"

Dunn looked at him in sour distaste. "How do I know whether you did or didn't shoot Miss Lane? You've lied ever since Neal came into the room. You were outa the Gap yesterday. I met you coming across from Squaw Creek. Settle this with him yourself."

As Fox slid out of the room, Blackburn yelled after him, "Don't you saddle that horse, Luke, for I won't be using it."

"Step outside and see he slaps a saddle on a bronc, Tim," his employer said.

Owen had his eyes on Blackburn, who had fallen back from the table to one of the bunks ranged along the wall. Tim could see the butt of a revolver sticking out from under the edge of a blanket.

"I see you sleep with a gun under the blanket beside you, Jess," he said, with intent to convey the news to his friend. "I'd be scared to do that for fear I'd roll over it and shoot myself."

Neal laughed. "Much obliged Tim. I see the gun. You mustn't put notions in Mr. Blackburn's head."

The pale blue eyes of Dunn rested on the cornered man. He was curious to see what the fellow would do. The man had an evil reputation as a killer, but that did not necessarily imply courage.

That the big ruffian had meant to snatch up the revolver lying so close to his fingertips and send lead crashing into Neal's body all of them in the cabin were aware. The marshal had not moved his hand a fraction of an inch nearer the .45 suspended from his hip, but the poised wariness of his stance, the steadiness of the watchful brown eyes, were warning enough that he would get into action lightning fast. But even if Blackburn shot MacGowan, as he very likely would, the officer might still kill him. Moreover, Tim Owen had to be taken into account.

"I don't want trouble with you, MacGowan," he said quickly. "All I'm askin' is for you to let me alone."

Neal said to Tim, not lifting his gaze from the outlaw, nor raising his voice, "Better get a move on you and see Fox is saddling the horse."

The K-B cowboy said "Okay, boss," and walked out of the room.

Still doubtful about leaving his chief alone in that den of wolves, Tim Owen hesitated at the door and looked back into the room. Blackburn still stood in front of the bunk, black sullen anger in his face.

Dunn looked at the whipped bully, a cynical smile on his scornful lips. "Jess has changed his mind, Neal," he said.

"There's two of them to one," Blackburn complained unhappily, to bolster a lost reputation.

"Better move forward to the table," Neal suggested.

Blackburn did as he was told, his feet dragging.

"I'll see about the horse," Tim called in, and started for the corral.

He could see horses milling around the inclosure. Luke Fox had roped one and was saddling it, a flea-bitten sorrel owned by himself.

"I guess you're hard of hearing, Luke," he said. "Neal told you to get a horse ready for Jess, not one for yourself. You're not the guy we want—yet."

Fox slid an angry look at the cowboy, "I'm gettin' outa here pronto," he announced, and tightened a cinch. "I got to see a fellow."

"You do yore chores first," Tim drawled.

"What's the matter with you saddling the horse?" Fox snapped. "You're able-bodied—got two hands and two feet."

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

The weaker the trump suit, the more skill is required in maintaining control of the entire hand. Consider the following typical case.

South, dealer.

NORTH
♥ 5
♦ A 5 4 2

WEST
♠ A
♥ K Q 10 8 4
♦ Q J 8 7 6
♣ 9 2

EAST
♠ K Q 9 6
♥ 6 3 2
♦ 10 9 3
♣ 10 7 4

SOUTH
♠ J 10 5 4 2
♥ A J 9 7
♦ K
♣ A 8 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	2 hearts	3 clubs	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's rebid of that "mangy" five-card suit was one of those actions that a good player hates to take but which are sometimes forced upon him, for want of something better. North's free three club bid was an absolute force, hence South had to bid something on the second round, and his singleton diamond deterred him from launching into no trump.

West opened the heart king. Declarer won and considered various lines of play. Obviously, if he could get out the trumps he would be able to discard all his losers on dummy's high cards, but the danger was that if he started the trump-drawing process the opponents might finish it and then cash one or more heart tricks before surrendering the lead.

Declarer decided to pin his faith in a partial cross-ruff. He cashed the diamond king, ruffed a heart, discarded a heart on the diamond ace, then ruffed a diamond. He then ruffed his last heart. When East had to follow suit, things looked much brighter. The last diamond was now led from dummy, and East, making the best of a bad bargain, discarded a club. Declarer ruffed with the trump four, then cashed the ace and king of clubs. This left the position as follows:

♠ 8
♣ Q J 6

WEST
♥ 10 4
♦ Q

EAST
♠ K Q 9 6

SOUTH
♠ J 10 5
♣ 8

Declarer already had taken nine tricks and needed only one more, so he led the trump eight from dummy. East correctly ducked, but to no avail. West had to win with the blank ace and return a red card. Now South was sure of the fulfilling trick. If East ruffed high, South would discard his club and take the last trick with the spade jack; if East ruffed low, South would overruff on the spot.

Thru the Looking Glass

This year on your shopping expeditions past those alluring cosmetic counters you won't see nearly as many fitted beauty cases as you saw in the past. Few houses have them in any quantities, and if it's a beauty-kit-bag you want, you'd better be plenty sharp about scouting for it.

One we like particularly — and when we looked a few days ago there were several around—is of simulated leather with a waterproof lining that has the great advantage of being a whale of a good portable dressing table without being at all bulky or heavy. It's handbag size, 10 inches long and no more than four and a half inches across at the bottom — and it's a good looker. The last thing in the world a woman who has to travel wants nowadays is an unwieldy piece of luggage; this fitted case is not much heavier than her pocketbook and is carried exactly like one.

Inside it, in a miraculously compact array, are fine beauty essentials: cleansing cream, lubricating cream, skin freshener, foundation lotion, face powder, rouge, and lipstick. All these are in generous quantities, but what we like best is that there is also a generous compartment [how it is managed we marvel at] where she can carry what ordinarily would go in her pocketbook. This can double as a purse and a beauty bag if she really wants to travel light. Or she can use that compartment in the kit for hairnet, cleansing tissue, hair pins, soap, brush, or any other paraphernalia she needs for good grooming while on the wing. The case is fitted with comb and mirror, by the way.

Among the limited number of fitted bags this is a standout—efficient, attractive, and remarkably inexpensive considering the quality of it and its contents.

the Finch school she will be accompanied by a classmate, Miss Priscilla Simonds of California, who will be spending the 10 day holiday with the Manierres.

On the subdebutante calendar is a small dinner which Mrs. John Bitter is giving Dec. 19 at the Empire room of the Palmer House for Ethel Walker classmates of her daughter, Miss Dorothy Dick. Mrs. Bitter and Miss Dick, whose father is Sheldon Dick, are arriving the 18th from New York to stay at the Ambassador for a few days.

Because of the death of Mrs. Ludlow S. Fowler [Elsie Blatchford] in an automobile accident in Tuxedo, N. Y., Saturday, the debut tea her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Blatchford of Winnetka, had planned New Year's day for their granddaughter, Miss Joyce Berry, has been canceled.

On the Calendar.

A parade and several elephants borrowed from a circus preceded the first sale ever given by the White Elephant Rummage shop committee of the Children's Memorial hospital in 1916, but there will be no such fancy trappings surrounding the committee's silver anniversary tea and games party this afternoon at the Casino. On display, however, will be the hundreds of gifts of silver brought as admission to the party and which will go on sale Dec. 7 in the shop at 27 East Ohio street.

Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, a member of the committee, was chairman of the first sale. Others who are active in making today's gathering a success who were on the committee for the 1916 sale are Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, and Mrs. George D. McLaughlin. Admission to this afternoon's party is a package of rummage, silver preferably, in honor of the occasion, but any gift will be acceptable.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker are entertaining at dinner at the Casino Saturday night for Rear Adm. and Mrs. John Downes. Adm. Downes is retiring from the navy.

Engagement News.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hart of Hinsdale announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha Tertia, to Flight Sgt. John F. Dunham, R.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dunham of Blofield, Norwich, Norfolk, England. Miss Hart is a granddaughter of the late Rev. Johnston Myers, who for 40 years was pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church in Chicago. Flight Sgt. Dunham is stationed in Canada.

From Yonkers, N. Y., comes word from Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Bell of the engagement of Mrs. Bell's daughter, Miss Joanne Bunker, to Ensign John M. Patterson of the naval reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Patterson of La Grange. Miss Bunker was graduated from the Emma Willard school and attended Smith college. Her fiancé received his degree from Purdue university in 1940.

From Grand Rapids, Mich., comes word of the engagement of Miss Virginia Margaret Cartier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Edward Cartier, formerly of Hubbard Woods and Bannockburn, to Midshipman Donald Francis Maguire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Philip Maguire of St. Louis, Mo. Miss Cartier attended Marywood academy and St. Mary's college in South Bend, Ind. Her fiance received his degree in 1941 from the University of Notre Dame and now is attending the naval reserve midshipman's school there.

Birth News.

The junior G. Owen Fairweathers [Sally Hallberg] have named their first child Ellen Vail after her maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Vail of Evanston. Little Ellen, who was born Nov. 20 in Evanston hospital, is a granddaughter of the Lawrence G. Hallbergs of Evanston and of the George Owen Fairweathers of Barrington.

Mrs. Bob G., Decatur, Ill.—I have found that "moderation" pays in washing brushes. I wash mine in soapy warm water, never hot or boiling water, shake and hang at room temperature to dry. I never try to hasten drying in summer by hanging them in the sun or put them outdoors to dry in cold weather.

Ruth P. Stout, 2553 East 76th street — Scrubbing the bathroom floor is less work since I have been using my vacuum attachment to pick up the dust which accumulates so quickly when the window is open. With this dust gone, the scrubbing is much less distasteful.

Mrs. Andrew W., Des Moines, Ia.—When I wrap sandwiches, cakes, etc., for a family luncheon, I have found an easy way to seal the package and keep out as much air as possible. I press a hot knife, or any other piece of metal, over the seams of the waxed paper and they adhere.

Mrs. Coleman to Talk Before G. O. P. Women

The Women's Republican Club of Illinois will have Mrs. Jewell Organ Coleman, superintendent of women's and children's employment in the state department of labor, as its guest speaker at a meeting at 2:15 p. m. tomorrow on the mezzanine floor of the La Salle hotel. Mrs. Coleman's talk will be on "Women and Children in War Time." She will show slides. Board members will gather at 11 a. m. for a conference with the club president, Mrs. Ethyl G. Kennedy.

and reared in Chicago. The ceremony took place Nov. 27 in the Church of St. Mary the Virgin in Chappaqua, N. Y., with a reception following in Mrs. Winter's home there. The bride studied at the Art Students' league in New York. Mr. Whelan was graduated from the department of architecture at Rensselaer Polytechnic institute. He is the son of Mrs. Rose Mary Whelan of New York and of George K. Guinzberg of Chappaqua.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sass of River Forest announce the marriage Nov. 20 of their daughter, Sherle Maxine, to Ensign Charles Michael Becker of Racine, Wis. The ceremony took place in the North Austin Lutheran church and was followed by a reception at the North Shore Country club. Ensign Becker has taken his bride to the east coast, where he is stationed. They both were graduated from Lake Forest college.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Mary Catherine Flynn of Minneapolis, Minn., sister of Gerald Flynn of Cannon Falls, Minn., to Thomas Leonard Collins, son of Mrs. Margaret Collins of Diversey parkway, Nov. 17 in St. Sebastian's church, with a reception and wedding breakfast following at the Edgewater Beach hotel. The bride is a graduate of Mankato Teachers' college. Mr. Collins received his degree from Columbia college in Dubuque, Ia.

Tenor James Conlin, in a Recital, Leaves Much to Be Desired

James R. Conlin, a tenor, gave a recital in Orchestra hall last night before an audience that could have been comfortably accommodated in a much smaller auditorium.

Mr. Conlin, it was plain, owns a voice that, if subjected to even rudimentary discipline, might prove valuable in these times of tenor famine. But he is ill prepared to cope with an aria such as "Una furtiva lagrima" from "L'Elisir d'Amore," a touchstone of every lyric tenor, or even that favorite of every dramatic tenor, "E lucevan le stelle" from "Tosca," which has survived plenty of bellowing in its day. Mr. Conlin's specialty is no doubt Irish songs, but here it is kinder to believe that he was indisposed. At least we do not think under other circumstances his voice would break repeatedly in such simple songs as "Because."

The genuine musical interest of the concert was provided by Hans Muenzer, whose violin solo, Saint-Saens' "Rondo Capriccioso," was deftly and agreeably performed, tho weighted down with a millstone accompaniment. The pianist, Joachim Gunther, later made free with two compositions by Rachmaninoff, the Melody in E major and "Polichinelle."

Crocheted Cap

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A fetching crocheted Dutch bonnet is the newest hat wrinkle. It is created in an attractive shell stitch, and made in one piece with two tiny vents which are tied at the bottom with small velvet bows. Chenille, knitting worsted or four ply cotton are materials from which this hat may be created.

For instructions in crocheting the Dutch bonnet, No. 468, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth av., New York City.

Let Children Help Prepare for Christmas

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

As the first day of the new month draws near, I wonder, does any one ever say the word "December" without thinking instantly, "Christmas."

Of course this year our Christmas preparations have been going on for months, since all those overseas holiday packages for husbands, brothers, sons, fathers, and sweethearts in the services have had to be ready and sent off long before this—the one exception being, as I was able to find out, for men in the merchant marine.

As December always means Christmas, so Christmas means all sorts of preparations for that best of all red-letter days. Likewise, I would suggest that preparations shouldn't go forward without the children sharing in them all.

If you let them share these festive doings, the late afternoons or early evenings [depending upon your child's age and hours], and also the Saturdays and Sundays, December can be happily devoted to all the entrancing preparations for Christmas.

KNOX SPARKLING GELATINE

RECIPE

KNOX COFFEE CHIFFON PIE

(Filling for one 9" pie)

1 envelope Knox Gelatine
3 tablespoonfuls cold coffee
1 cup strong hot coffee
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoonful salt
3 egg yolks
3 egg whites, beaten stiff
1 crumb crust or baked pie shell

Soften gelatine in cold coffee; add to hot coffee and stir until dissolved. Mix sugar, salt and egg yolks, add hot coffee-gelatine mixture gradually and stir thoroughly. Chill. When slightly thickened, beat until light and foamy. Fold in egg whites. Turn into crumb crust or baked pie shell and chill until firm. Sprinkle with chopped walnuts, or garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Walnut Crumb Crust: 1 cup crushed corn or wheat flakes, ¼ cup granulated sugar, ½ cup ground walnuts. Mix crumbs and sugar. Blend in walnuts. Then mix in 1 unbeaten egg white. Press into bottom and sides of pie pan firmly with finger-tips. Bake 350° F., 8-10 minutes. Extra yolk may be added to above recipe for coffee filling.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

TRADE STAR MARK Quality

For Company Dinners—Star Smoked Beef Tongue!

Even with meat rationing, you can still entertain! Here's how to fix a delicious meat to serve twelve guests ...for as little as 15 points!

Plan your party around beef tongue. Serve it hot, surrounded with a variety of vegetables, or serve it cold, using the recipe given here. Be sure to ask your meat man for Armour's Star Smoked Beef Tongue, weighing from 3 to 3½ pounds. It's a real delicacy ... a favorite of epicures!

There's no fuss or flurry when you fix beef tongue. Just place it in cold water to cover. Bring to a boil, turn heat low and let simmer 4-4½ hours until tongue is tender. Meanwhile, you can complete your other party plans without giving a thought to your meat!

MIDWAY VET, 20, STRANGLES HIS INTENDED BRIDE

'I Loved Her, but Lost My Head,' Says Slayer.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 29 [Special].—"I loved her. I didn't want to strangle her. But I lost my head and couldn't control my hands."

Shaking violently, Irvin McCafferty Cummins, 20 years old, a veteran of the Battle of Midway and son of a Tulane university professor, told from a jail cell today his story of killing his sweetheart, Joan Lewis, 17. He has been booked on a charge of murder.

The school girl was strangled as the couple sat in Cummins' car parked in a "lovers' lane" last night and "kissed as sweethearts do." They had planned to be married in about a year.

Belong to Social Set.

Both belonged to the younger society set. She was the daughter of D. M. Lewis, who is in the mercantile business and lives, as does young Cummins' family, in a fashionable uptown section of New Orleans. She was in her final year at Holy Name of Jesus school and active in the young peoples service league.

Cummins is the son of Dr. Harold Cummins, professor of microscopic anatomy in the Tulane medical school. He enlisted in the navy soon after Pearl Harbor, but about a year ago was given a medical discharge, the nature of which was not revealed, and was working here for a shipping firm.

"I loved her and she told me she loved me," Cummins said, "I can't understand why I did it." His agitation wracked his body with nervous spasms as he talked.

"I went to her home about 3 o'clock yesterday in my family's car," he related. "Joan and I ate sandwiches and talked until 5. Then we went to a restaurant and talked and had soft drinks and danced.

"After that we went to that place on Woodvine avenue. We'd been there once before. On several other occasions Joan and I had gone to other spots in Metairie" [a section of New Orleans].

Cummins was graduated last June from the fashionable Metairie Park Country Day school, where he resumed his studies after his discharge from the navy.

"As we sat in the car last evening we kissed as sweethearts do," the boy resumed. "We sat in the front seat of the car. I put my arm around Joan's shoulder.

"Got Scared and Ran."

"The next thing I knew I had hold of her neck with my hands. She went limp. I couldn't understand it. I hadn't hit her. I got scared and I ran."

Cummins said he ran to Ralph Boothby, headmaster of the Metairie school, and told him what had happened, "then I fainted."

Young Cummins said the feeling he had of "not being able to control my hands" was entirely new to him, that he never had experienced it before. Deputies of Jefferson parish [county] said the girl had not been raped.

The youth said he entered the navy soon after the United States declared war and that "I saw service in Samoa and I was in action at the Battle of Midway, on a destroyer."

He suffered a breakdown after Midway and entered the navy's Mare Island hospital at Imola, Cal., Aug. 22, 1942. He was there until Nov. 2, when he was discharged from service for medical reasons.

Asked the nature of those medical reasons, the boy shook violently and did not answer. His father said there was nothing on his discharge papers to show the exact reason for his discharge.

SALESMAN KILLS FOUR WITH GUN; THEN ENDS LIFE

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 29 [Special].—Two double slayings in widely separated sections of the city were linked today by the suicide of William Harrison, 58 year old Negro real estate salesman, who shot himself with the same gun used in the previous killings.

The victims were Samuel Clokey, 58, and his real estate partner, David Finke, 47, employers of Harrison, and two Negro women employed in the Christian street Y. M. C. A. where Harrison lived. Clokey was treasurer of Grace Baptist temple, one of the city's leading churches.

At Clokey's real estate office, where the shooting of Clokey and Finke took place, employes said that Harrison had had a quarrel Saturday about a check.

The victims at the Y. M. C. A. were Mrs. Nora Harley, 26, assistant secretary, and Madease Chapell, 29, a maid, both Negroes.

DELAY MOTION TO PUT HAMMER SLAYER ON TRIAL

Hearing on a motion for a new trial in the case of Paul Harrison, alleged hammer slayer of three men and a woman 12 years ago, was continued yesterday to Friday by Judge Rudolph Desort in Criminal court. The motion was made by Richard Devine, friend of the court, and Gordon Nash, assistant state's attorney. Harrison was found sane by a jury last week. Unless the state is granted a new trial, he will be freed from the Illinois Security hospital at Menard, where he has been confined since 1932 as a result of the murders.

BOY, 14, ADMITS KILLING MAN TO STEAL HIS CAR

St. Joseph, Mich., Nov. 29 [Special].—A tow headed boy of 14, who smoked, drank a little beer, and "ran around with the girls," was held in the county jail here tonight on a charge of murder after he confessed beating a man to death with a shotgun barrel to get his car.

The young slayer is Eugene Parritt, 5 feet 7 inches tall and looking older than his 14 years, the youngest in a family of 10. His father, Samuel, is a laborer in a cement block plant at Sodus, a village five miles southeast of here.

His victim was Jesse Riggs, 59, a farm laborer, a friend of the boy, who had visited him many times in the shack where Riggs lived alone near the St. Joseph river a two miles from the Parritt home.

Thought About It a Week.

Eugene had owned a second hand car but the transmission wore out and he wanted another one. For a week he had thought about stealing Riggs' automobile and finally decided to "knock out the old man" and take it. He sawed off the barrel of his 12 gauge shotgun to use as a weapon and, Saturday night, the night before the slaying, "was so excited he couldn't sleep."

Carrying the foot long piece of shotgun barrel, he went to Riggs' place Sunday morning and talked to him at length about buying a revolver, which he admitted was only a ruse. Finally, he suggested that Riggs drive him home, for which he promised to pay.

Found Dead in Yard.

He followed Riggs out to the garage and, when the man leaned over to take a prop from in front of the garage door, he struck him on the head three times with the gun barrel. Then he got in Riggs' car and drove away. Later Riggs was found dead in his back yard.

Father Notifies Police.

In the evening he drove home and, filled with remorse, told his father what he had done, but unaware then that he had killed a man. He asked his father to send him by bus to Kentucky where he had intended to drive with the stolen car to get a job. However, his father notified authorities and they hurried to Riggs' shack.

The boy was arraigned today before Justice of the Peace John Rody, after Juvenile authorities had waived jurisdiction, and was bound over to the Circuit court for trial on a charge of first degree murder.

Liquor Permits Decline; 22 Taverns Quit Business

William P. Geis, deputy city collector, said yesterday that 7,549 liquor licenses have been issued for the half year period beginning Nov. 1, or 117 fewer than were issued for the previous half year period. Police Commissioner James P. Allman, who ordered police to close all taverns that had not obtained new licenses, said 22 of the 117 licensees who failed to renew their permits had gone out of business.

OHIO ENTRY TO 'BEGIN LIFE' IN ALL-STAR MEET

He'll Compete on 40th Birthday.

Schwoegler Enters

CONNIE SCHWOEGLER of Madison, Wis., who last year won the National All-Star individual match game bowling tournament, will defend his title in the renewal of the event which will open Saturday on the Auditorium lanes of the service men's center under the joint sponsorship of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

That now battered line about life beginning at 40 is due for another appearance next Saturday, when the third All-Star National individual match game bowling tournament opens in the Auditorium Service Men's Center under the sponsorship of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

The reason will be Louis Farkas, the Ohio star who will celebrate his 40th birthday on that day by going to the line in American bowling's No. 1 competition. Louis, who is no relation to Anvil Andy of the Washington Redskins' football team, despite the fact that both hail from the same Hungarian neighborhood in Toledo, is the top representative of the Toledo Times, which recently conducted eliminations there under the direction of Sports Editor Tom Bolger.

Third in A. B. C. Standing.

Farkas made his debut in the All-Star tournament last year, finishing 44th. Louis' ability is attested by his 10 year average of 197 in American Bowling Congress tournaments. He stands third in the nation in the A. B. C. two year rankings, with all-events scores of 1,890 in St. Paul and 1,903 in Columbus. Altho he never has won a major championship, he has been a serious contender in every meet he's entered in recent years.

Joining Farkas in the Toledo delegation are three other Ohio veterans—Cy Sizemore, Leo Strugarek, and John Syroka.

Joe Dumesic Qualifies.

Another of the newspapers cooperating with the sponsors in holding local eliminations named its candidate over the week-end. He's 32 year old Joe Dumesic, who will carry the colors of the Milwaukee Journal, according to a report from Charles Nevada. Joe, a Kenosha war worker, won the Wisconsin state championship and the No. 1 Badger role by defeating George Andro of Marshfield, 4 games to 1, in their rubber match Sunday, after George, loser of the first rolldown, had squared the series by winning the second set on his home alleys.

Joining Dumesic in representing Wisconsin will be Runnerup Andro, John Mihlsimer, state southpaw titleholder; Edgar Koch, Andy Grille, and Burt Barkow, Milwaukee city champion.

13 Win Bowling Berths.

The Toledo and Milwaukee winners raise the total of bowlers who earned their places in the big show thru newspaper trials thruout the country to 13. The other 11 are Bruce Slanker, Oklahoma City Daily Times; Gene Braun, Valparaiso Vidette-Messenger; Earl Riffert, Evansville Courier; Eddie Scott, Kalamazoo Gazette; Coast Guardsman Dale Ward, San Francisco Chronicle; Joe Harris, Gary Post Tribune; Bob Eaves, Nashville Tennessean; Charles Stonebarger, Dayton News; Ben Rose, Philadelphia Record, and Bud Tierney, Kansas City Star.

S-T-E-E-R-R-I-K-E!

No, we don't mean the summertime brand that cuts the corner of home plate. We mean the type of strike the world's greatest bowlers will be pitching at ten pins in the third All-Star National individual match game championship tournament from Dec. 4 thru 12 over the lanes of the Auditorium Service Men's Center. This world series of the strike-and-spare sport is being presented by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America. Service men will be the recipients of the proceeds of the tournament. Ticket prices:

Badgers Beat DePauw Navy Quintet, 28-25

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29 [Special].—Bob Gallagher, captain-elect of Cornell university and now a naval trainee here, dropped in two long side shot baskets tonight in the final minutes to give Wisconsin a 28 to 25 victory over the DePauw Pre-Flight quintet in the opening game of the season before 4,000.

The Badgers, after leading at the half, 19 to 14, went 10 minutes without a basket as the navy boys leaped ahead, 24 to 20. Ray Patterson sank a rebound and a free throw and then Gallagher's heroics won the fierce fight.

Patterson High Scorer.

Patterson was high scorer with 14 points on five baskets and four free throws while Ed Sadowski's 11 markers were high for the losers.

DePauw slipped into a 6 to 3 lead on baskets by Russ Wendland, Sadowski, and Taylor while the Badgers sank a trio of free tosses. Bill Lovshin sank a side shot for the Badgers but Taylor's free toss and Sadowski's hook shot sent the navy ahead, 9 to 5.

Patterson's free toss and hook shot basket brought Wisconsin within a point but Sadowski's third basket widened the gap. Bill Johnson then sank a long toss. Don Dick bagged two free tosses and Patterson hooked in two more baskets plus a free throw to send the Badgers ahead at the half, 19 to 14.

DePauw Takes Lead.

Sadowski and Wendland scored free throws and the latter a basket as the second half started. Clarence Dykstra got a free throw for the Badgers but a basket by Cartier and two by Sadowski gave DePauw a 24 to 20 lead.

Patterson picked up a fumble under the basket to score. Tourek scored a free throw for DePauw's last point and then came Gallagher's two baskets to clinch the game.

Humphreys to Become Navy Sports Chief

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 29 (AP).—Capt. Charles Owen Humphreys will succeed Capt. John E. Whelchel as director of athletics at the Naval academy in the near future, it was announced tonight by Rear Adm. J. R. Beardall, superintendent.

Capt. Welchel, who coached the Middies' football team the last two seasons, has asked for sea duty and is expected to depart for a new assignment within a month.

Capt. Humphreys starred in baseball at the academy, captaining the team in 1922, the year he was graduated. He was Navy baseball coach in 1935 and 1936.

From 1929 to 1931 he was athletic officer of the New London, Conn., submarine base. He served in the academy executive department while coaching baseball. Capt. Humphreys has just returned to shore duty after several years with the fleet. He has seen service on cruisers and aircraft carriers, and more recently was commander of a submarine squadron.

May Delay Naming Coach.

Naming of Capt. Welchel's successor as football coach, it was reported, may be delayed until just before spring practice in 1944. There have been hints that the new coach will be a former Navy football star now commanding fleet units.

Capt. Whelchel, who took over the 1942 team, scored a pair of triumphs over Army. His team won five and lost four a year ago, and closed this season with eight victories and a lone loss to Notre Dame, the best record for Navy since 1934. At least 28 members of this year's team have played their last game for the Navy.

Miller's Friends Count Him Out.

Friends of Lt. Comdr. E. E. [Rip] Miller, Navy line coach, count him out of the head coaching assignment, declaring that the former Notre Dame star believes the post should go to an academy man. Miller was head coach three years beginning in 1931.

There were reports, however, that should it be found impracticable to bring in a graduate coach at this time, Miller would consent to take the job for the duration.

Southwestern Will Play New Mexico in Sun Bowl

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 29 (AP).—Southwestern university of Georgetown, Tex., will meet the University of New Mexico in the 1944 Sun bowl football game New Year's day, M. L. Hutchins of the Sun bowl committee said today.

BY ARCH WARD.

THE All-American Girls' Softball league is represented at the major league meetings in New York City by President Ken Sells. . . . His functions there have not been made clear, tho the league argues that the National and American could use some of its fielders advantageously. . . . When Lee Cunningham recently was awarded a football letter at Ohio State, he became the only athlete ever to receive a major letter from both Ohio State and Michigan. . . . Cunningham, a second string guard, won a monogram at Ann Arbor in 1942. . . . He was transferred from Ohio State to the Iowa Pre-Flight school the Thursday prior to the annual Michigan-Ohio State game and did not get to play against his alma mater. . . . Sen. A. B. [Happy] Chandler of Kentucky coached football, basketball, and baseball at Transylvania college until he entered political life. . . . Don Ameche, who used to attend the Kentucky Derby regularly before the war, hopes to have a starter in the 1945 race. . . . He has named his two colts, one by Bimelech and the other by Chance Play, for the 1944 futurities. The Bimelech colt is from the first crop of Col. E. R. Bradley's star performer. . . . After watching Herman Wedemeyer, St. Mary's Hawaiian-Chinese back in action, Ray Bray, former Chicago Bear guard, said: "Tell that kid to join the Bears and make some money for himself, if he's going to play football like that." . . . Bray played against Wedemeyer as a member of the Del Monte Pre-Flight team. . . .

The attendance at major league games, college football games, professional football games, horse racing, and hockey, and almost all other spectator sports must have convinced the most skeptical that America has indorsed the continuation of athletics thru the war. . . . Sport has failed in only one thing. . . . An activity which is supposed to develop aggressiveness, it has demonstrated a lack of aggressiveness in its leadership. . . . Until the public gave them an overwhelming vote of confidence, some operators approached the matter almost apologetically. . . . Sport is an important phase of American life—one of the few things we have left of the old order—and our fighting men as well as those on the home front want it preserved.

In a world crowded with commentators, forecasters, et al, I'd like to do a little predicting of my own. I'll bet 150 years from now a powerful Northwestern eleven will swamp Notre Dame, 82 to 0, in the new Dyche stadium. Just see if it doesn't come true. Brr-Im-Brr.

And upon their inner sides
You will find a smooth, warm lining,
Soft as velvet, there abides.

Thus, my friend, there is a likeness
In a chestnut burr's exterior
And the prickly personality
Of folks we deem inferior.

So I've come to this conclusion:
We must but the good extol,
We must quite ignore their roughness,
And admire the inner soul.

Ten Years Ago Today—The Chicago Bears overpowered the Chicago Cardinals, 22 to 6. . . . The Detroit Red Wings dropped the Chicago Blackhawks from first place with a 2 to 1 victory.

FULL SCHEDULES ADOPTED BY 3 MINOR LEAGUES

Bramham to Face Election Fight.

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—The American association and the International league late today gave the green light to baseball for the 1944 season by voting complete 154 game schedules. In addition, the American association approved an All-Star game next summer. The Southern association, a short time later, climbed aboard baseball's bandwagon by voting to play a 140 game schedule.

The American association schedule will extend from April 10, one week earlier than usual, until Sept. 10; the International league, April 20 to Sept. 10, and the Southern association from April 28 to Sept. 10.

The feud revolving around the presidency of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues gained momentum when the International league proposed the name of Frank J. Shaughnessy, International league president, as a candidate to succeed William G. Bramham, the incumbent minor league chieftain.

Blow to Suspended Leagues.

The International league also reelected all officers, headed by Shaughnessy. The others are George W. Weiss of the New York Yankees and Newark, N. J., Bears, vice president, and William K. Manley, secretary treasurer.

In the business meeting following the election, the International league concurred in action adopted by the American association as being emphatically opposed to restoration of the voting privileges of the 16 minor leagues which suspended operations last season, but which continued to pay dues.

The Southern association set the stage for a spirited fight against Bramham's regime by calling for the reëlection of Bramham at his present annual salary of $25,000 for a five year term.

Tigers May Get Bagby.

Meanwhile, the major leagues, which move into action on Wednesday, were starting to hear early trade rumors. One of the first names mentioned was that of Jim Bagby, right handed pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, who is supposedly ticketed for the Detroit Tigers in exchange for an outfielder.

Last season Bagby won 17 games and lost 14 between engaging in verbal feuds with his manager, Lou Boudreau. The Indians now have only two veteran outfielders.

Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants arrived at the scene of baseball activities on the crest of a minor trade wind when he announced that he would like to make a deal with the Chicago Cubs whereby Lou Novikoff, so-called problem child of the Cubs, would be with the Giants next year.

Seeks Deal with Cubs.

"Novikoff is a good hitter," Ott said. "There's no doubt he could help us and possibly we'll work out something with the Cubs to bring him here. I haven't had a chance to talk to Horace Stoneham and Leo Bondy [Giants' president and secretary-treasurer, respectively] yet and I don't even know whether Jim Gallagher and the other Cub officials are here. Consequently the possibilities concerning Novikoff are still in the formulative stage, altho I don't mind saying it would be nice to have him."

Bob Carpenter, the new president of the Philadelphia Phils, arrived for the meetings but refused to discuss impending deals until he has talked with Herb Pennock. Carpenter is attempting to sign Pennock, one time major league southpaw star, as the Phils' general manager, and altho the team is known to be in need of a catcher and shortstop, the 27 year old president of the Phils waived all questions aside until the Pennock matter is out of the way. Carpenter did say, however, that Ted McGrew remains as chief scout for the team.

The American league's rumor factory is expected to gain more supplies for its 24 hour a day production when Manager Jim Dykes of the Chicago White Sox arrives. Dykes headed east from Chicago today, announcing that he was after a shortstop to replace the veteran Luke Appling, who was inducted into the army last week.

CHOICE OF MATES

Dick Barwegen, veteran guard from Chicago, last night was elected by his teammates Purdue's most valuable football player for 1943 and thus qualified for The Chicago Tribune's silver football award, which will be presented the most valuable player in the Western conference.

Indiana named Capt. and Center John Tavener of Granville, O., as its most valuable last night in Bloomington. He played six full games and kicked 14 extra points.

The Bronko's Back Slappers Will Have to Wait a Week

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Bronko Nagurski's back slappers will have to wait until a week from today to congratulate him on the second phase of his professional football career at full back.

A few hours after he had battered thru the youngsters in the Cardinal line Sunday to lead the Bears in their great 35 to 24 comeback victory, Bronko was on the way to his Minnesota farm. There he will spend his week's vacation doing odd jobs on his 200 acres. A week from tomorrow, Nagurski and his teammates will report at Wrigley field to prepare for the National title game, probably against Washington, on Dec. 19.

A statistical gem came to light yesterday when it was discovered that by gaining 84 yards against the Cardinals, the Nag boosted his lifetime yardage in pro football to 4,031. Bronko had played two years of pro football before the league's statistical bureau was organized but George Strickler, the league's publicist, established his yardage in those seasons, which were 1930 and 1931.

Averages 5.6 Sunday.

When Bronk left the Bears after the 1937 season he had battered enemy lines for 3,947 yards in 856 attempts, an average of 4.6 a try. Against the Cardinals Sunday, Nagurski averaged 5.6 yards in 15 blasts.

One of the happiest over Nagurski's spectacular return as a full back was Ray Nolting, veteran half back, who was a teammate of the Bronk in 1936 and 1937.

"For years I've been telling folks what a great full back Nagurski was," said Ray. "They thought some of these full backs who have come along since Bronk quit in 1937 were better. But Nagurski proved the point Sunday.

Same Old Bruiser.

"What was the difference between the Nagurski of 1937 and the Nagurski of Sunday? Well, I couldn't see much difference. Those Cards knew they were hit when he steamed into 'em. He's a demoralizing type and has hurt more players than any guy in the business. And he did a fine job blocking those ends in protecting Sid Luckman until he could fire passes.

"Will he play against the Redskins in the title game? I'm not the coach—but what do you think?"

Nolting didn't do so badly Sunday for a fellow who's been around for eight seasons. He admitted the Bears were worried when the Cards went ahead, 24 to 14, in the third quarter.

"It looked like curtains," said Ray. "But if you can't come to in the fourth quarter with defeat staring you in the face you don't deserve to win. I think we played the best quarter of the season. Our running attack was working and we could mix it with passes. That's the kind of football that gives you pleasure—when you're driving on the ground, along with passing."

Play-off Pay-off Plan.

The Dec. 19 play-off game provides a world series cut for the contesting teams. This is the financial setup: From the gross receipts come the tax and 15 per cent park rental. The second place teams in the western and eastern divisions each get 5 per cent of what's left. Then the championship contestants get 60 per cent of what's left—also after tax and rental—split 60 per cent of this amount for the winner and 40 per cent for the loser. Out of the remaining 30 per cent comes expenses for the game, after which, what's left is divided four ways, with the league getting half and each of the two contesting clubs one fourth.

JOHN TAVENER HONORED BY HOOSIER MATES

Boilermakers Pick Barwegen.

Honor Roll

SEVEN Western conference football squads now have chosen their most valuable players. When the other two schools have announced their selections a jury of athletic officials will vote on these nominees to determine the most valuable player in the Big Nine. The seven already chosen are:

Joe Keenan, Wisconsin, center.

Eddie Bray, Illinois, half back.

Gordon Appleby, Ohio State, center.

John Tavener, Indiana, center.

Dick Barwegen, Purdue, guard.

Two Western conference schools, Indiana and Purdue, yesterday named their most valuable players of the 1943 season, bringing the list to seven. Iowa and Minnesota shortly will announce their selections to complete the roll.

The nine most valuable players will be candidates for the silver football trophy annually presented by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to the one selected by a committee as most valuable in the conference. The jury deciding the winner will consist of the nine conference football coaches, Maj. John L. Griffith, Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and Wilfrid Smith, Tribune football writer. This will be the 20th annual award.

INDIANA NAMES TAVENER

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 29 [Special].—Capt. John Tavener today was named by his teammates as the most valuable player on Indiana university's 1943 football team.

Tavener, who played at center for all except 83 minutes of Indiana's 10 game schedule, was one of the principal reasons why the Hoosiers finished conference play with a rating second to Michigan in defensive strength.

The former Granville, O., High school star played six full games without a rest and kicked 14 points after touchdowns to add to Indiana's scoring total.

Injury Doesn't Stop Him.

A cracked rib, suffered in the Ohio State game, failed to keep him from playing 58 minutes against Michigan the following Saturday. But it did keep him out of most of the Great Lakes contest, when he entered the game only to kick the point after touchdown.

Known by his teammates as Joltin' John, Tavener was Coach Alvin N. [Bo] McMillin's field general, directing play and calling signals both on offense and defense.

In his sophomore year, Tavener was rated by many as the outstanding center in the Western conference, despite the fact that he was injured in the Wisconsin game and did not see much action after that.

Rejected by Marines.

He is a senior majoring in physical education and plans to continue in coaching and physical education work after graduation. He was sworn into the marine corps early this year but was rejected when he failed to pass his physical examination and was then classified 4-F by his draft board.

Altho he limited his college activi-

Army, Navy May Return Contest to Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP).—Public Works Director John Neeson said today authorities at both West Point and Annapolis favor returning the 1944 Army-Navy game to Philadelphia.

Neeson said Washington approval is necessary before the game can be scheduled here, and added he has not been informed of any definite decision altho there have been a lot of negotiations.

A contract between the city and the two service schools called for playing the 1942-'43-'44 games here, but was waived by the city at the request of federal officials because of transportation difficulties. The 1942 game was played at Annapolis.

HAWKS, BRUINS BATTLE TONIGHT ON BOSTON'S ICE

Chicago Is Scheduled in Montreal Thursday.

Manager Paul Thompson took 15 Blackhawks east yesterday for two away-from-home contests, which are scheduled for Boston tonight and Montreal Thursday, after which they'll return home to meet Lester Patrick's New York Rangers Sunday in the Stadium.

The Hawks have met the Bruins three times this season and have vanquished them each time. All the Bruins-Hawks games thus far have been played in Chicago and the scores were 6-4, 7-3, and 5-4.

Goal Tending Troubles.

Last season in 25 home games the Bruins were beaten only three times, but that was with Frankie Brimsek tending the nets. Right now the Bruins are experiencing goal tending troubles. In their last three games they have used three net minders. The last two, Abbott and Courteau, both amateurs, let 12 tallies register in two contests.

The Boston club assessed a heavy fine on Goal Tender Bert Gardiner and suspended him indefinitely for failure to keep in condition.

Boston players were amazed at Capt. Earl Seibert's exhibition of durability in Sunday night's game, when the big fellow played 56½ minutes in the 60 minute encounter.

Bruneteau Paces Scorers.

Over the week-end Bill Cowley, Boston center, took the point making lead away from Bill Mosienko and Doug Bentley crept up on the leaders. The two Chicago players are tied with 20 points apiece, only one behind Cowley.

Mud Bruneteau of Detroit, who has 15 tallies to his credit, is ahead of all the scorers. League scoring statistics:

	Goals.	Assts.	Pts.
Cowley, Boston	4	17	21
Bentley, Chicago	9	11	20
Mosienko, Chicago	8	12	20
Bruneteau, Detroit	15	4	19
Carr, Toronto	7	12	19
Cain, Boston	12	6	18
O'Connor, Montreal	5	12	17
Lach, Montreal	3	14	17

HOUSTON CARDS OIL BOWL GAME FOR NEW YEAR'S

Houston, Tex., Nov. 29 (AP).—Southwestern Louisiana institute and Arkansas A. & M. will play a New Year's day football game here, Dick Freeman of the war sports committee said today. The game will be called the "Oil Bowl classic."

Southwestern Louisiana, of Lafayette, is the only undefeated team in the southwest. Arkansas A. & M. of Monticello played a 20 to 20 tie with S. L. I. in Memphis, Tenn., several weeks ago.

Farkas won the elimination trials conducted by the Toledo Times. It will be his second All-Star tournament.

Gophers to Ban Contests with Older Players

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 29 (AP).—Lou Keller, athletic director at the University of Minnesota, said today the Gophers will not schedule any more football games like those which this year pitted 17 year olds against teams loaded with former professionals.

Keller said officials in the Minnesota athletic department believe it is ridiculous to expect boys just out of high school to be able to put up a good game against men five to ten years their senior.

The situation was brought to a head by the Iowa Seahawk game Saturday, which Minnesota lost, 32 to 0. However, Keller said that neither the Seahawks nor any other team had been ruled off future Minnesota schedules, and that there undoubtedly will be future games with service teams if they will agree to use men whose experience approximates that of those available at Minnesota under war-time conditions.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 29 (AP).—The University of Mexico and the Ward Island Marines will play a football game in Corpus Christi, Tex., on Dec. 17, it was announced today by Carl Crow, president of the Corpus Christi junior chamber of commerce. Crow came here to make arrangements for the game.

O'Neale Adams, Giants' End, Suffers Broken Jaw

BOILERMAKERS, HOOSIERS PICK MOST VALUABLE

ties to football, Tavener was captain of his high school basketball and baseball teams and was named all-county full back during his sophomore, junior, and senior years.

BARWEGEN AT PURDUE

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 29 [Special].—Dick Barwegen of Chicago, stalwart left guard on Purdue's undefeated and untied eleven, tonight was named the most valuable player by his teammates at a banquet sponsored by the Lafayette Kiwanis club.

Barwegen, former Fenger High school star, in his second year of competition for the Boilermakers, starred in a sturdy forward wall that turned in outstanding defensive performances. A noteworthy one was throwing Great Lakes for a loss of 10 yards on running plays from scrimmage in the first half of the season's opener.

Barwegen, a 205 pound husky who stands an even 6 feet tall, had the ability to sense opponents' plays and of breaking thru the line to stop backs before they were able to get under way.

Barwegen rose to defensive heights in the season's final against Indiana. He was immovable as the Hoosiers tried a second down play at him from the 6 inch line and then proceeded to gang up with the other Purdue forwards to halt a third down play from the same point.

Offensively the Purdue star was recognized as a great blocker. He had speed that belied his weight and his precision blocking accounted in great part for the ground gaining record of the rambling Purdue backs, who averaged nearly 5 yards on running plays from scrimmage in giving the Boilermakers their first unblemished record since 1929.

JIMMY JOYCE STOPS LEWIS IN MARIGOLD BOUT

It was a great triumph for Joyce and gave him revenge for a previous defeat suffered at the hands of Lewis.

The rivals were fighting on even terms just before the end came. At the start of the fourth Joyce landed a right to the jaw which staggered his southpaw foe. He then crashed a left to the chin and Lewis hit the canvas. Roy regained his feet but was unable to continue and Joyce was awarded a technical knockout.

McWhorter Scores Knockout.

Art McWhorter, former Gary sectional Golden Gloves light heavyweight champion, knocked out Roberto Solmito in the third round of a scheduled six round secondary bout.

Solmito, whose correct name is Bob Lishon and who comes from Harlem, N. Y., and not Puerto Rico as he claims, was counted out by Referee Harry Mueller after 1 minute, 59 seconds of the third round had elapsed.

Parsons Defeats Miner.

In the other six round bouts Bill Parsons, Danville, Ill., welterweight, defeated Isadore Miner, and Don Callahan, St. Paul, middleweight, beat Mike Edwards.

Gilbert Stromquist of New York, who, at 6 feet 8 inches, is one of the tallest heavyweight boxers in the world, yesterday was matched to meet Lindy Elliott in a six round bout in Chicago Stadium Dec. 10. James Fitzjames, Cleveland fighter, who recently defeated Elliott, will appear in an additional six rounder against Jim Gardner of Philadelphia.

CHARGES ICKES WINKS AT TIDAL OIL PLUNDERING

Prospector Claims U. S. Is Loser.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes was accused today in a petition filed in the United States Supreme court of permitting California oil companies to drain valuable oil reserves from federally owned submerged lands without compensating the government.

The charge was made by James E. Watson and Orin De Motte Walker, Washington attorneys for Robert E. Lee Jordan, a California oil prospector who claims title to oil leases for two portions of submerged land near Long Beach, Cal., off the west coast.

The petition asserted Ickes has delayed for six years in deciding Jordan's right to the leases and in the meantime has caused "tremendous loss" to Jordan and the United States government "by condoning the exploitation and drainage" by others of "the plaintiff's discovery of an oil structure, and preventing the development of new oil and gas fields which are urgently needed."

Drilling Held Illegal.

Walker said the Standard Oil Company of California is one of the operators pumping oil out of the ocean bed off the Pacific coast by "slant" drilling from wells along the shore, altho the company is not named in the suit.

Jordan's petition asks the Supreme court to decide an unprecedented legal question: Who has legal title to the submerged lands off the coast of California within the three mile limit?

The high court is asked to review a decision of the United States District court here last March 3, which denied Jordan any legal right to the oil leases and dismissed Jordan's suit to force Ickes to grant the requested leases.

Jordan said he made his claim to the underwater oil land after three years of geological research.

Jurisdiction Denied.

He filed two applications for the oil and gas prospecting leases with the general land office of the interior department on April 6, 1937, according to court records. On June 8, 1937, the land office rejected the applications on the ground the interior department had no jurisdiction to grant leases for tide and submerged lands off the California coast and that the lands are owned by the state of California, not the federal government.

Jordan appealed to Ickes and requested a hearing. The suit charges that Ickes refused to grant him a hearing and has taken no action since the appeal was filed Aug. 6, 1937.

In charging Ickes with bad faith, Jordan's appeal said Ickes has delayed action in the case and has avoided any court decision on the legal questions involved.

Continental Radio Takes 'Admiral' as Firm Name

The Continental Radio and Television corporation, formed in 1934, has changed its named to the Admiral corporation, Ross D. Siragusa, president, announced yesterday. He said products manufactured under the Admiral brand are more widely known than the firm's former name.

RECORD BID OFFERED FOR FEDERAL OIL LAND DRILLING PRIVILEGE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—A new record offer per acre for the privilege of drilling oil on federal lands was set today, the interior department announced.

The Stanolind Oil and Gas company of Tulsa, Okla., bid $26,216 an acre for 1.11 acres in the Elk Basin oil and gas producing field in Montana, which was nearly five times the previous per acre record, $5,800, offered by the same company three months ago, the department said.

Sealed bids for development of seven parcels of the field were opened today. Together they brought a combined high bid of about $615,500, an average of about $8,000 an acre.

Stanolind was high bidder for six parcels, and the Ohio Oil company of Findlay, O., bid highest for the seventh.

Final award of the leases is expected to be made by the general land office.

Bakers Asked to Help WFA Reduce Waste

Nineteen meetings of bakers, grocers, food handlers, and war food administration officials have been scheduled this week in five midwest states to obtain voluntary compliance with WFA bakery products food distribution order No. 1. The meetings are part of a nation-wide program, which will continue thru a month.

This week meetings are being held in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri, Nebraska, and Minnesota. The major provisions of the order apply to consignment, limiting the return of stale bread by grocers to wholesale bakers, and restricting the varieties of breads and rolls.

Bake 98 Per Cent of Bread.

The importance placed upon the bakery products order by government officials is said to result from the big increase in commercial bread production since the war began. Before the war about 80 per cent of the bread consumed in the United States was baked in commercial bakeries. The bakeries now bake 98 per cent of the total, WFA officials said.

Shortly after the outbreak of the war government agencies made a survey of the baking industry, and the conservation order by WFA was the result.

Large Losses Disclosed.

"Consignment selling has proved to be one of the most wasteful practices of the baking industry," one of the midwest regional WFA officials said. "A thoro investigation revealed that annually approximately 4½ million pounds of shortening, 5½ million pounds of dry milk, and 6 million pounds of sugar were used in bread that was returned as stale and not resold for human consumption.

"The great majority of bakers agreed that this waste must stop and have coöperated in fine style in eliminating consignment selling. These meetings are designed to obtain 100 per cent voluntary coöperation."

Carnegie Asks for Delay in Trial for 'Conspiracy'

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP).—Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, thru its secretary, James W. Hamilton, today asked postponement of its trial set for Dec. 13 on charges of conspiracy in manufacture of allegedly sub-specification ship plates at its Irvin works. Hamilton said a trial at that time "will interfere detrimentally with production of steel for war purposes."

OPA Hikes Central West Coke Top 80 Cents a Ton

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—The OPA today announced an increase of 80 cents a net ton in the ceiling for by-product foundry and blast furnace coke manufactured in the central west. The increase, granted to cover increased labor and coal costs, is retroactive to Nov. 1.

Hogs Outside U. S. Weight Choice Climb

All hogs except "government weights" were strong to higher yesterday at the stock yards. Buyers paid up to 25 cents per 100 pounds higher prices for lights below 200 pounds. These weights reached a relatively low price level during last week's market congestion. Butchers over 270 pounds and sows were steady to 10 cents higher. Most 200 to 270 pound stock held steady.

Trading was unusually lively. Most packers reported less than a full day's supply of hogs on hand as the market opened, and since they are accustomed to holding as many as three or four days' supply all interests bought freely of the large fresh receipts.

Cleared in 3 Hours.

Practically all farmer-owned hogs were sold within three hours after trading opened. Armour, Swift and Wilson handled a combined total of more than 20,000 head, about 53 per cent of the day's volume.

All sorted 220 to 270 pound hogs brought $13.75, the "support price" which was highest of the day and equal to the lowest top of the year. Butchers weighing 280 to 375 pounds sold from $13.25 to $13.60. The average moved up 5 cents, to $13.55, highest since Nov. 19.

Cattle Prices Higher.

Competition for beef animals ran high and all classes ruled strong to higher. Gains of 15 to 25 cents were general in many of the beef steers, yearlings, heifers, beef cows, canners and cutters. The $16.75 top was paid for regular market steers, altho sales of cattle sorted from show herds were reported up to $17.

ASKS POST-WAR PRICE CONTROL TO AVERT BOOM

New Orleans, La., Nov. 29 (AP).—Rep. Wright Patman [D., Tex.], advocated price control today as the salvation for business facing boom prospects after the war. Patman addressed a luncheon of the American Association of Small Business after opening a two day hearing of his house committee to inquire into reports of decreased production of southern lumber.

The value of a price control program "has already been definitely proved by the lower prices and the lower cost of living compared with the period during and following World War I.," Patman said. "We have gone thru one devastating experience. We should not repeat it."

One goal of the Patman committee is to have the government sell its surpluses after this war only thru normal trade channels and without forcing down prices.

PACKERS STUDY PROBLEMS OF 48 HOUR WEEK

Mail Order Houses Harbor Doubts.

Meat packers and mail order houses yesterday had under consideration, but unsolved, problems posed by the 48 hour week order entered last week by William H. Spencer, regional director for the war man power commission. Questions arising from different methods of operating different departments remained unanswered pending receipt of forms to be filed before complying with or asking exceptions to the order.

Representatives of the packing industry said their production department employes already were working more than 48 hours a week. They explained that the peak season for live stock receipts would extend for some time, requiring wide use of facilities.

It Depends on Weather.

Should unfavorable weather curtail live stock receipts, however, they said the industry may be forced to ask the man power commission to relax its ruling to permit work time to fall below the 48 hour line.

The packers were undecided as to what effect the longer work week would have on their office forces, which in most cases form about 10 per cent of total employes. One representative said his company's office force was working overtime to handle present heavy volume.

Herbert March, director of district No. 1 of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers of America, said a 48 hour week would relieve a man power shortage in packing plants and halt a plan to employ war prisoners. He said the union had asked Spencer to order the longer week for the industry.

Some Work 40 Hours, Others 60.

Many departments are working 40 hours a week or less while others work as long as 60, he said. The union recommended that men be transferred from slack departments to those working overtime. March said none of the 70,000 employes in the Chicago meat packing industry need be laid off.

Mail order companies also planned a thoro study before deciding whether they need to ask exceptions. One representative said the numerous different divisions in most of the companies presented a complex situation.

He explained that it was a question of hours in the retail division. His company's retail stores are open 44 hours, but if this were increased to 48 hours, he said that would mean more work for each employe thru increased volume, which would have the opposite effect of what the longer week was trying to accomplish—releasing no employes for other types of work.

Rush vs. Slack: What to Do?

The mail order division presents another problem because of its seasonal aspect, he explained. At certain times in the year long hours are required thruout the department because of a rush of orders, but at other times business is slack and a 48 hour week would work a hardship and require layoffs. A rush season would require rehiring.

The remainder of a mail order firm is made up chiefly of employes who are specialists, he said. For example, a 48 hour week for buyers who fill a certain specialized type of job would release no employes for other types of work, he asserted, and explained that this held true for other departments.

Most types of large retail establishments have similar problems, he asserted.

Texas Farmer Made OPA Agricultural Adviser

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—Chester Bowles, price administrator, acting to promote a better understanding of farmer problems, today created in OPA the position of agricultural relations advisor, naming a life long farmer, H. H. Williamson, of Bryan, Tex. He has been director for eight years of the agriculture extension service of Texas.

Stocks Prolong Price Slump as Recovery Moves Falter

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—Stocks made attempts at recovery in today's market, but support failed in most cases. Closing losses of fractions were widespread, with a handful of casualties ranging from 1 to 4 points.

Securities stiffened when Cordell Hull, secretary of state, denounced the current crop of peace rumors and intimated they were axis-inspired. The halt of the downturn was only momentary, however.

Big News Still Awaited.

As last week, buying reluctance was apparently based on the belief important international news was imminent, particularly disclosures relating to a Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting. Year end tax selling again was a mild deterrent. The contest between congress and the treasury over new taxes was an argument for speculative and investment conservatism. Some forenoon bidding was attributed to the belief the recent retreat may have discounted a lot of post-war economic confusion which, it was suggested, might not be as severe as predicted.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was off 0.4 of a point at 47.2, the lowest level since March 24. At this figure the market had more than wiped out its substantial April-July rally. A pickup in activity at the end put transfers at 702,700 shares, compared with 601,150 Friday.

Prominent on the offside were J. I. Case, off 4; Eastman Kodak, off 3; Allied Mills, off 2⅝, and Standard Oil of New Jersey, Goodyear, du Pont, Union Carbide, and J. C. Penney, down 1 or so each.

CHICAGO STOCKS FALL.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange fell yesterday, altho three issues closed at 1943 highs. Transactions were 24,000 shares. Volume leaders included Chicago corporation and Commonwealth Edison, each down ⅛, and Wisconsin Bankshares, Anaconda Copper, and Libby, McNeill & Libby, unchanged. Closing at new 1943 peaks were Adams Oil and Gas, up ¼; Mickelberry's Foods, up ¼, and National Pressure Cooker, up ⅜.

BOND MARKET MIXED.

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—Rail and foreign bonds declined today, but most industrials and utilities received investment support. The decline was attributed to generally unsettled conditions in financial markets brought on by recurring peace rumors and their denials. Sales were $8,846,700, compared with $8,030,800 Friday.

2 STATE COMMISSIONS CAN'T FIND WHISKY, SO BUY DISTILLERIES

Portland, Ore., Nov. 29 [Special].—The state liquor commissions of Oregon and Washington today put machinery in motion to purchase, not later than Dec. 10, two Kentucky distilleries—Waterfill & Frazier for $2,800,000, and the Shawan for $3,650,000. The OPA approved the prices Monday.

The big liquor deal, unique in the history of so-called control or monopoly states, will provide Oregon and Washington each about 500,000 cases of liquor, to be brought west at the rate of 25,000 cases monthly, for the next 18 or 20 months. The whisky will be bottled in Louisville.

In addition to the purchase price the two states will pay about $200,000 in taxes, accrued since the deal was begun and the prices quoted.

Steel Mills to Boost Operations This Week

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—The American Iron and Steel institute estimated today steel mills would operate this week at 99.5 per cent of capacity and turn out 1,734,200 net tons, a slight increase from the preceding week's rate of 99.1 per cent and out-turn of 1,727,300 tons.

UNITED STOCK SALE TO YIELD BIG PLANE FUND

Call Vote on Capital Changes Dec. 22.

More than 10 million dollars which United Air Lines expects to receive from the sale of 105,032 shares of $100 par cumulative convertible preferred stock will be used to finance post-war development and expansion, W. A. Patterson, president, informed stockholders yesterday.

W. A. Patterson.

The initial issue will be part of 200,000 shares stockholders will be asked to authorize at a special meeting Dec. 22 in the Palmer House. The company said it had no present intention of issuing any of the remaining shares.

Stockholders will be asked to increase authorized common stock from 2 to 2½ million shares, to raise its par value from $5 to $10 a share, and to authorize 100,000 shares of management stock of $10 par, convertible share for share, into common stock.

Sales to Be at Book Value.

Management stock would be sold to officers and employes at not less than book value, which on Sept. 30 was $12.48 a share. It would have the same rights as the common, but with restrictions on resale.

A recommendation to change the

The Things You Seek

You have perhaps listed in your own mind some of the qualities you seek in the investment firm you select.

High financial standing is important. You want assurance that your investment house has sufficient strength and stability to be a safe depository for your securities and cash. Another thing you seek is the advantage of dealing with a firm known for its dependable and experienced personnel. Then, too, you are interested in the record of the house . . . the reputation it has built . . . and the service it can give you.

Since 1888—through two wars and six major financial panics—Hornblower & Weeks has been serving individual investors, institutions, trustees and corporations. We number among our clients second and third generations of families whom we serve.

Our wholesome growth during those fifty-five years has been due almost entirely to our clients' recommendations of our services to their acquaintances and friends. This high regard would seem to indicate financial leadership, intelligent and well-informed executives, and the best of facilities available. All of these are offered to you without any special advisory fees.

Cotton futures closed $1.20 to $1.55 a bale lower yesterday on heavy liquidation and hedge selling influenced by expectations of important foreign news developments. The market rallied from extreme losses of $1.95 a bale after Cordell Hull, secretary of state, declared peace rumors were false but the advance gave way near the close on renewed selling.

UNITED'S STOCK SALE TO NET BIG FUND FOR PLANES

company name from United Air Lines Transport corporation to United Air Lines, Inc., also will be put to a vote.

The announcement said the dividend rate on the initial issue of preferred stock was expected to be 4½ per cent, and that the sale price would be at least $100 a share. The stock will be convertible into common shares up to Jan. 1, 1954, at a price not yet determined.

The issue probably will be offered to stockholders late in December at the rate of seven shares of preferred for each 100 shares of common. The offering will be underwritten by a group headed by Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc.

Plan Transfer from Surplus.

Doubling the par value of common shares will be effected by transfer of $7,502,255 from earned and paid-in surplus to increase the capital account to $15,004,510 for the 1,500,451 shares outstanding.

Patterson said the company must prepare for a broad program of capital investment because its directors and officers "are satisfied that transportation by air will grow impressively."

"The improved aircraft, communications, and flight equipment developed since the outbreak of the war have not as yet been made generally available for commercial air transportation," he said. "On the return of peace, if not before, much present equipment must be replaced if the corporation is to retain its position in the industry. The corporation must . . . also plan for acquisition of additional facilities needed for operation of new routes."

Planes to Carry 40 to 50.

United has applications pending for extensions of its 6,300 mile routes. Its contemplated purchases include a fleet of four-engined 40 to 50 passenger, 250 mile an hour planes.

Consolidated net income in the first nine months of 1943 was $3,409,047, equal to $2.27 a share on the present stock, before a $750,000 reserve for post-war adjustments. Provision for income taxes was $2,733,000. Net income in the first nine months in 1942 was reported at $2,899,958, or $1.93 a share.

MACHINE TOOL FIRM TO MERGE WITH DETROLA

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 29 (AP).—Stockholders of the International Machine Tool corporation today approved a proposal to merge Detrola corporation, Detroit, Mich., a radio manufacturer now producing electronic devices for the army and navy, into International, under the name International Detrola corporation, effective Dec. 31.

Detrola employs 1,300 persons. International has 1,200 employes in machine tool plants at Indianapolis and Elkhart and a welding division in South Bend.

Detrola stockholders will receive 1 share of International Detrola in exchange for 1.8 shares of Detrola with International stockholders retaining present holdings, officials said. International will issue an additional 152,000 common shares to make the exchange, so the total outstanding capital stock of International Detrola will consist of 490,000 shares of $1 par value.

National Refinery to Vote on Some Property Sales

Cleveland, O., Nov. 29 (AP).—National Refining company shareholders will meet Dec. 7 to consider contracts to sell 100 service stations to the Shell Oil Co., Inc., and certain other properties, including a Coffeyville, Kas., refinery to the Cooperative Refinery association of Kansas.

November Potatoes Rise 3 Cents in Final Trading

Idaho russets for November delivery closed 3 cents higher at $3.28 a hundred pounds on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, the final day of trading in the contract. Sales were 14 cars.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON.

Answer: With its subsidiaries, Commonwealth Edison represents one of the largest utility systems in the country, operating in Chicago and suburbs, and other parts of Illinois as far west as the Mississippi river. Electric revenues accounted for $154,081,929 out of $172,438,885 total operating revenues in 1942. Gas revenues amounted to $17,506,563.

	Oper. rev.	Net income.	Per. sh.
1942	$172,438,885	$22,108,102	$1.74
1941	165,482,143	26,747,901	2.10
1940	154,805,524	29,170,756	2.32
1939	145,873,845	25,414,590	2.43
1938	139,545,175	19,701,625	2.37

Net earnings for the first nine months of 1943 totaled $16,221,566, equal to $1.28 a share, against $16,357,304, or $1.29 a share, for the corresponding 1942 period.

Capitalization at the end of 1942 consisted of $345,013,400 funded debt, minority interest of $188,476, and 12,718,616 shares of $25 par common stock. Dividends have been paid on the stock each year since the present company was incorporated in 1907. Dividends paid or declared this year total $1.40 a share against $1.60 in 1942.

Corn Ceiling Increase Sought; Wheat Rises to 18 Year High

Conference Today

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—Senators from the corn belt states today joined in a campaign to induce government price agencies to raise the $1.07 a bushel ceiling on corn at Chicago to encourage the marketing of the current crop and relieve the live stock feed shortage.

Sen. Clyde M. Reed [R., Kas.], arranging a conference tomorrow of a dozen senators and price officials, said he thought the ceiling price would have to be raised between $1.20 and $1.26.

Seeks Import Delay.

Reed estimated a surplus between 200 and 300 million bushels of corn might be brought into the feed market, making it unnecessary for the Commodity Credit corporation to import between 75 and 90 million bushels of grain from Canada before spring.

Marvin Jones, war food administrator, and representatives of the office of price administration will attend the Tuesday conference, Reed said, along with Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation; J. B. Hutson, president of the CCC, and others.

Reed announced tomorrow's conference as reports circulated that the OPA is considering a corn price increase within a week or 10 days.

Reed said he had consulted the Association of American Railroads and had learned that 45,000 box cars would be required to ship in the Canadian grains.

Cash Grains Dip

Peace talk resulted in price weaknesses in early grain trading yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, but aggressive late buying of December wheat forced the price up 1¾ cents per bushel from the day's low to $1.64⅝, a new 18 year peak. The close was ½ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower. Oats declined ½ to 1 cent. Rye lost ¼ to ½ cent and barley 1 to 1⅝ cents.

Buying of December wheat was headed by cash interests and offerings were relatively light. A belief that a subsidy on flour would be announced late in the day and announcement that the government was in the market for 800,000 barrels of flour and 560,000 bushels of wheat for export spurred buying. In all, government orders call for about 4,200,000 bushels of wheat.

Set Wheat Subsidies.

The Defense Supplies corporation announced last night subsidy rates to millers for wheat ground on and after Dec. 1 of 16 cents a bushel for hard, 5½ cents for soft, and 6 cents for durum wheat ground outside the Pacific coast area, and 14 cents for all wheat ground in the Pacific area.

OPA officials in Washington intimated that a higher ceiling price on corn will be announced within a week or two, stating that reports of a new ceiling of $1.35 a bushel, Chicago basis, were unwarranted and that the price was not likely to go that high.

GOVERNORS OF SWPC PLAN 'CLINICS' ON MIDWEST PROBLEMS

Governors of the Smaller War Plants corporation yesterday announced a series of clinics to unravel contract procurement, material allocation, and technical and financial problems in region No. 6, which includes Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, and part of Michigan. James H. Gavin, regional board chairman, said the clinics would be arranged soon in coöperation with local chambers of commerce.

D. W. Walters, regional SWPC director, announced the agency's offices will make available to industry 45,000 foreign patents released by the alien property custodian. He said they will be issued on a non-exclusive basis and will not be returned to their foreign owners after the war.

3-WAY CONTEST RISES IN PROXIES IN ALLIED MILLS

A three way battle for proxies of stockholders of Allied Mills, Inc., developed yesterday with proposal of a second alternative to the plan to be considered at a special meeting of Allied stockholders Dec. 8 to sell Century Distilling company, a subsidiary, to National Distillers Products corporation.

William H. Shane II. of Philadelphia, Pa., suggested a plan which he asserted would give Allied Mills the 23 million dollars it would receive from National Distillers. He agreed with the management that Century should be sold but held that "stockholders rather than an outsider should receive this melon and the resultant opportunity to make a handsome profit."

Shane would set up Century stock so that there would be one share for each share of Allied Mills, issue to Allied stockholders the right to buy Century stock on a share for share basis, and declare a whisky distribution of 12 gallons per share of Century stock.

VEGETABLE SEED PRICES LIMITED; FRUITS BOOSTED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 [Special].—The OPA today established its first ceilings for bulk sales of 14 types of vegetable seeds covering about 300 domestic and imported varieties.

Increases of ¾ cent to 3 cents a pound in the retail prices of frozen fruits and berries were authorized to compensate for higher raw material costs of packers. The order affects frozen California freestone peaches, concord grapes, apples, and blackberries.

OPA Grants 15 Pct. Rate Hike for Rail Pickups

A rate increase of 15 per cent has been granted by the OPA to 400 Chicago trucking companies engaged in pickup and delivery service for the 12 western railroads, Walter McCarron, general manager of the Illinois Motor Truck Operators' association, said yesterday. The increase is effective tomorrow, he asserted. The trucking companies affected are members of the truck operators' association and the Cartage Exchange of Chicago.

Greyhound Buys Minority Stock of Competing Lines

The Greyhound corporation has acuired substantial minority interests in Interstate Transit lines and Union Pacific Stages of Omaha thru purchase of stock from the Union Pacific railroad, C. E. Wickman, Greyhound president, announced yesterday. Future operations will be carried on under the name Overland Greyhound lines.

25 Million Dollar Utility Bonds Bought by Halsey

An issue of 25 million dollars of Central Power and Light company refunding first mortgage 3⅛ per cent bonds due Nov. 1, 1973, was awarded yesterday at competitive bidding to a banking group headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago. Public offering is expected soon at 99 ½ per cent to yield more than 3.15 per cent.

COAL PRICE HIKE, UP TO 50 CENTS, GRANTED BY OPA

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—The OPA tonight formally raised soft coal ceiling prices an average of 17 cents a ton at the mines to compensate producers for higher labor costs. Increases ranged to 50 cents a ton for some areas.

Some operators were represented earlier in the day as dissatisfied with the price hike, which then was tentative. They questioned whether it would be enough to carry the load of a proposed $1.50 a day wage increase contained in a new contract urged by Harold Ickes, government operator of the pits, and the wage negotiations adjourned until a breakdown was made available so each producer would know how it affects him in dollars and cents.

No general increases were provided for districts 9, 10, 11, 15, and 17, except for certain mine groups. Districts 9, 10, and 11, western Kentucky, Illinois, and Indiana, were allowed 20 cents a net ton for entirely handloading mines.

Senate Vote Defers Quiz on Insurance 'Monopoly'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP).—The senate judiciary committee postponed action today on a bill to exempt insurance companies from regulations under the federal anti-trust laws, pending an inquiry into underwriter organizations and their "rate-making machinery." It acted at the request of Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], who declared the question was whether congress should declare "monopolistic practices" were of no concern to it.

A NIGHT OWL
TALKS . . .

I'm Miss "B." I work on the NIGHT OWL SHIFT from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. at Wards. Hard Work??? NO, it's clean and light . . . easy to do . . . requires no experience and the pay is good.

The really nice part about this night owl shift is having the days to go shopping or get in my special activities. Many girls with husbands in the service are down here, too, also mothers who like the daytime hours free for their children.

We like it at Wards and the liberal employe discount on everything we buy really makes our dollars S-T-R-E-T-C-H.
